GLORY DAYS

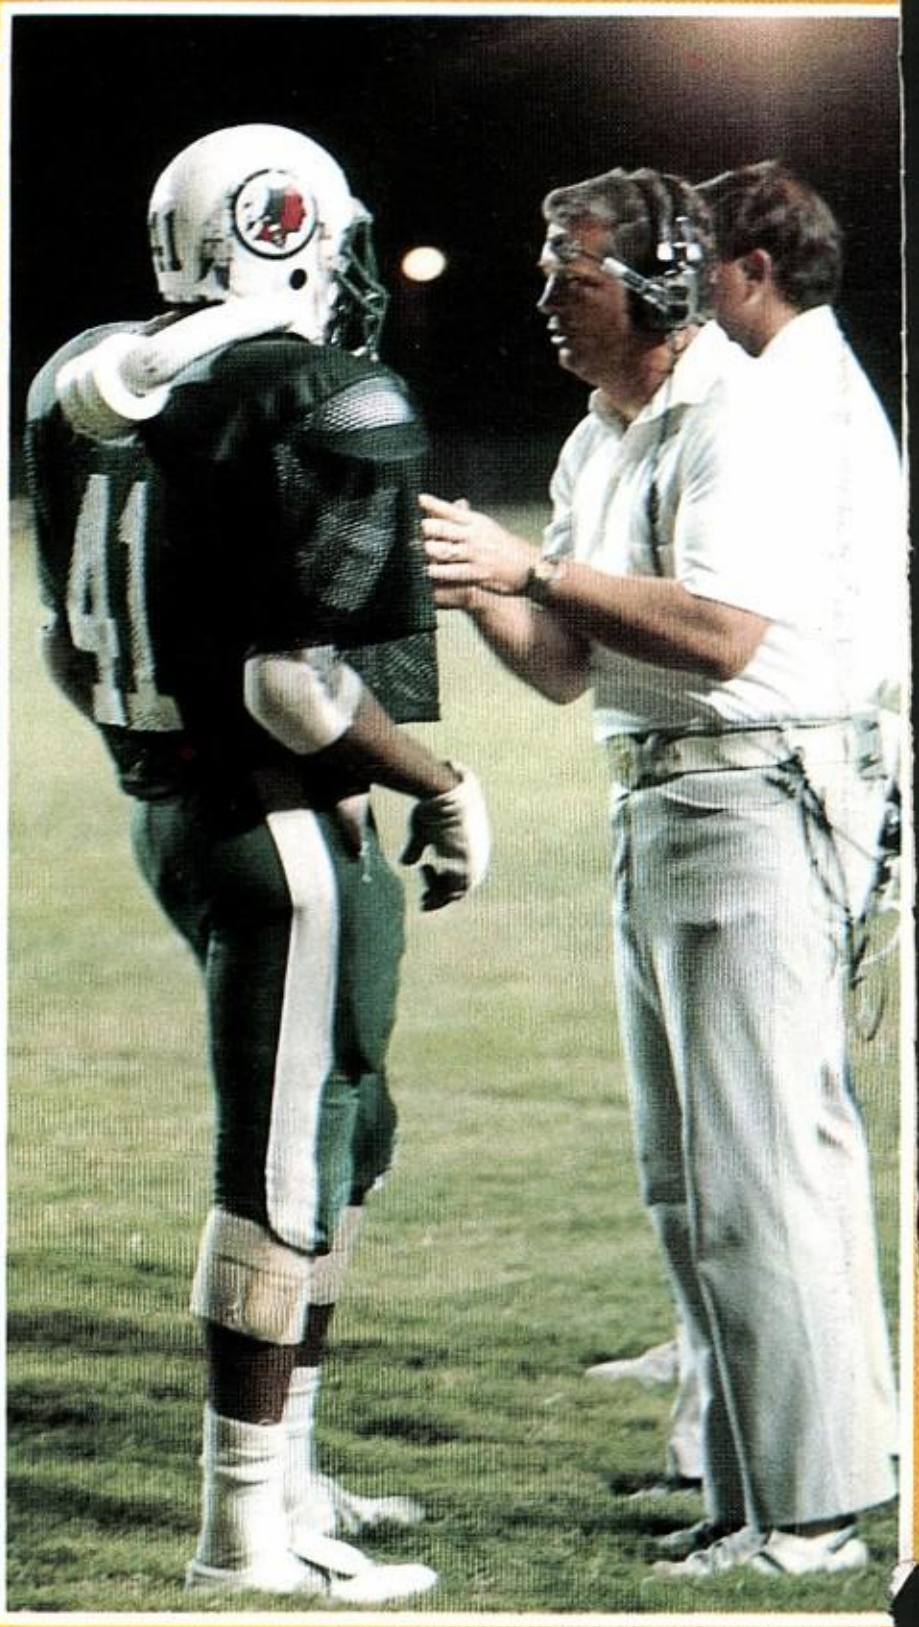
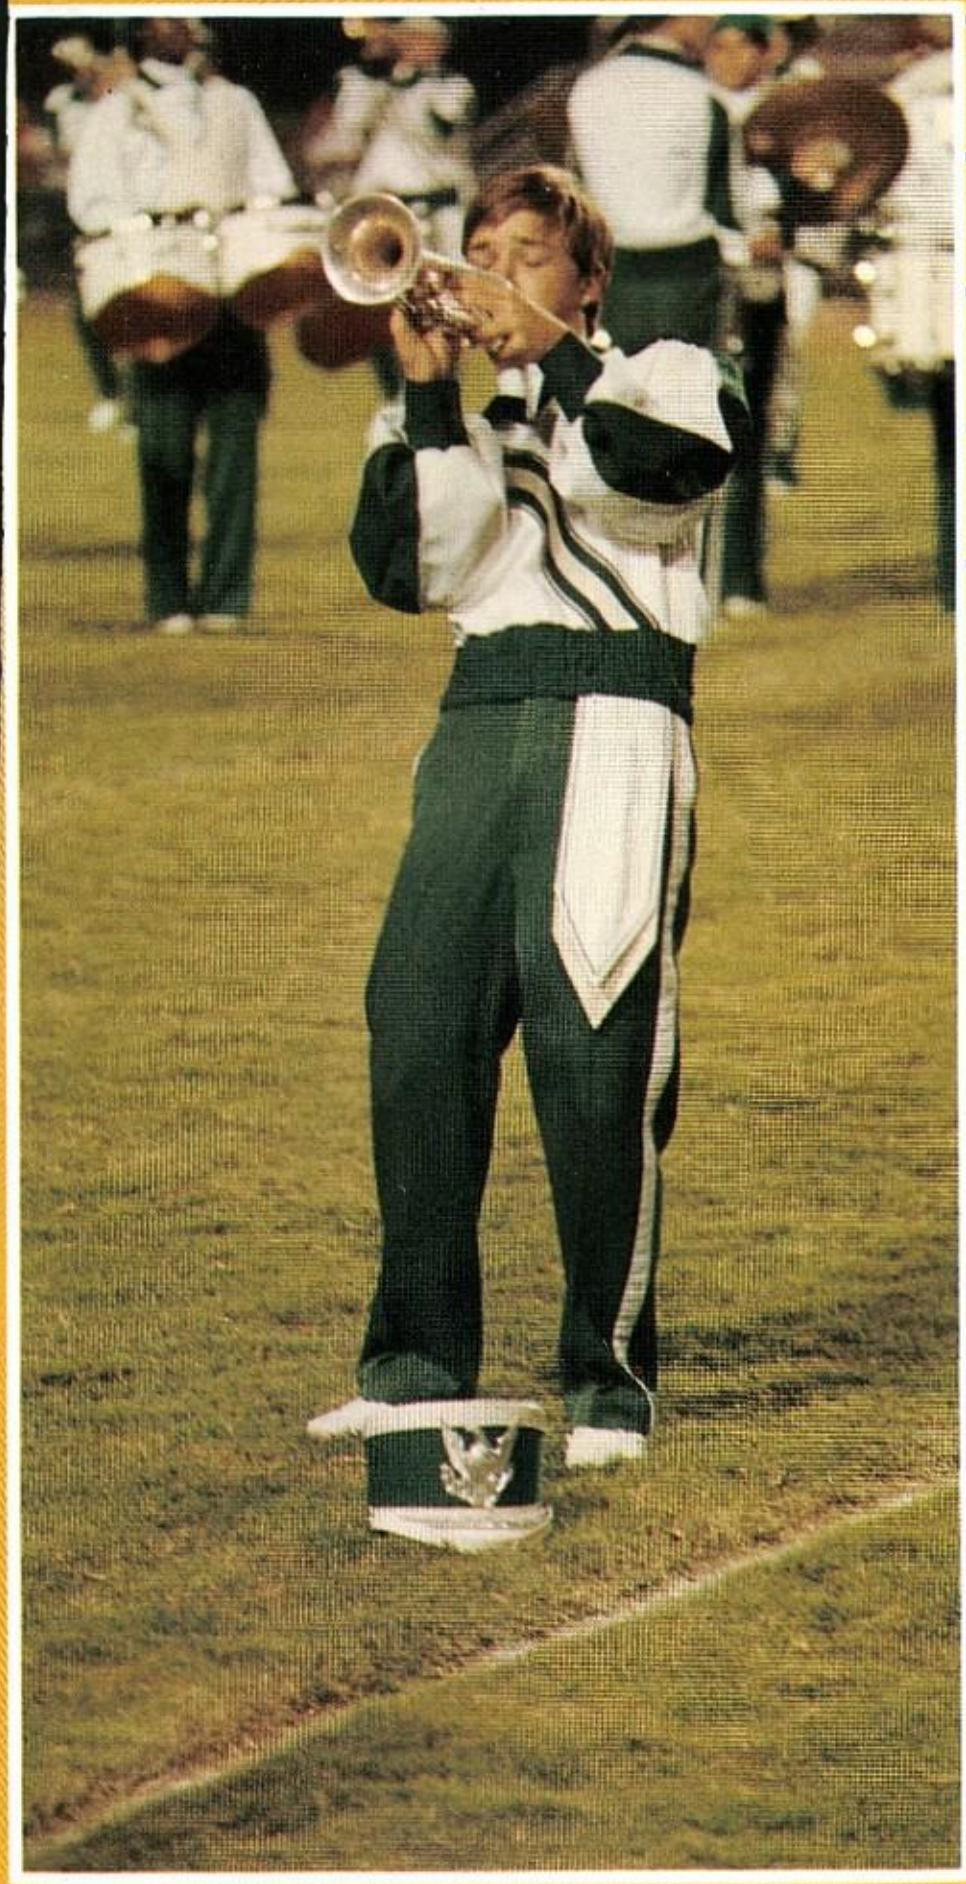
Oh, those Glory Days! They are the special times in a person's life that will be remembered and recalled for many years. Glory Days are the best times --- the period of going from a child to an adult, of becoming an individual. They are days of laughter and pain, resulting from letting oneself be carefree and wild. Close friends, crushes, football games, Ferris Avenue, cafeteria food, favorite teachers, and high school dances will all contribute to the memories of our Glory Days. These are special times, which no one but the individual involved can appreciate. But, no matter how different each of our "Glory Days" are, one thing we will have in common is that the memories were made at WHS! It's not the bad times we will remember when we reminisce; instead, it will be those "glory friends," those "glory times," those GLORY DAYS!



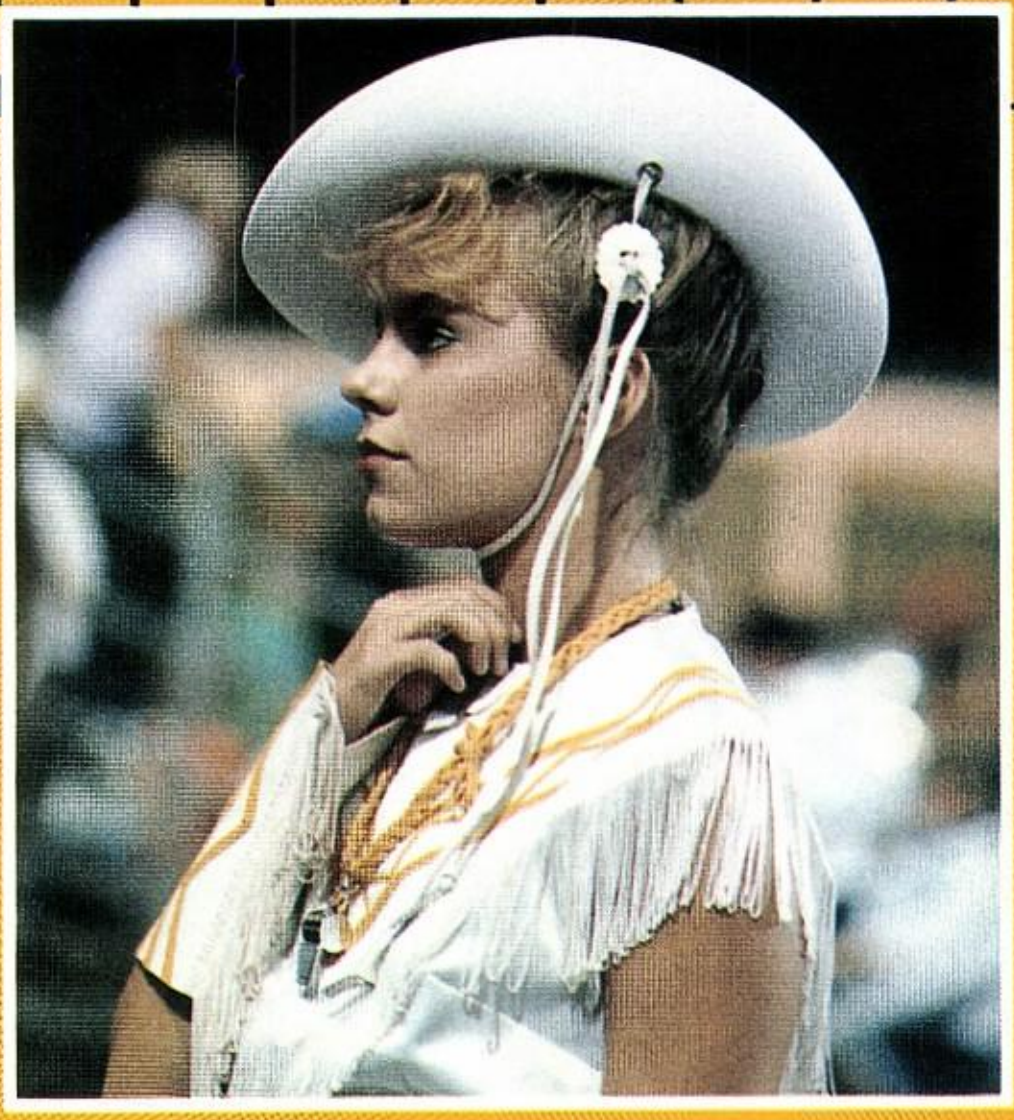
"Glory smiles"!

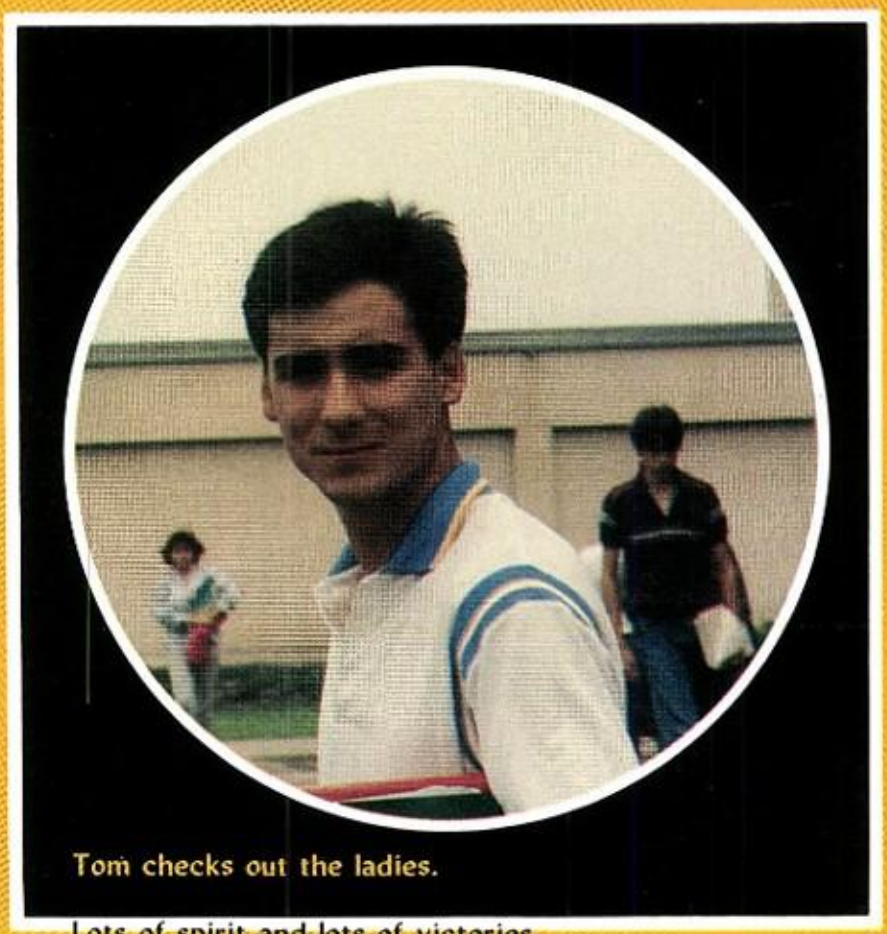
Good friends are a part of GLORY DAYS.



Play it again, George.

Leigh Lothridge: Cherokee Charmers Captain.



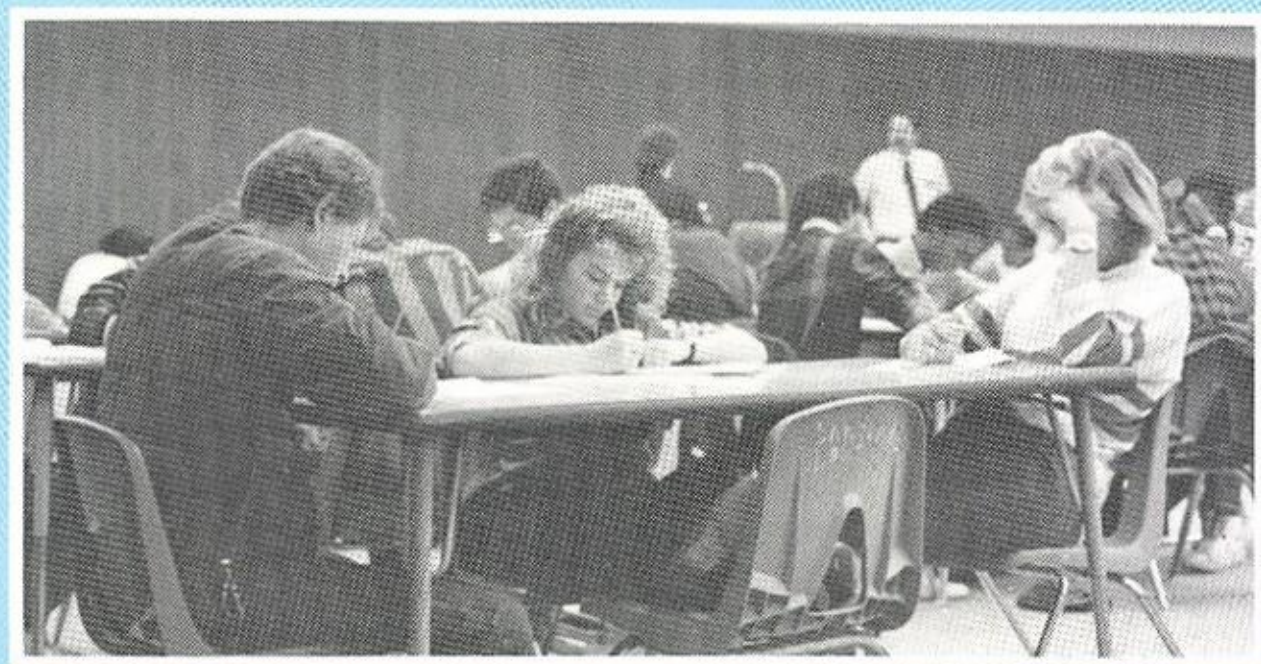


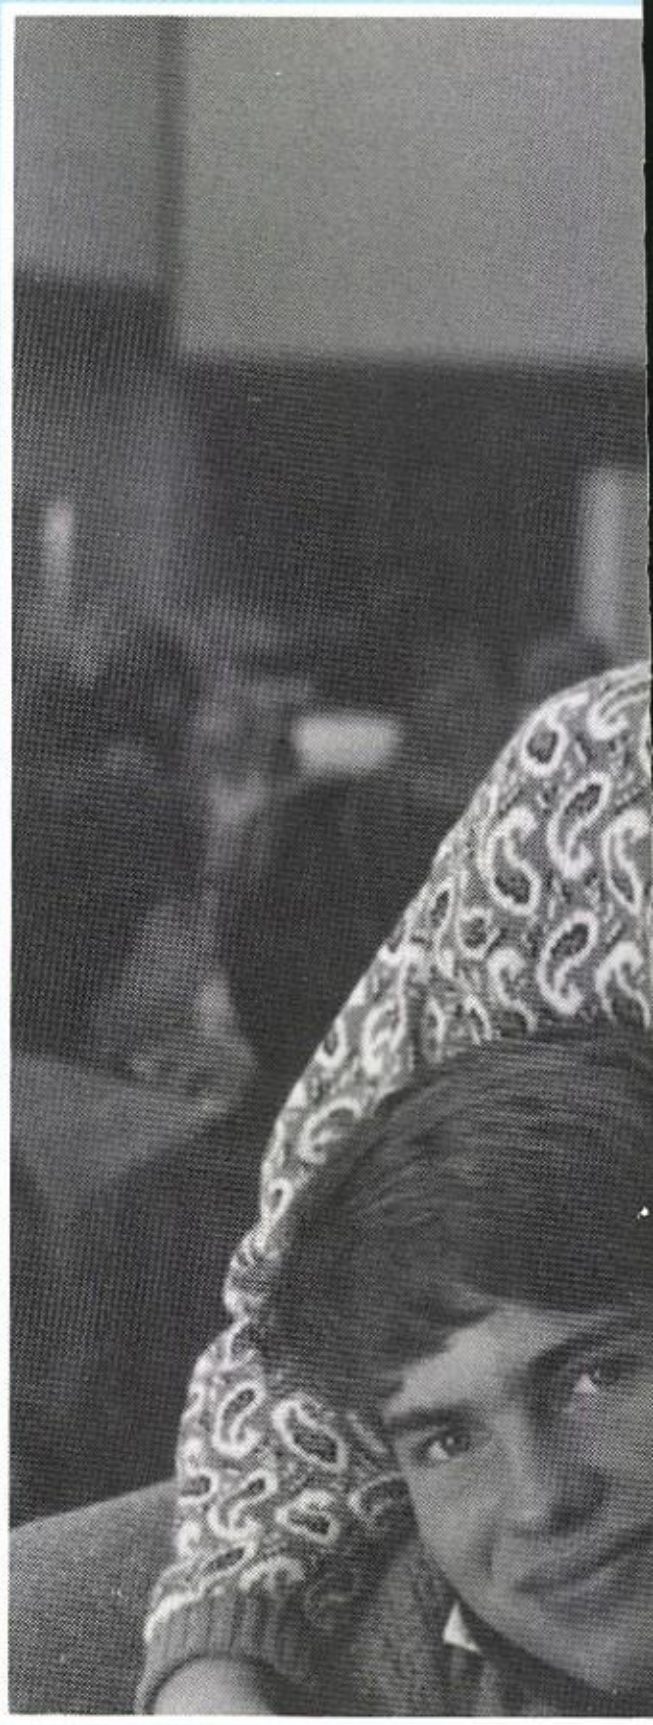
Tom checks out the ladies.

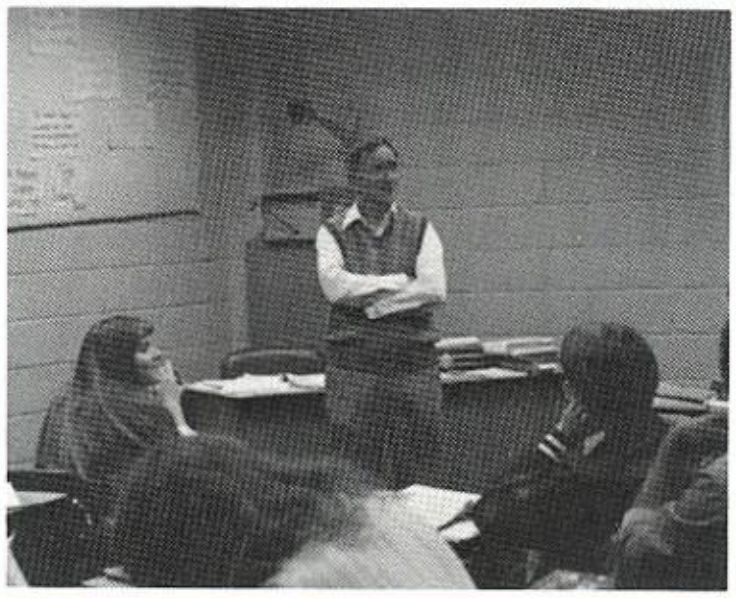
Lots of spirit and lots of victories.

Lieutenant, Laura Davis, takes pride in the Flag Corps.

All juniors were required to take the TEAMS test this fall.

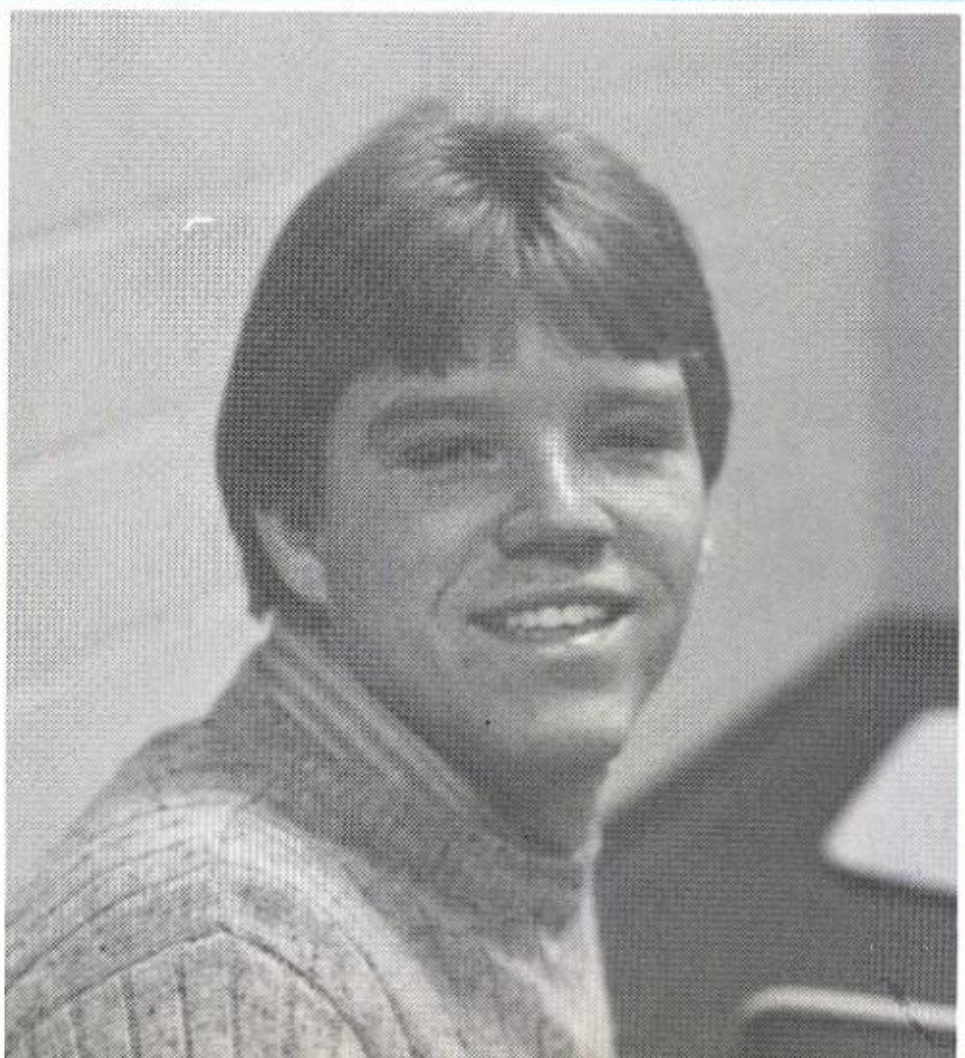


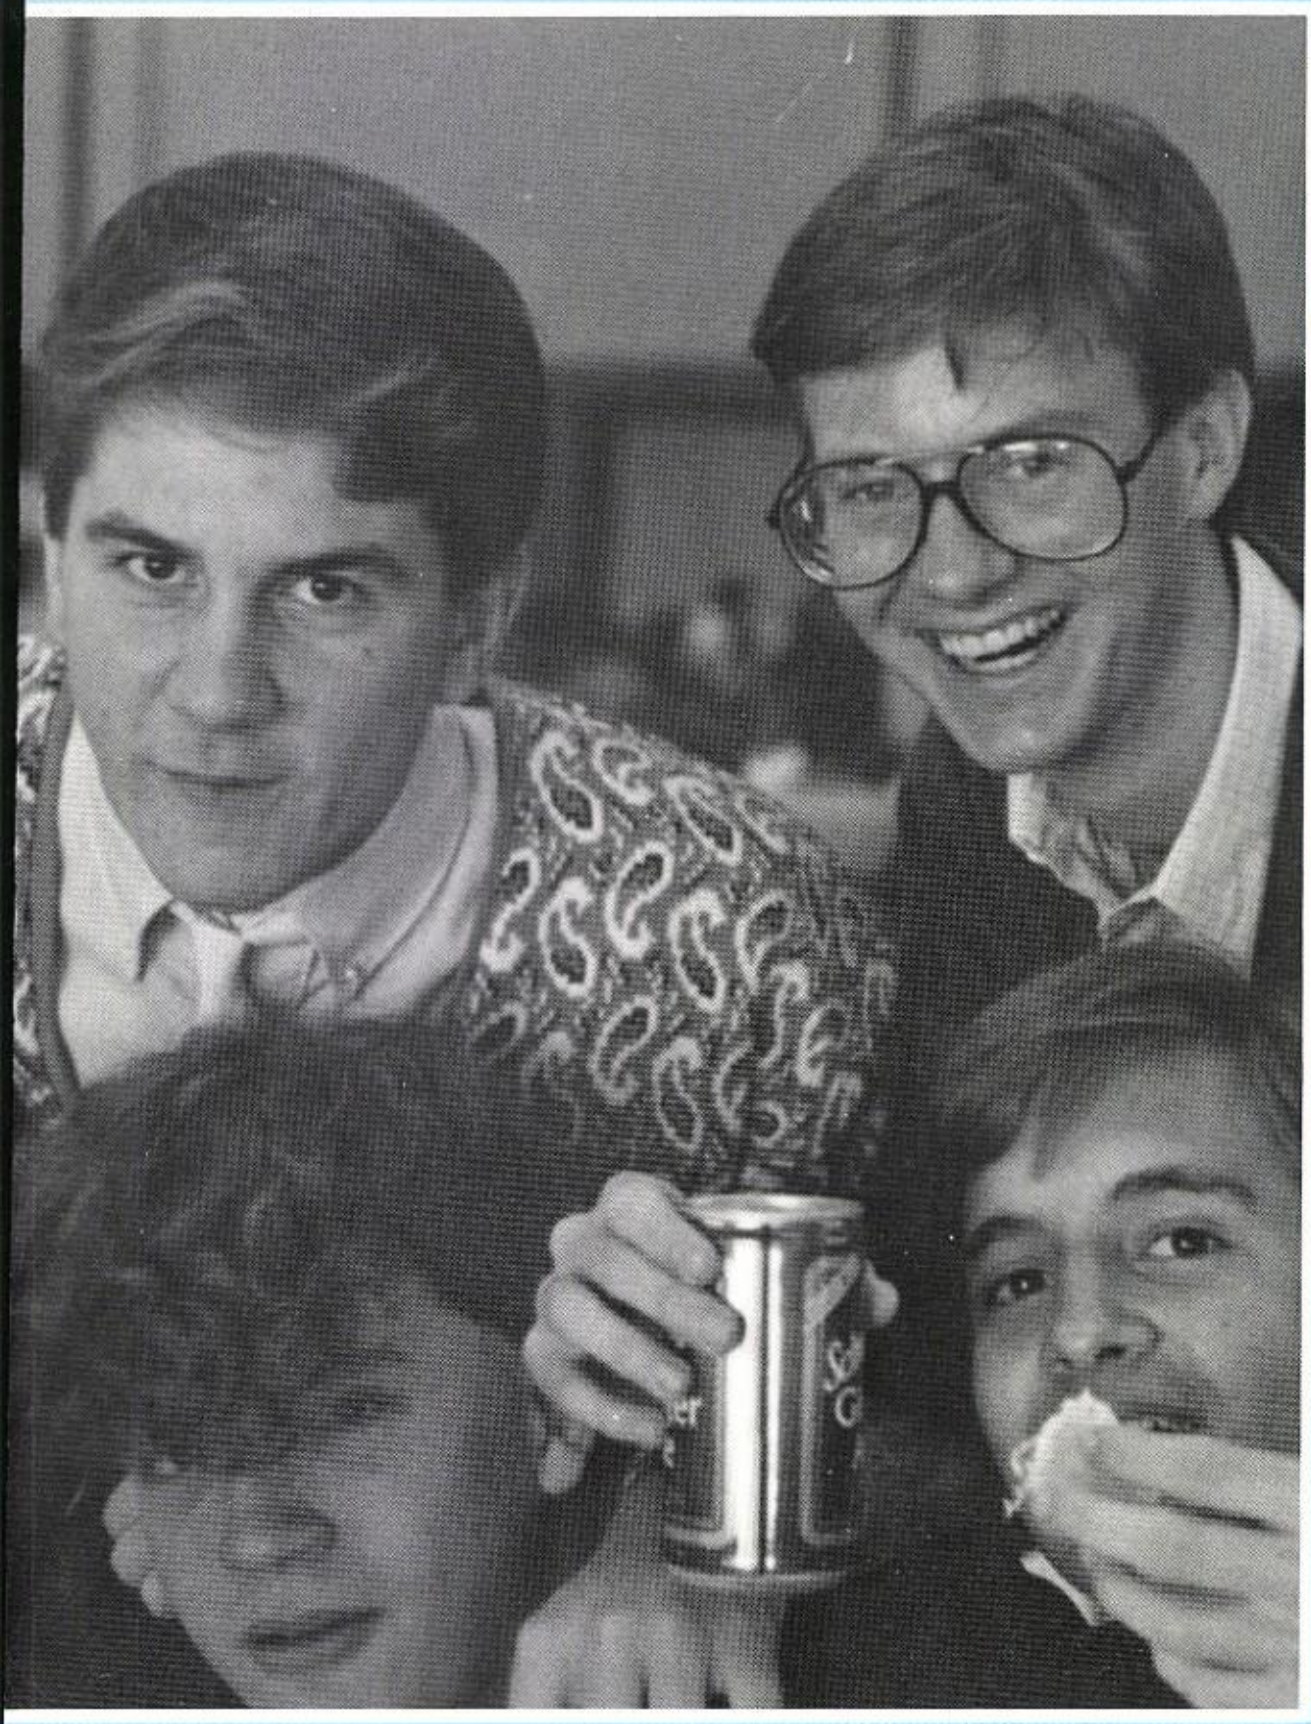




Mr. Hancock has a knack for making government interesting.

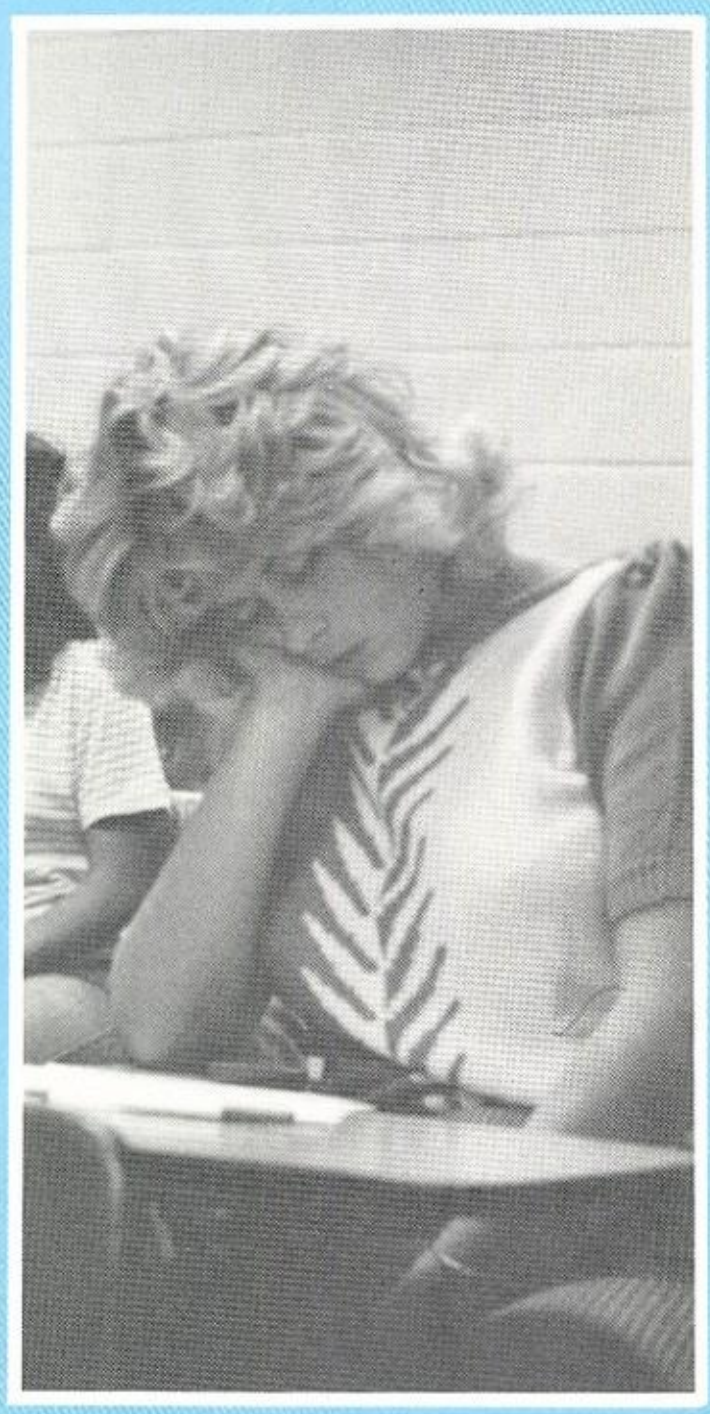
Varsity victories gave Tracy Escobar something to smile about.

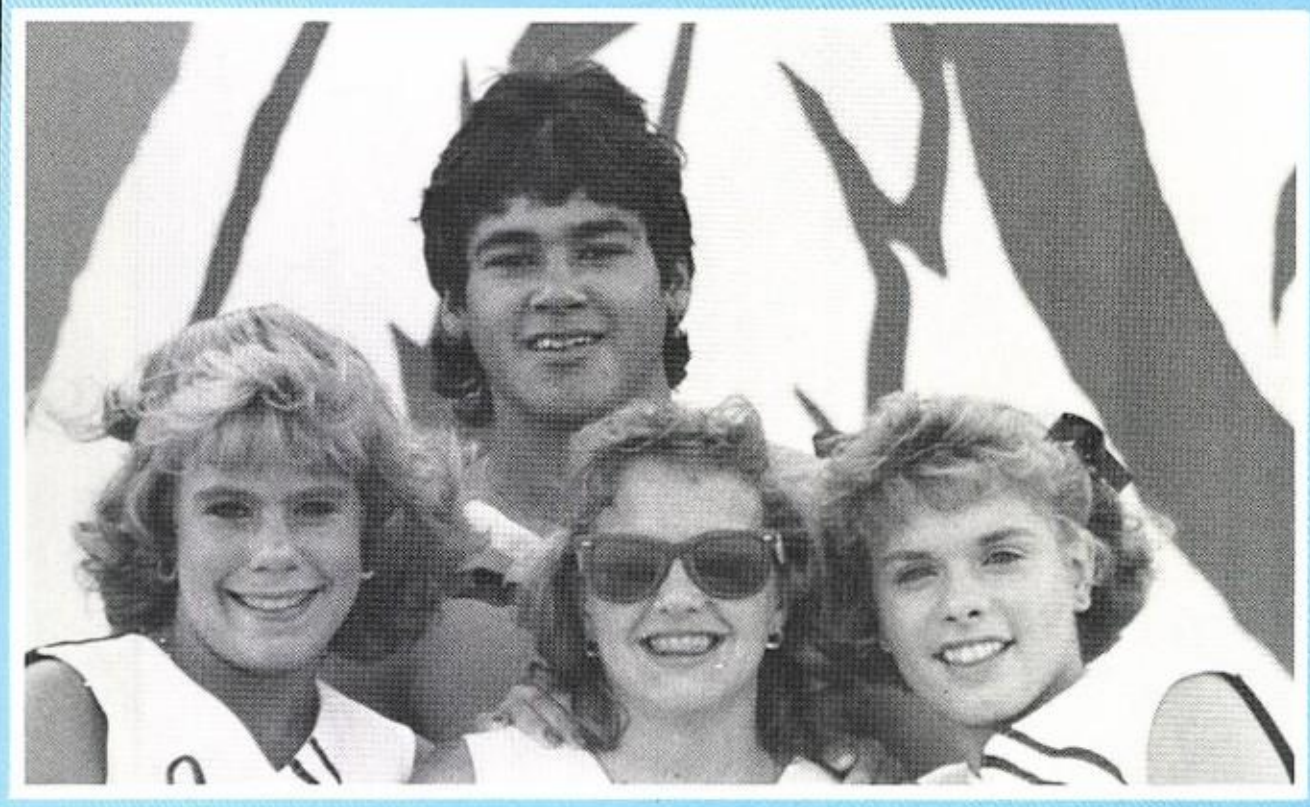




Cafeteria Clowns!

First period was too early for many students.





Spirit Leaders!

Melissa, Angie, Debbie, Chris and Jennifer rate seniors #1!

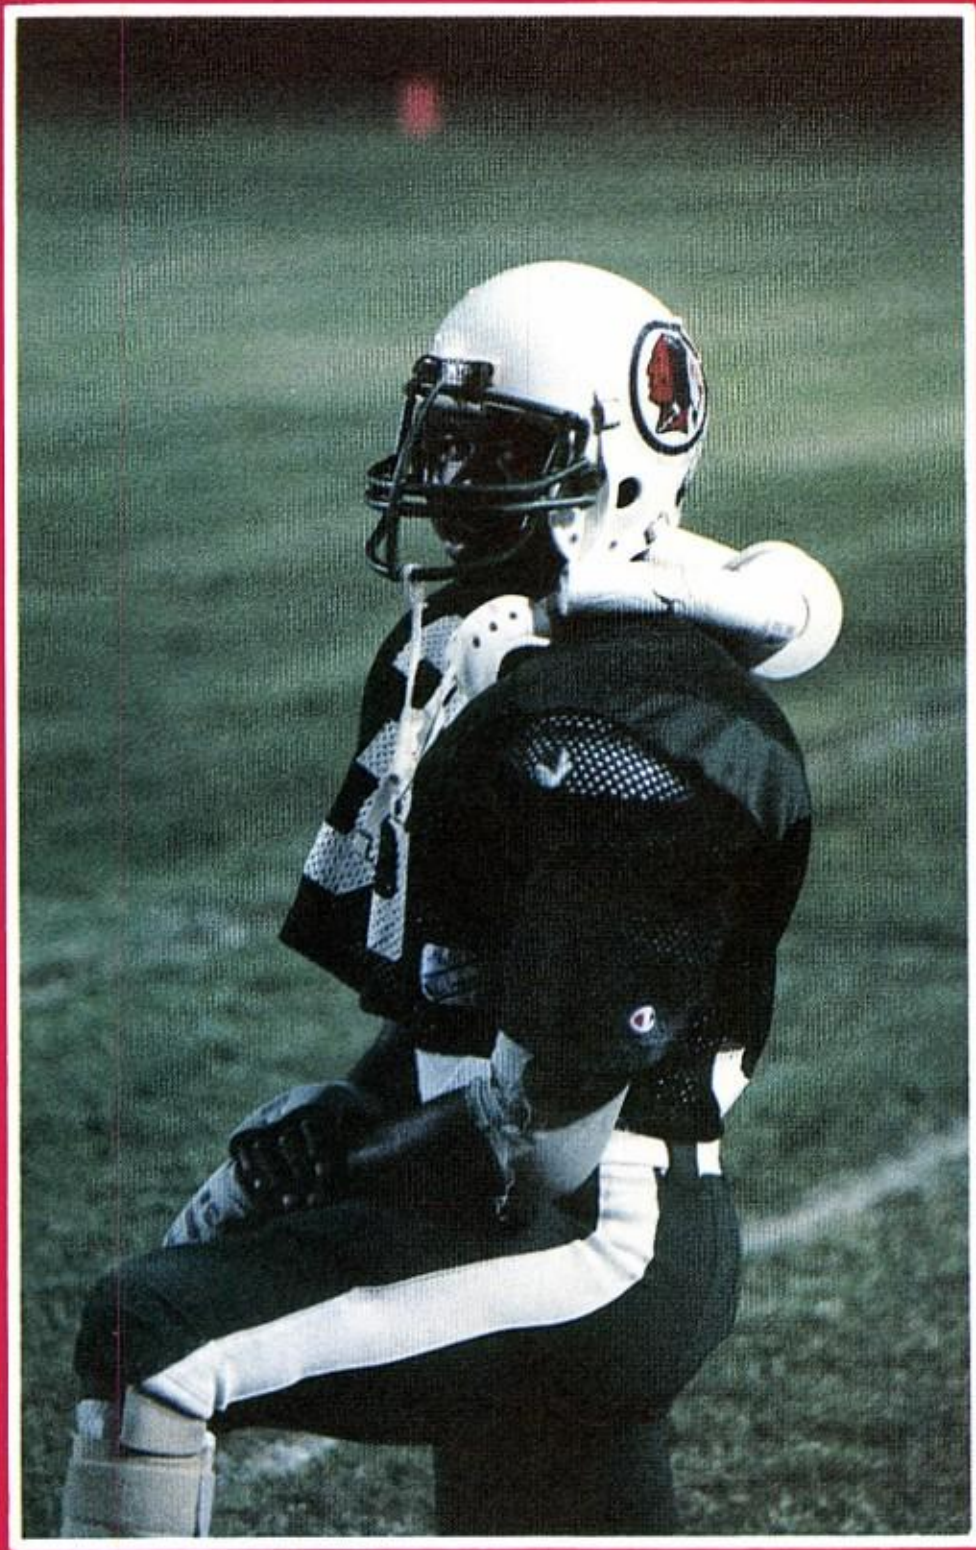
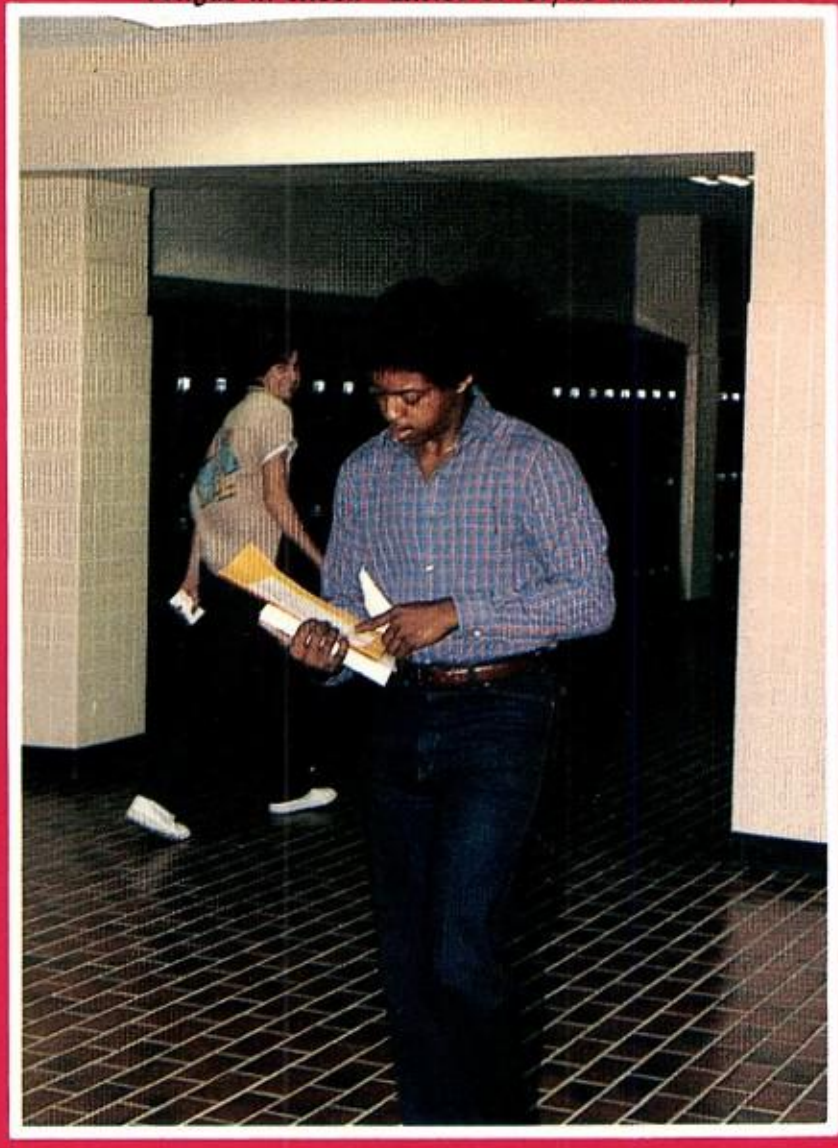
Angela Ramsey and Carla Englehardt think that being sophomores is a lot of fun!

Karen, Gaye and Tobin share a secret.

"Tongue-in-cheek" antics of Clyde and Macy

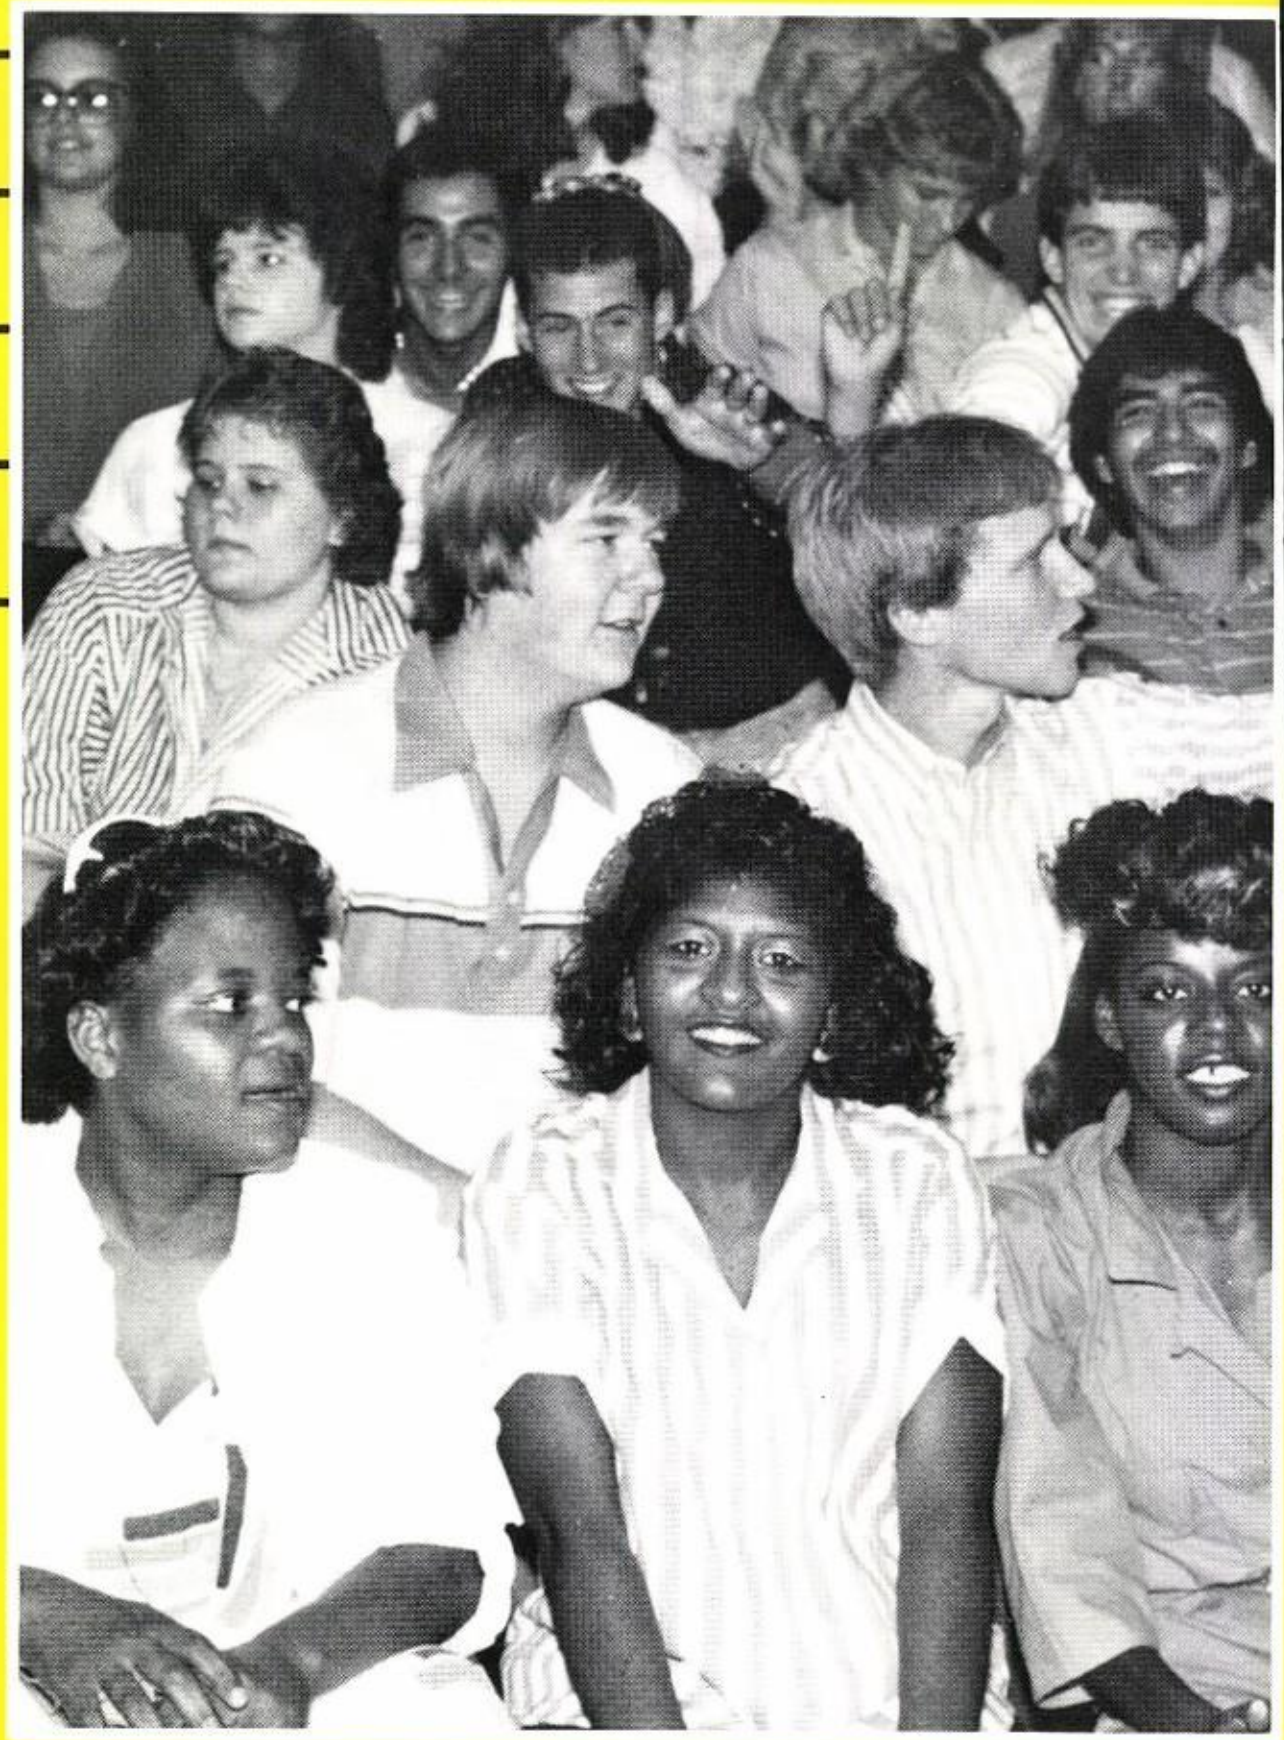


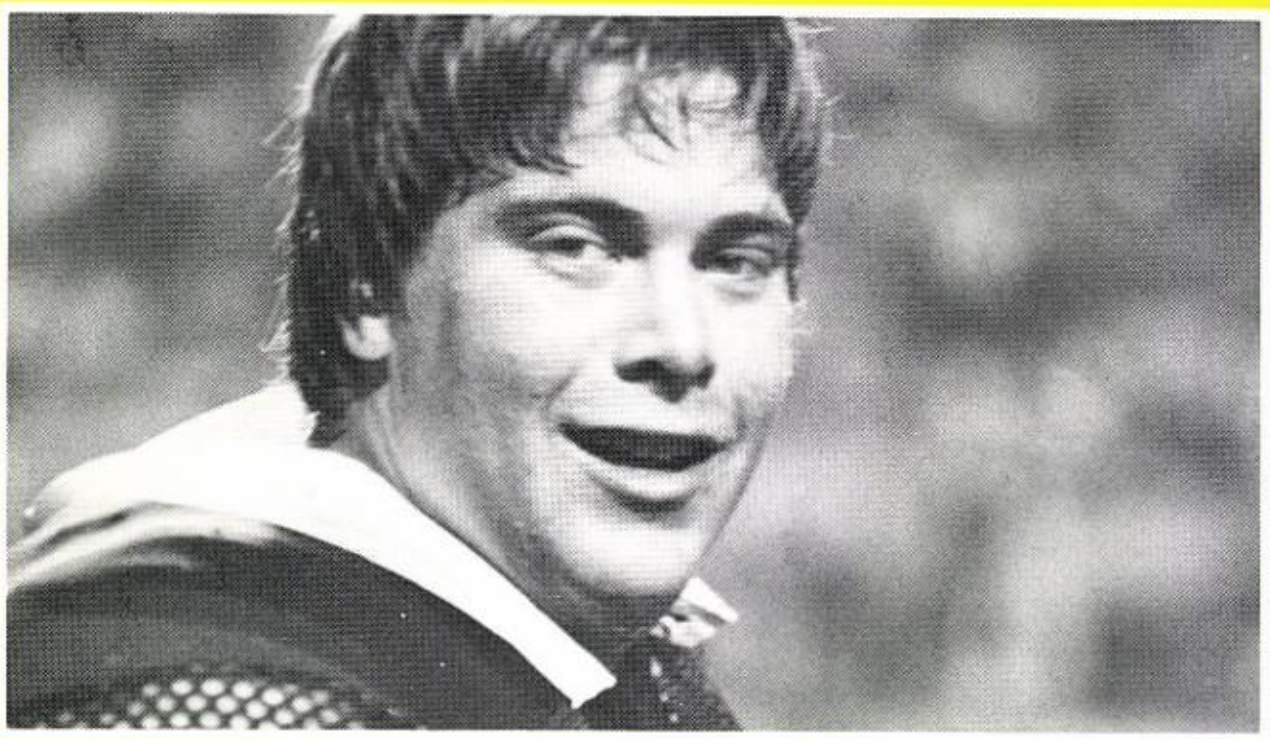


Eric Dixon checks his class schedule.

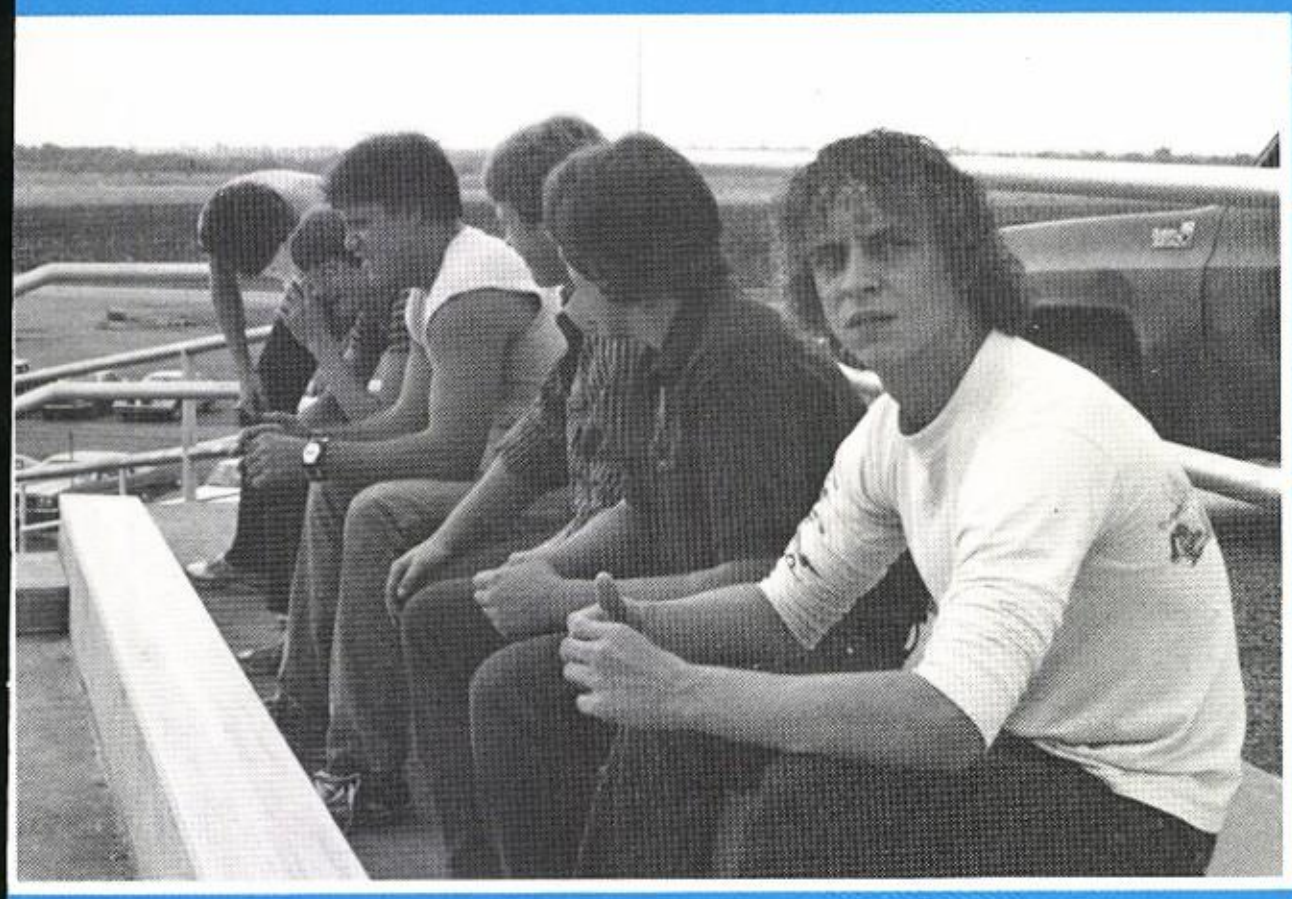
Does anybody know the score?

With a smile and a tie, Jana Bridges shows her support for the team.



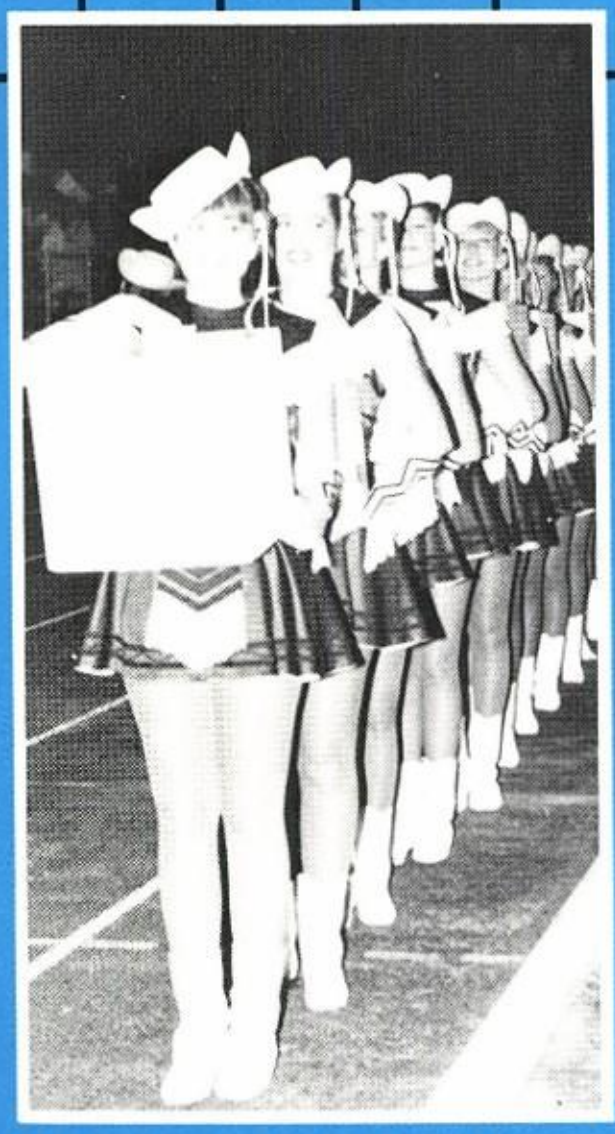


Hi, Mom!

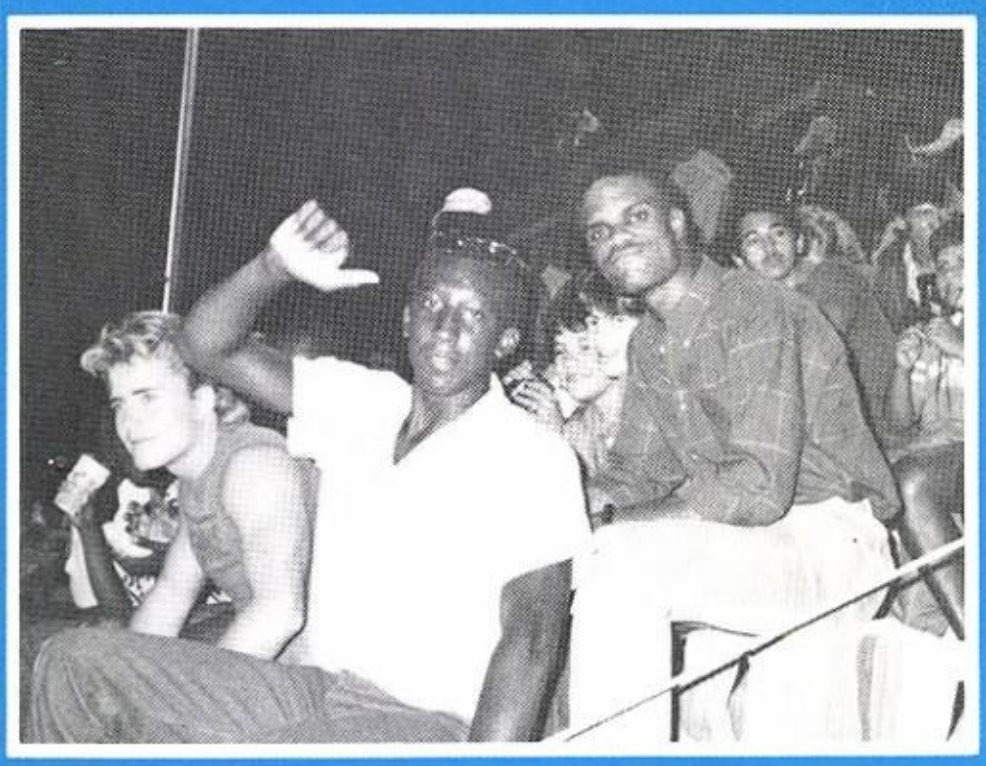


You're a little early for the game, guys!

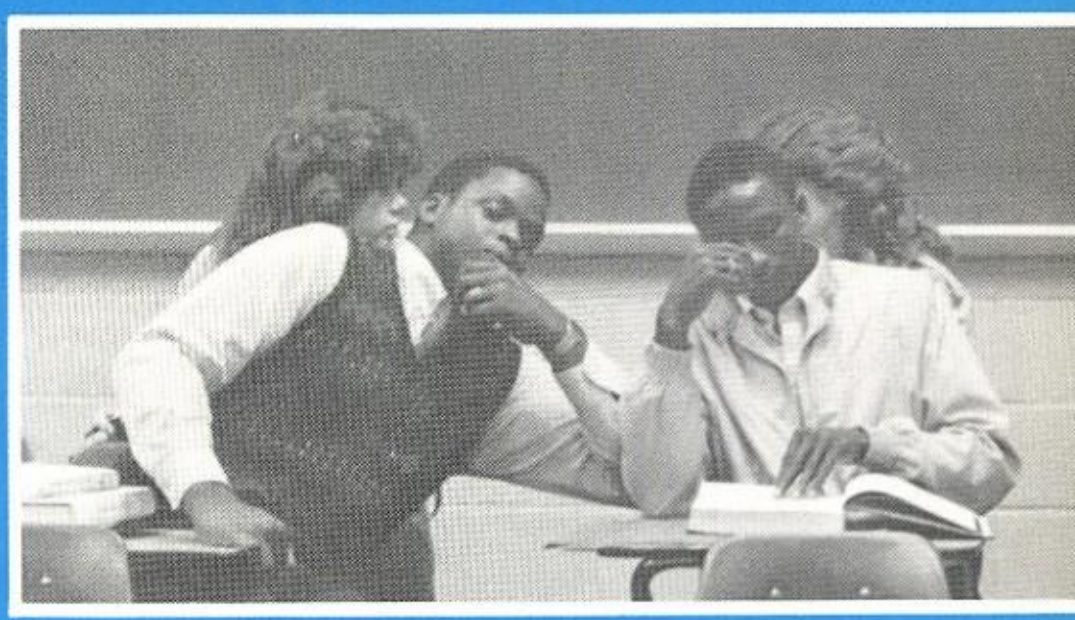
Always smiling, the Cherokee Charmers enjoyed performing at half-time.



The marching band limbered up this summer in preparation for half-time performances and contests.



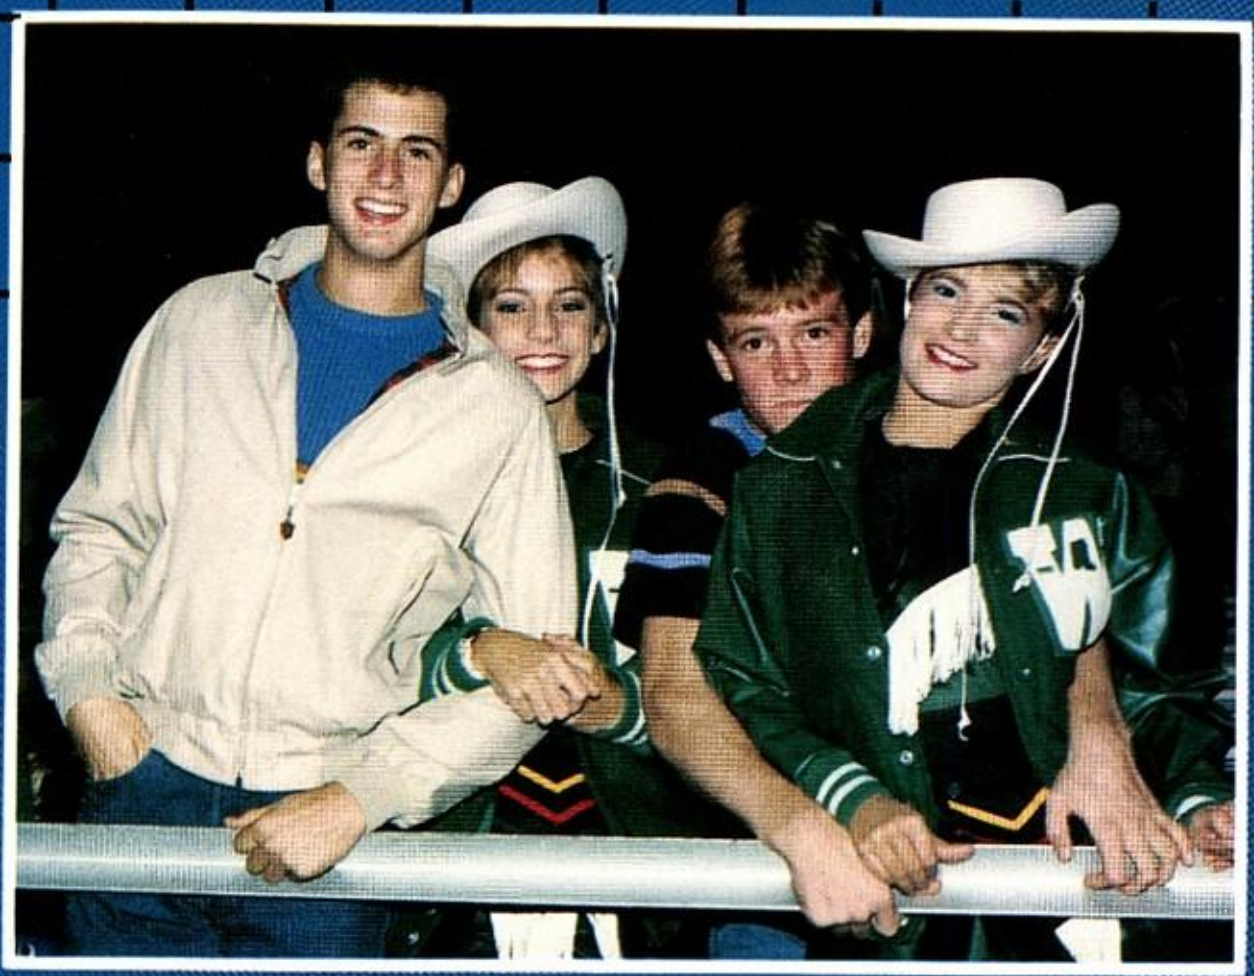
Thumbs up, Indians!

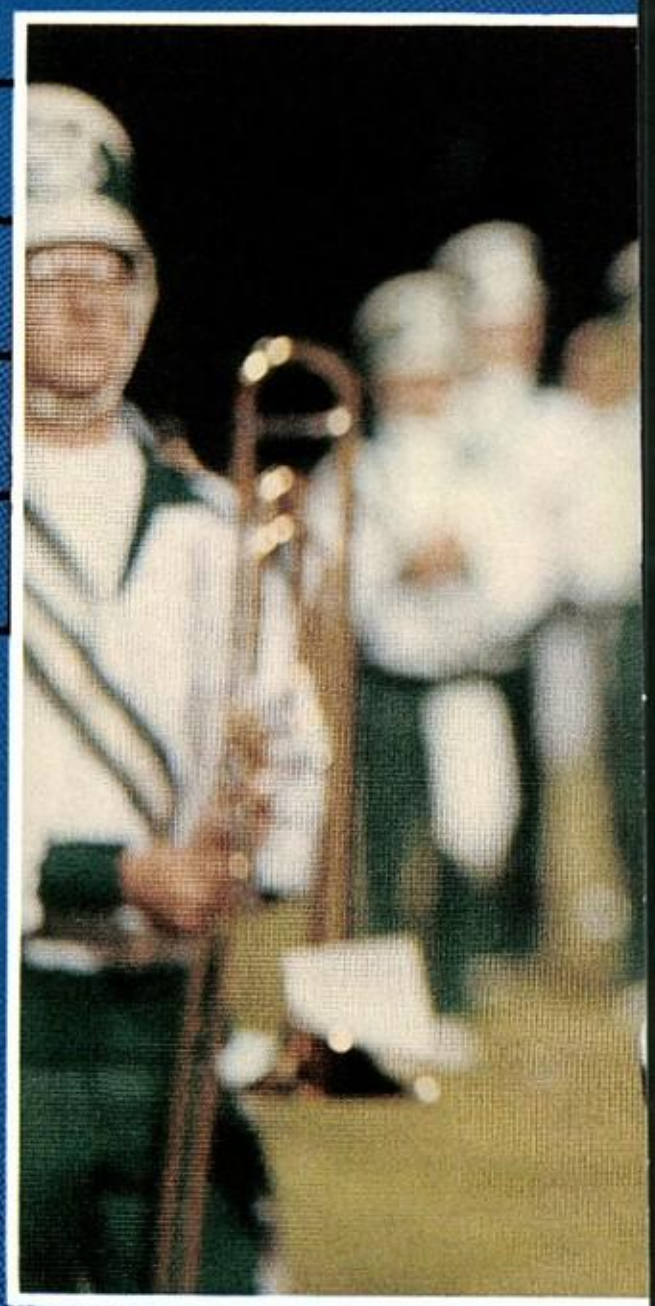


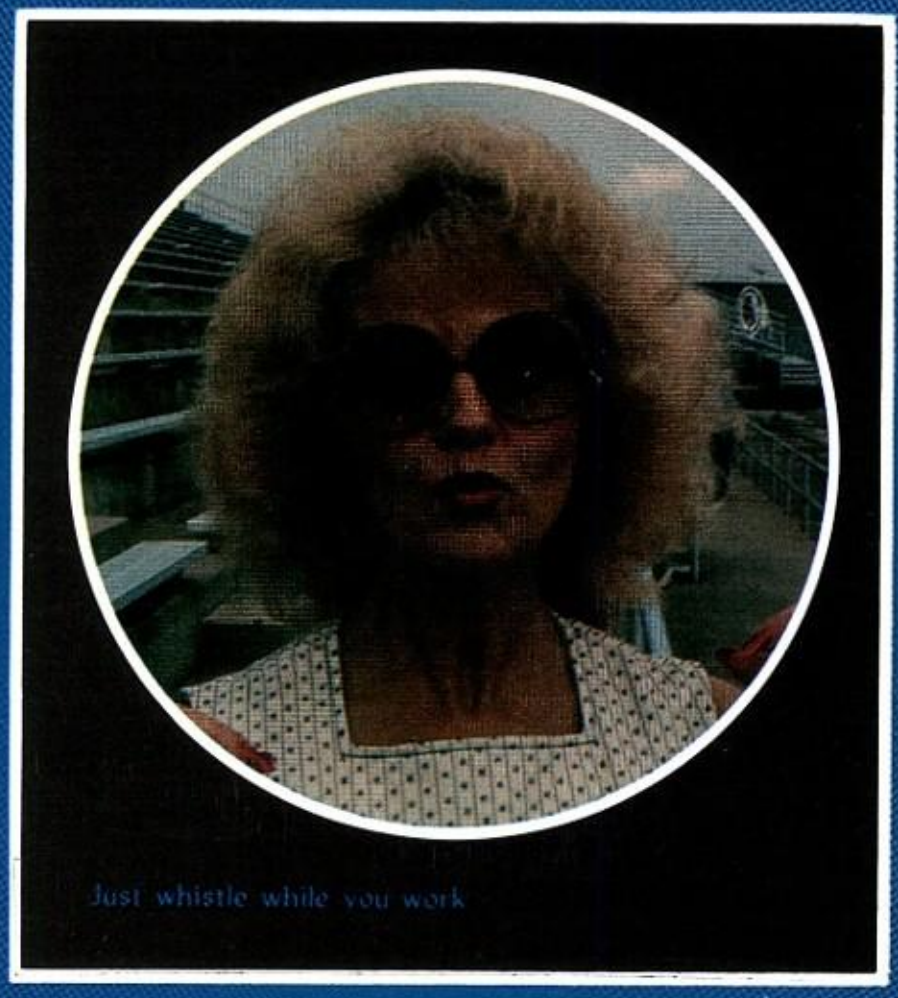
Keith Owens and Gerald Flowers share ideas about their assignment.

Marie Tyler stands proud as the Marching Band prepares for their half-time performance.

Casey, Margy, David and Kim come to grips with another exciting Indian football game.

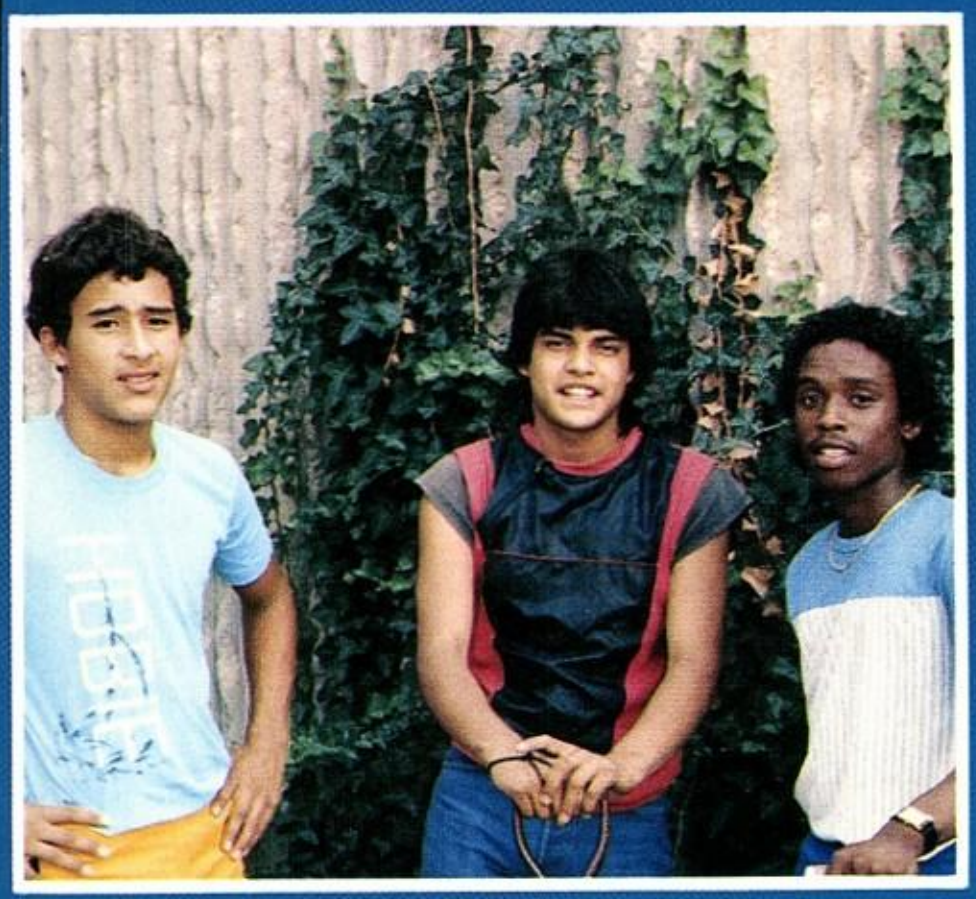






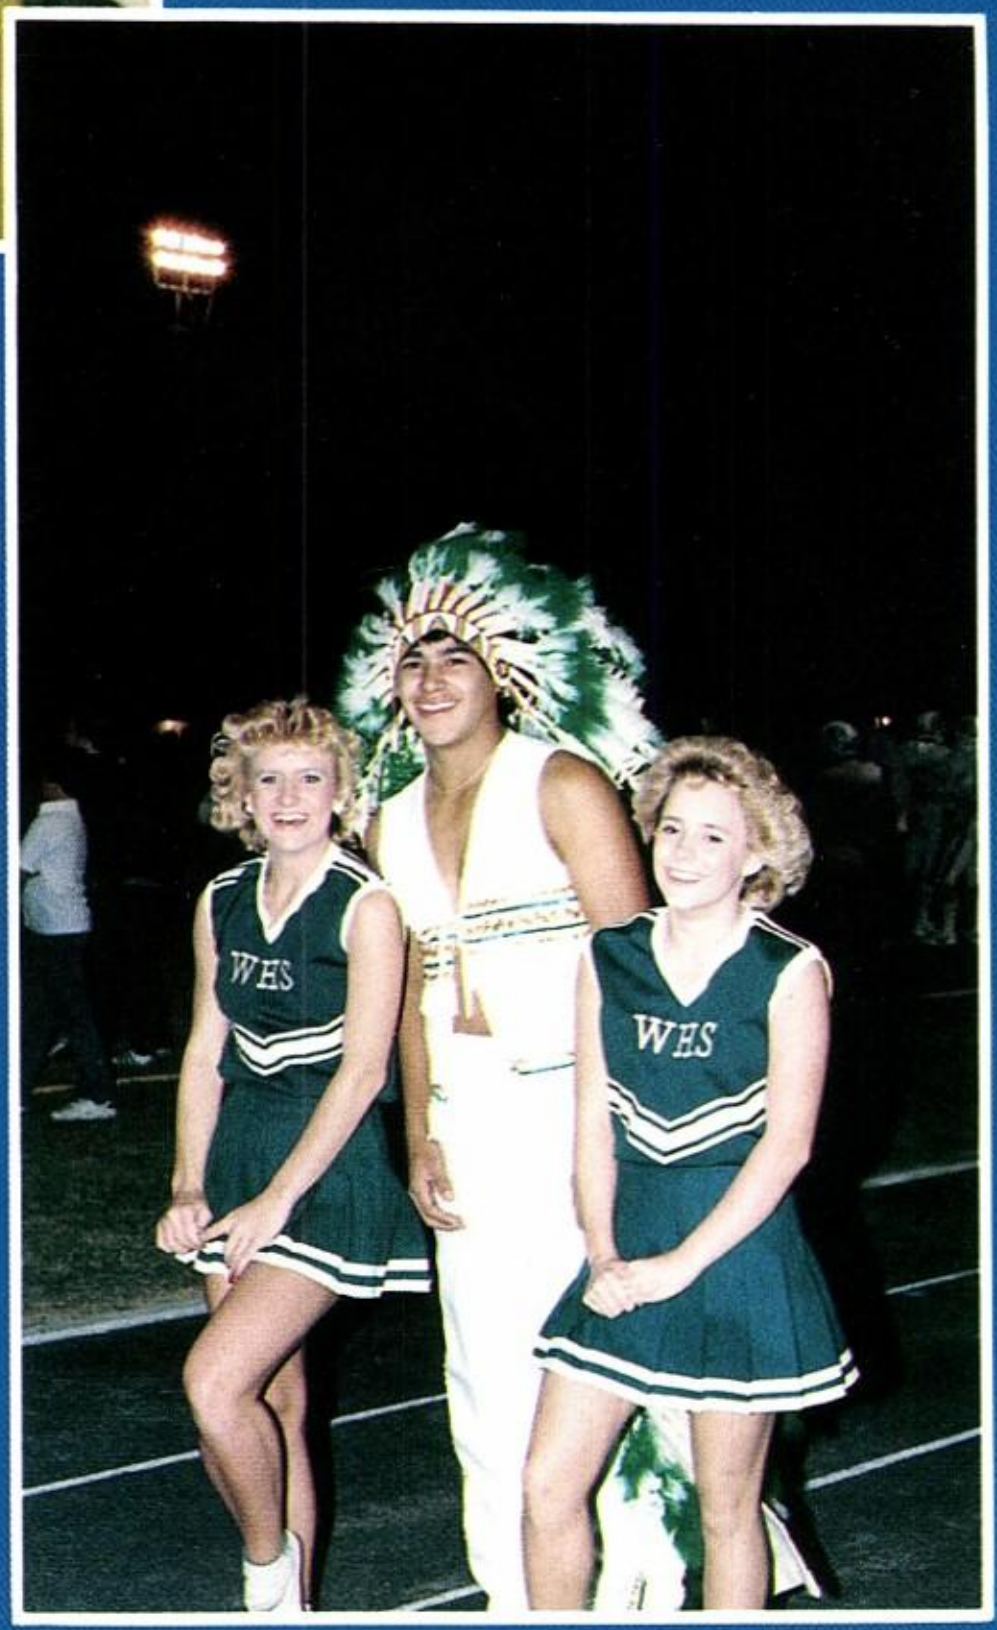
Just whistle while you work

Move over, Brooke Shields!



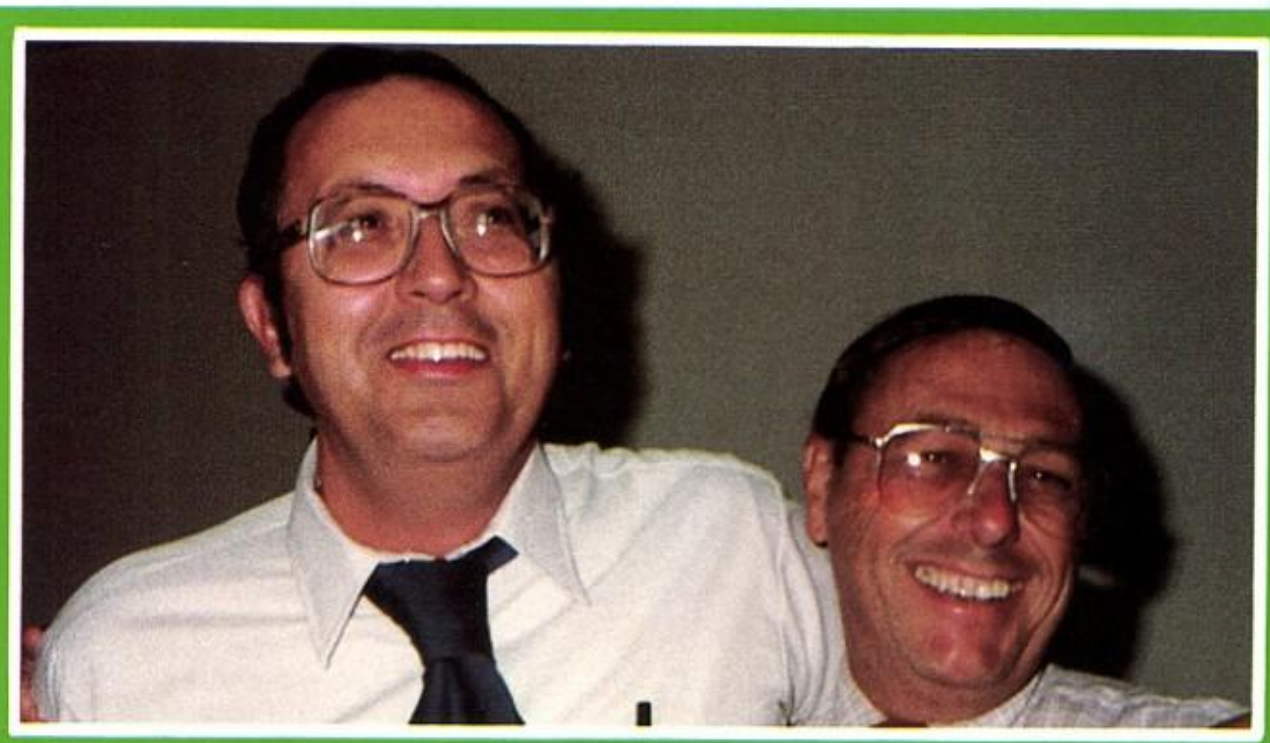
WHS students are always ready to lend a hand! They really dig school!

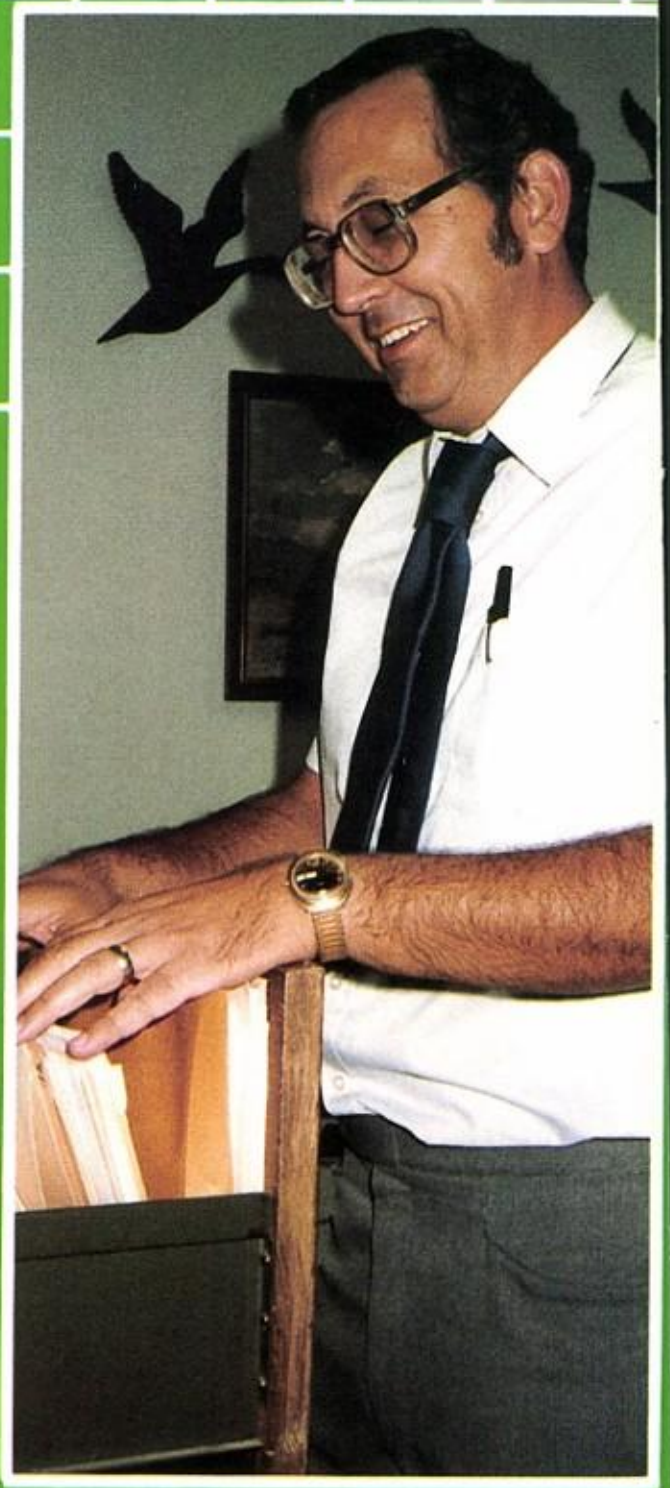
Spirit times three!

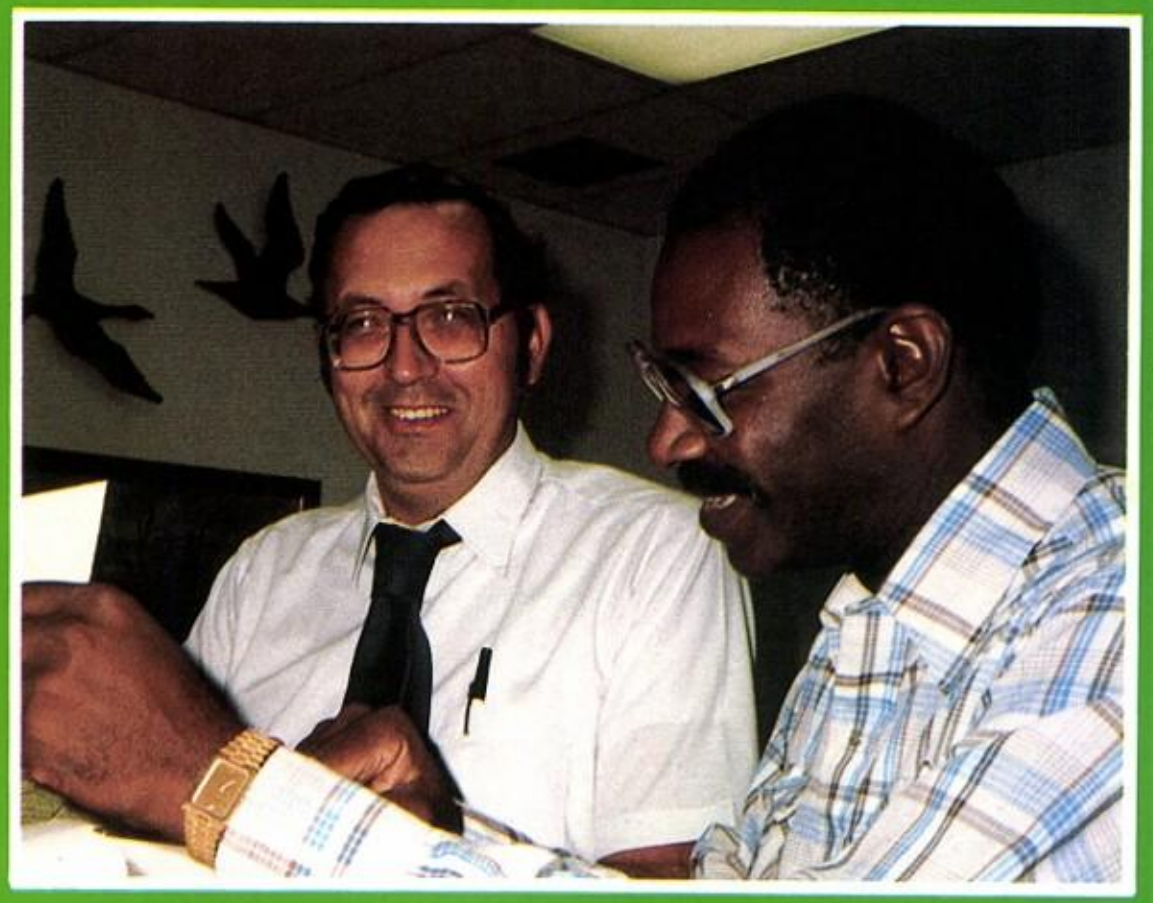


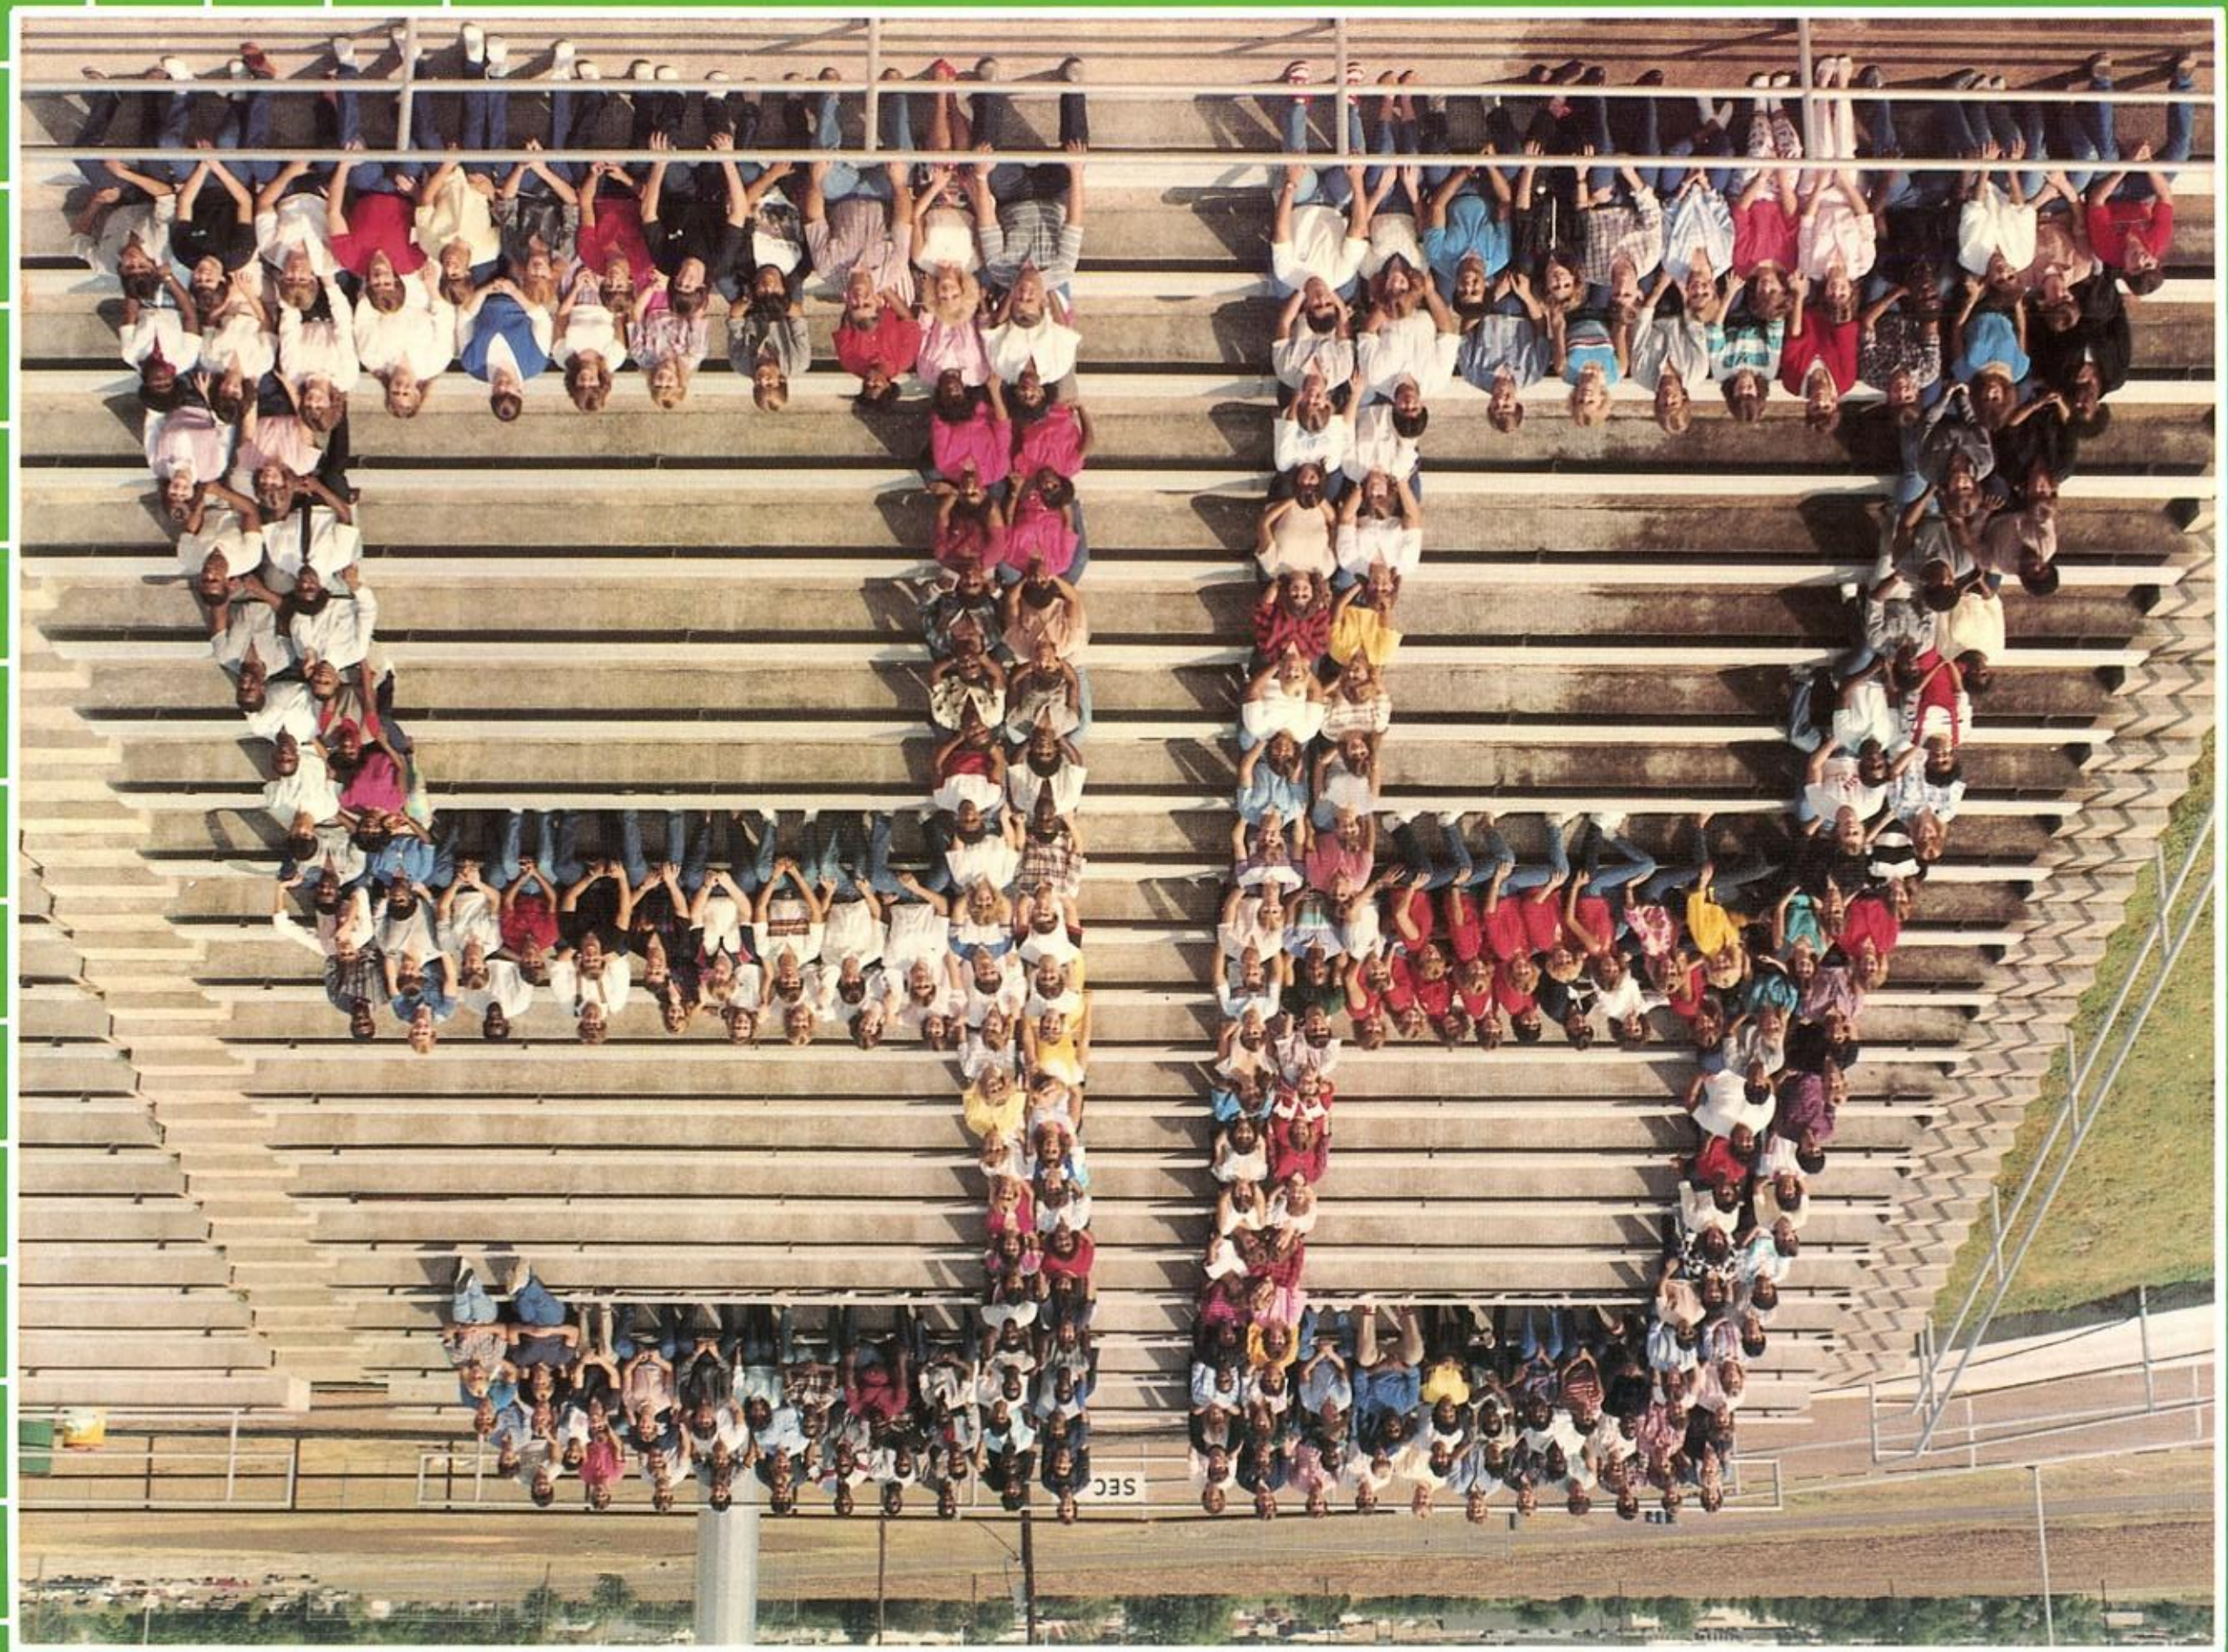
Nice Guys Do Finish First

The annual staff takes pride in dedicating the 1985 Chief yearbook to a man the entire student body and faculty staff both like and admire. This man helps to shape the character of the students through his own example. You'll almost always see a long line of students and teachers waiting outside his door, and he always has a smile and a few minutes for each of them. Don Williams, WHS principal for three years, has been with the Waxahachie Independent School District since 1967. Mr. Williams spends a great deal of time explaining and interpreting school policies and philosophies. For your leadership, your support and your pride in WHS - we thank you, Mr. Williams. Happy Hunting!!!



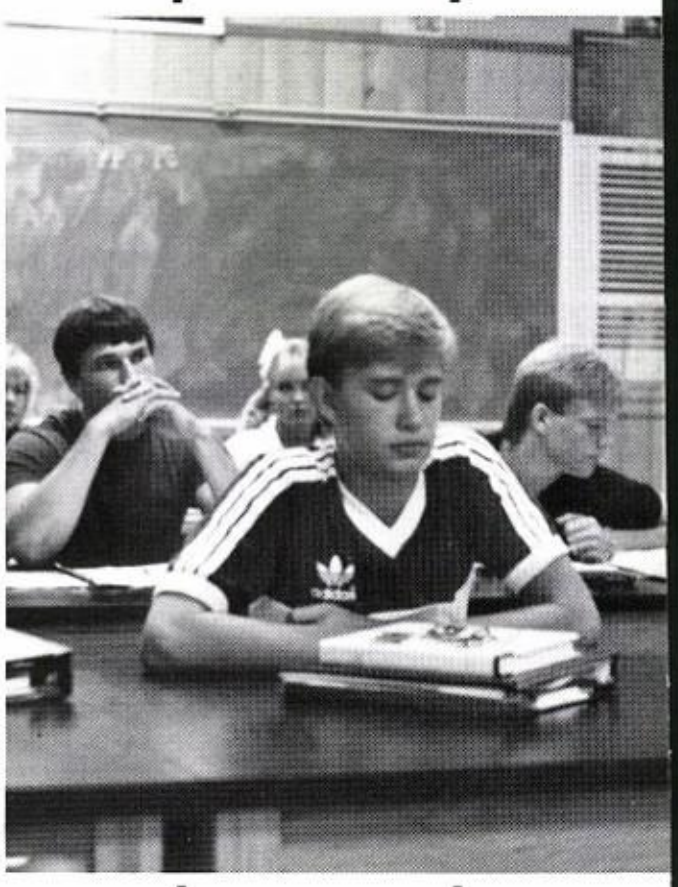






Don't sulk, Stevie.

You got the look!

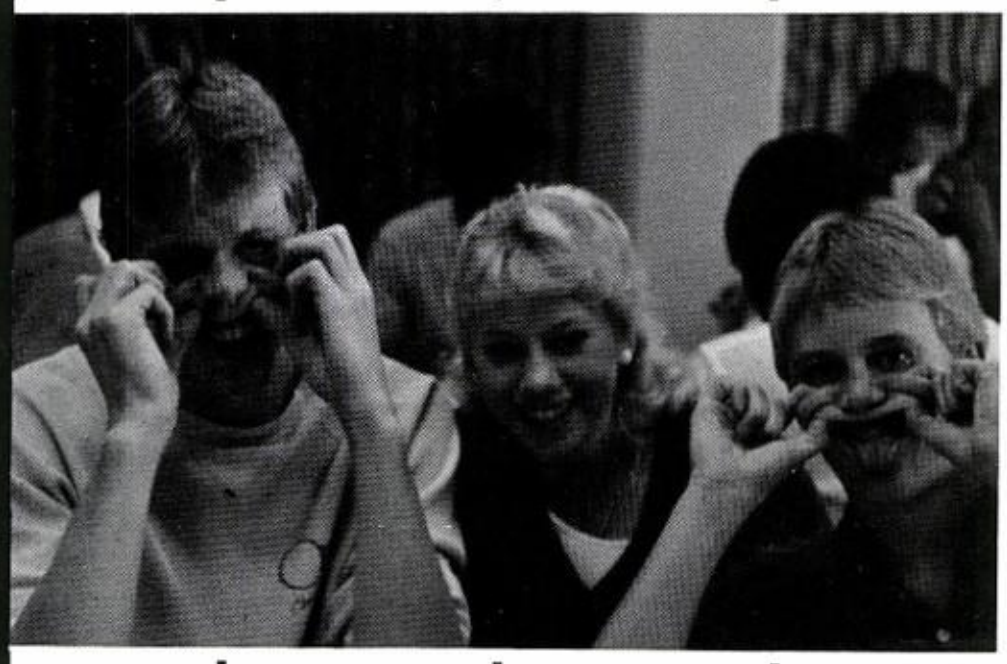


Good times for everyone!

Kirk is a bad influence, Melissa.

Watcha lookin' at, Chris?

Krista certainly looks optimistic!



That's not what we mean when we say "SMILE"!

SCHOOL DAYS

Senior Class Favorites: Charlene McCullar and David Jenkins.

A Senior's Thoughts

For twelve years we have all looked forward to saying, "Seniors '86!". We will never forget our first senior day, our last home game, the senior prom nor our last final exam.

For four years, WHS has served as the center of our lives. Within these walls we've cried tears, shared laughter, endured the frustration of failure, agonized over the pain of defeat, and enjoyed the pride of accomplishment - experiences which have made us even closet as a class.

I feel grief at having to leave WHS and all my friends, but joy at knowing the traditions of WHS will be carried on even after we leave.

Whatever the future might hold for us we will always have our memories of WHS.

As juniors, we are close to reaching our ultimate goal-graduation! We now have our senior rings and can look forward to sitting in the senior section of the cafeteria. As juniors, we planned the prom; as seniors, we can sit back and enjoy it! It has taken us sixteen years of our life to be called "upperclassmen." Looking back, we realize how many special times we shared as a class. Looking forward, we know the class of 1987 will have the best senior year ever!

Things Can Only Get Better!

We have made it through half of our high school years. The next two can only get better, since we are now upperclassmen. It has been a great first two years. We have shared so many memories, dreams, and aspirations. We have overcome each obstacle in our own unique way as we have strived for the best. Now that we have been caught up in the spirit of our school, we will continue to make our class and our school even better, so that our last two years will be cherished always.

The Odd Couple.

Freshmen Class Favorites: Greg Reed and Missy Clark.

The beginning of each year brings new students to WHS. These students experience new ideas, new friends, and new fears. They learn to share the happiness and joys that make high school such a special time in one's life. Being a freshman is not always easy. Not only do they have to hold an undesirable title but they also have to deal with new pressures, ceaseless criticism, and endless responsibilities. Thank goodness it occurs only once in a person's lifetime.

LABOR DAYS

The Top Ten

Dr. Bob Browning

WISD began the year with a new superintendent at the top of the Indian's totem pole. Dr. Bob Browning joined the staff in the summer of 1985 and immediately began making improvements in all areas. Working with Dr. Browning were Max Simpson, Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Personnel, and J.D. Centilli, Assistant Superintendent for Operations. The seven-member school board worked hard setting and administering school policy for the district. Over $12 million was spent adding on a new wing to the high school, building a new junior high, and making improvements to other Waxahachie campuses. Hoping to stay on top of Waxahachie's rapid growth pattern, the administration called for a $9 million bond election to include the building of two new elementary schools.

New Team Works Well

For the third year, Don Williams, chief of the high school reservation, kept things running smoothly. This year two new assistant chiefs joined him. Although new to their positions this year, Ron Appleton and Bill Travis were not new to the campus. With added space and new faculty, the chiefs were kept very busy.

Their duties included monitoring the cafeteria, keeping the new buiding looking nice, and trying to keep the temperature accurate!! In addition, they still had discipline problems to handle and HB 72 to enforce. Through it all, they somehow managed to keep a sense of humor and a smile. Thank you, principals!

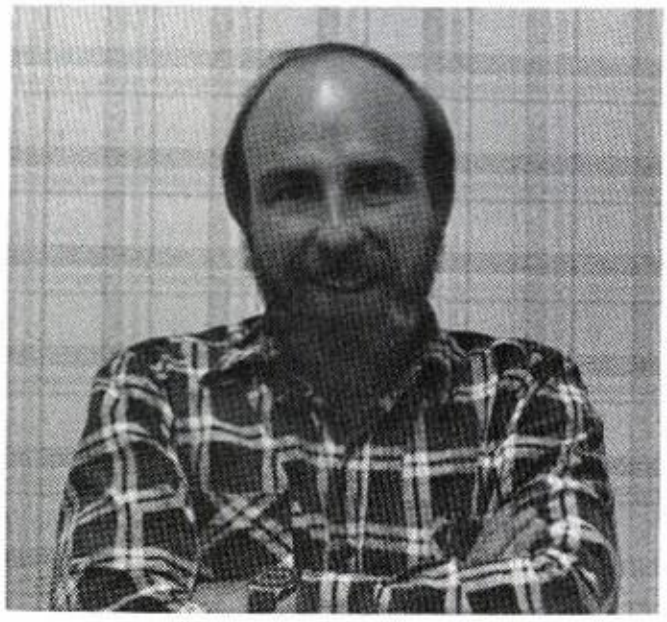
An Apple A Day . . . . .



Without teachers, where would we be? Luckily for us, they are concerned with both our education and our well-being. Even though each teacher has a distinct personality and teaching method, they all have one similar goal — to educate each student to the best of his ability. Without teachers, we would lack the knowledge that plays such an important role in our future. Teachers are the driving force behind the accomplishments of students at WHS. Thank you teachers! You definitely deserve an apple a day . . . !

Working Hard For Us!

The cafeteria staff and the custodians of WHS are a necessary part of each and every school day. Patience is one quality that helps them keep our school in top form. Feeding and cleaning up after 1400 students does require much endurance. We are lucky to have such hard-working cooks and janitors in our school.

Nothing more need be said.

The freshman football team had a pretty good year with only two losses. With the new "no pass, no play" law, many freshmen players were dismissed from the team, but that did not dampen their spirits very much. The freshman team should be very good next year as they move up to the JV level.

No Coin Flips - We're In!

With Only One District Loss, The Indians Finally Made The Playoffs

This year they did it! The Indians made it to the playoffs for the first time in five years. Two years ago the Indians tied for a playoff spot but a single coin flip knocked them out of the running.

The Indians played a strong second half all year long but had trouble putting two good halves together. This was a contributing factor in the team's only regular-season district loss against the Corsicana Tigers (28-7). The Indians didn't lose hope after this tough loss that nearly kept them from the playoffs. The Indians rolled through the last two games and ended the season with a hard game ending in a 49-9 loss against the undefeated Denison Yellow Jackets.

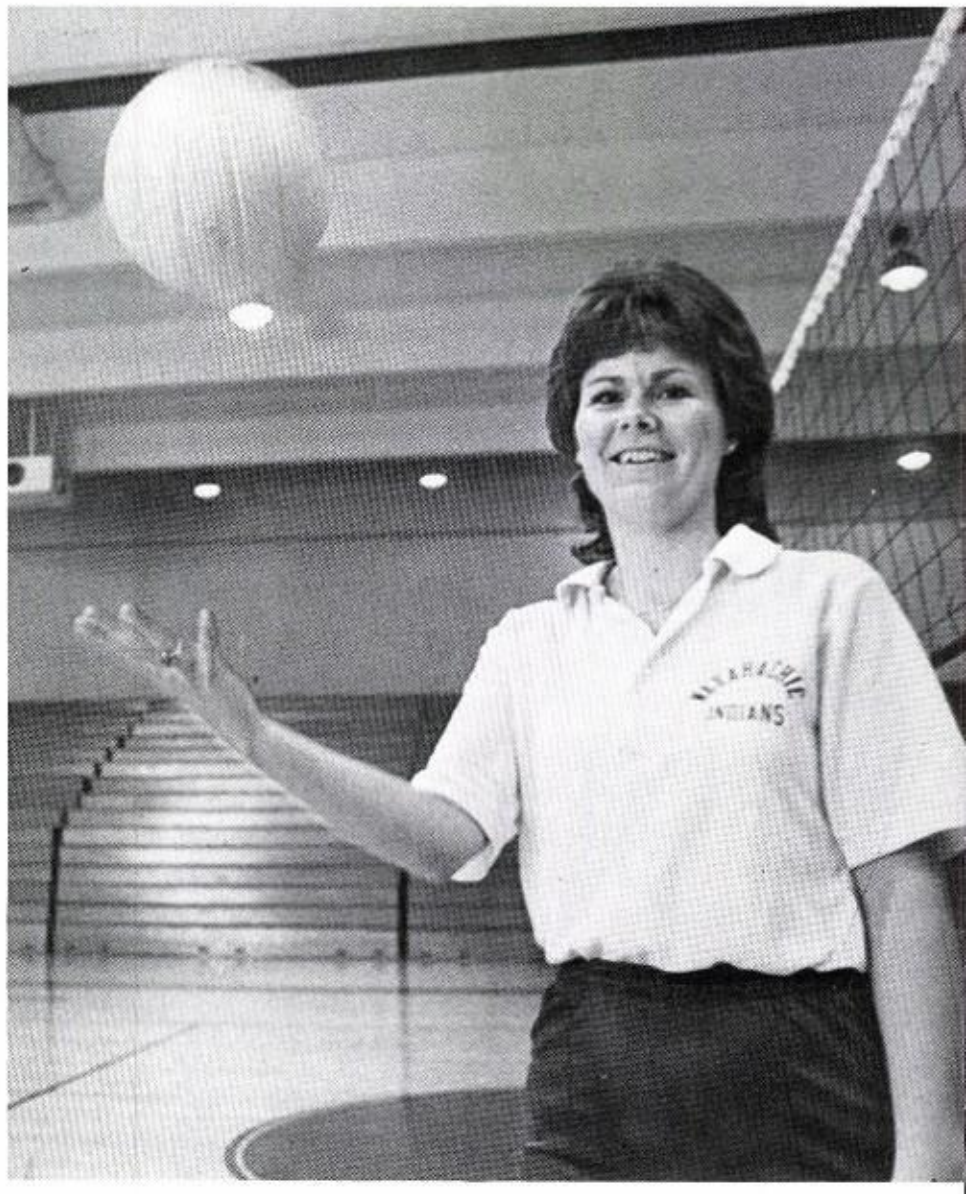
Varsity Volleyball



The varsity volleyball team worked hard during their season, but came up empty. Coach Westmoreland stated that, "Transition years are never easy, but these girls never gave up on me or themselves. Next year will be a winning year for these girls." With strong support and lots of spirit, Coach Westmoreland should prove to be right.

JV Volleyball

Serve, Set, Spike!

The JV volleyball squad served as a training ground for next year's varsity. This year's JV team worked hard, drilling in the fundamentals at practices and scrimmages. This hard work paid off as the team ended the season with a second place in district. Coach Lynn Westmoreland stated, "Winning second place in district was terrific and these young ladies were terrific to work with. They were a very special group." The squad definitely set an example of skill and good sportsmanship which they can continue next year.

Waxahachie Running Indians

This year's Running Indians' season started out a bit slow, but the Indians warmed up as the season progressed. Consisting almost entirely of seniors, these Indians were no strangers to the game. With two 6'3" posts and four forwards averaging 6'2", the Indians towered over their opponents. The Tribe's tournament play included the Westside Lions Tournament, in which they finished third place and the Indian Booster Tournament, in which the Indians placed fourth. The Indians wrapped up the season with a great run to the Regional semi-finals.

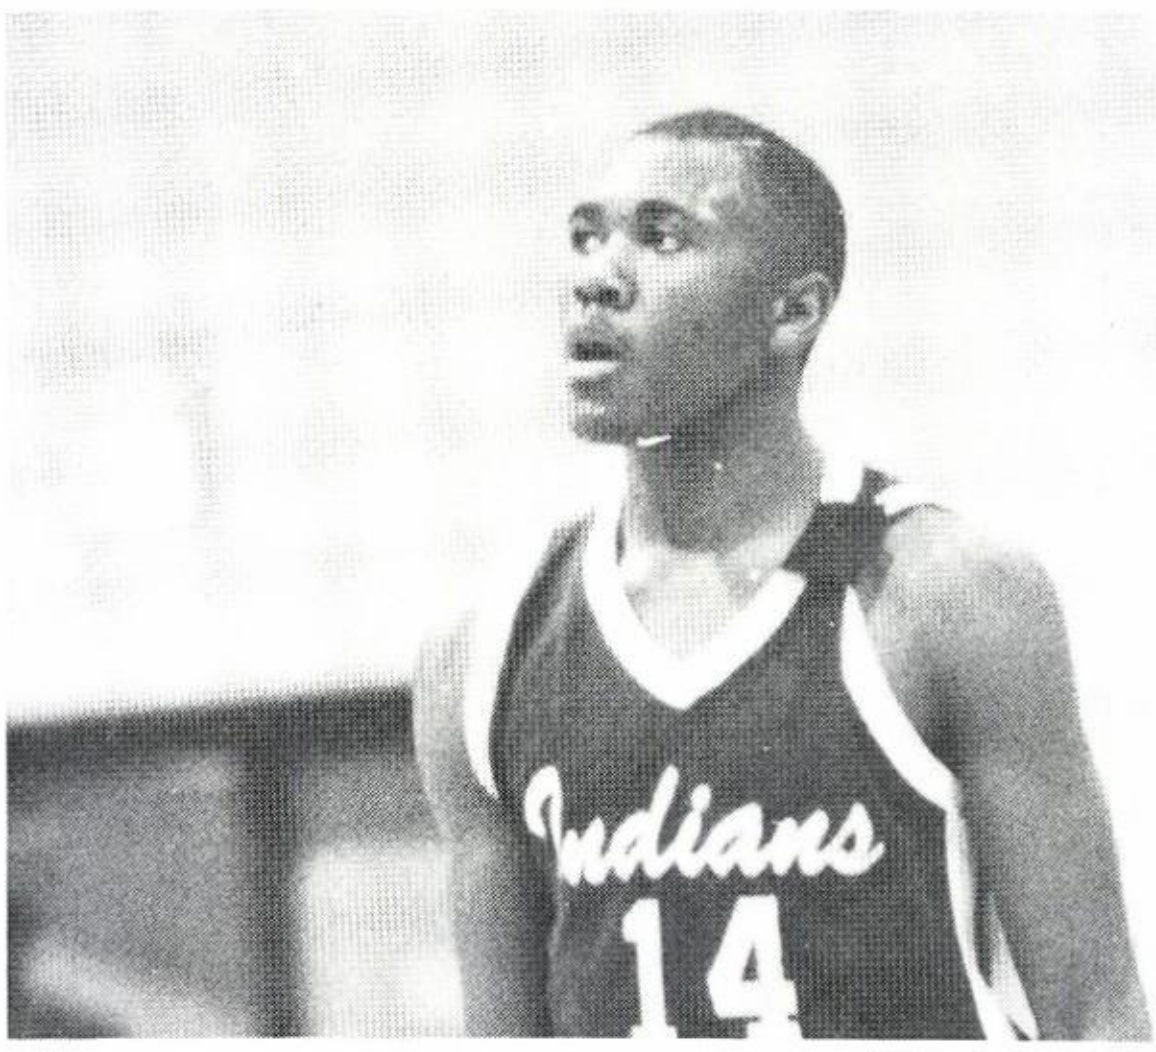
Keith Owens waits for the rebound.



Catching his breath, Maurice Alexander checks the scoreboard.

JV and Freshmen

In just their first two years of high school basketball, these players have shown much promise and gained the experience and talent that they'll need as varsity players. Among their achievements was a second place ranking in the DeSoto and Waxahachie JV tournaments. Most impressive, however, was their consolation prize in the Itasca Tournament, in which they played on the varsity level.

Desire To Win Inspires Team

The Girls' Varsity basketball team was made up of many talented players who, under the direction of Coach Lynn Westmoreland, strived for perfection. They showed great spirit and dedication as they moved down the court and through the season. The games were full of tension and excitement as the girls played to their fullest ability.

JV Maidens Shoot For Two

Determination and teamwork were two key words in the Girls' J.V. basketball games this year. Concentrating on good performance at games, Coach Carmichael trained and shaped the team into future Varsity ball players. The J.V. team never lacked in spirit and always dedicated themselves fully to their sport.

Coach Carmichael discusses the game plan with Cheri and Anita.

Varsity

The varsity baseball team got off to a good start this year with practices beginning in early February. Under the guidance of head coach Bill Midkiff, the team improved as the season progressed. This year's team had three sophomore players; however, the majority of the team consisted of seniors. Players were privileged to make use of the new field house at Richard's Park for workouts.

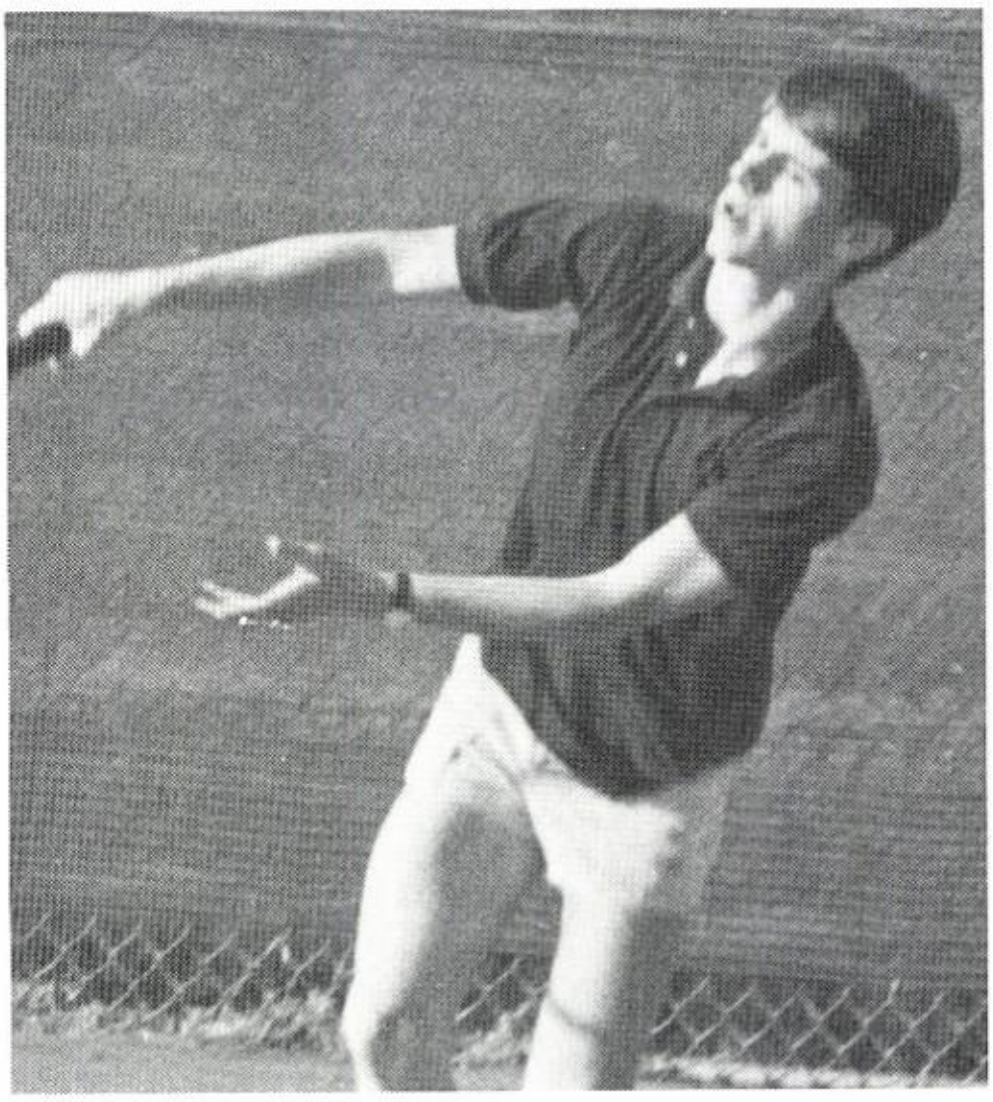
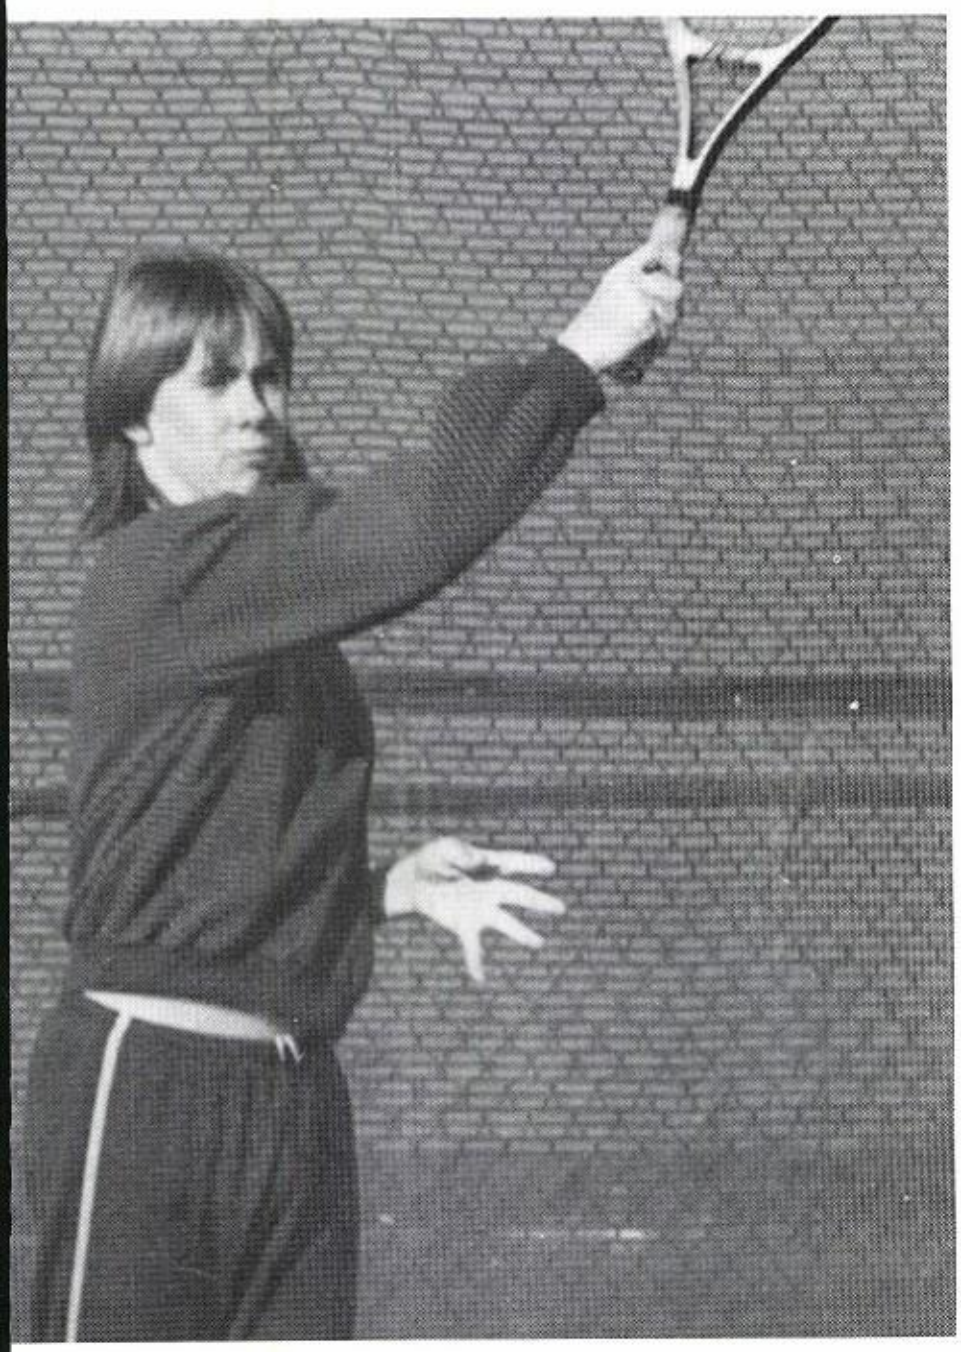
Ricky Solis starts moving up to the net.

John Farris was one of the few seniors on the team this year.





Coach Craig Harris brought a new approach to the tennis team. This year, his first year coaching at WHS, Coach Harris used extensive drilling and conditioning to get the team into shape. With the largest team membership in years, that was no easy task. This year the tennis team played a number of schools in home and away meets, finishing with an okay record. However, with only two graduating seniors on the team, next year may be the team's best ever.

J.C. Francis was a talented newcomer to WHS tennis.

To Track Events

Practicing sprints is just one way the team prepares for competition.

Sandy Harrington works hard to get ready for the team's first meet.

Even field events participants have to run a mile every day.

Track requires hours and hours of tedious practice. In order to endure these hours of hard work, one must be dedicated. The girls have to be devoted enough to practice after school, even in the rain and the cold weather. The reward for this dedication can be a state championship.

On Your Mark . . .

The varsity track team was a hard-working and dedicated team, striving for excellence. Each member was committed to trying to improve himself every day. Under the watchful eyes of Coach Steve Westmoreland, they spent time developing the speed, coordination, and timing it took to succeed in track. Some of the events entered were shotput, discus, pole vault, high jump, sprint relay, 100 yard dash and the mile run. Each of these events required a lot of skill and determination, qualities belonging to each member of the varsity track team.

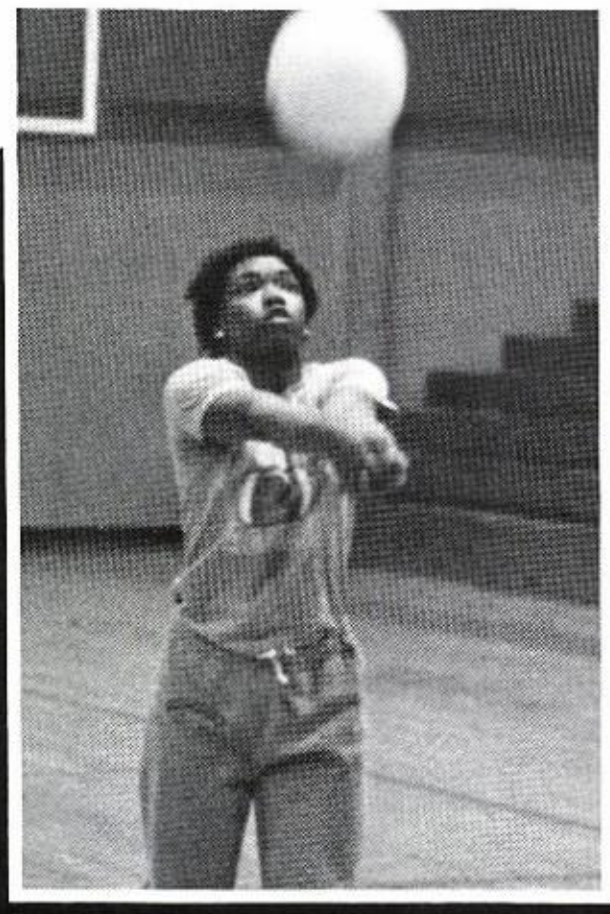
Waxahachie Athletics:



WHS Athletics Really Move!

Nobody's athletic department moves, like Waxahachie High School's. With more than a dozen coaches and hundreds of students enrolled in athletics, sports are a major aspect of life at WHS. Our athletic performance is a source of great pride and enjoyment for the students, faculty and community. Competing with other 7-AAAA schools, WHS excels in a number of sports of all divisions-boys, girls, varsity, and junior varsity.

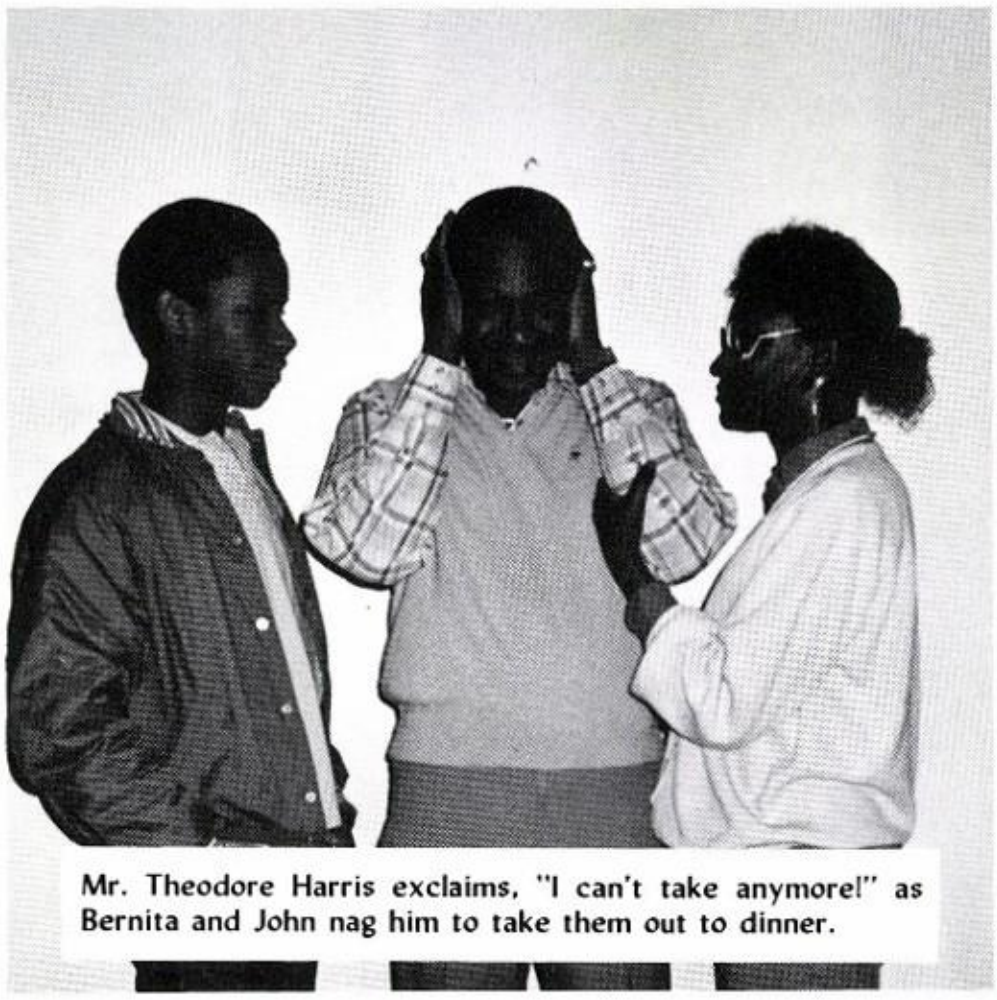
All In The Family . . .

There are some students who attend Waxahachie High School with their mom or dad. These students' parents happen to be part of the teaching staff here at the high school. There are many advantages and disadvantages to having one of your parents teach at the same school you attend. Some advantages for the students are having a parent nearby for an emergency, such as a money shortage. Another advantage is that their parents being here at school help to keep the students in line and out of trouble.

Disadvantages include the thought of your parents knowing what you're dong every day at school, and everyone thinking that you're supposed to be the perfect student.

When asked how she feels about her mother working at the same school she attends, sophomore Julie Bumpass replied, "It's nice. If you forget something, she's right down the hall." Junior Mark Ballard says, "I kinda like her being here. It keeps me out of trouble!"



Mr. Theodore Harris exclaims, "I can't take anymore!" as Bernita and John nag him to take them out to dinner.

George Solis, WHS mascot for 1957-1959, passes on his talents to son Ricky, 1985 mascot.

Ronda Appleton has to be extra careful to stay out of trouble at school since her father, Ron Appleton, is one of the new assistant principals.

Students Jerry Segura, Davis Horan, Eddie Nunn, Lance Keese, and Russell Lisman are among the fortunate few who can always go to their parents, teachers Mr. Richard Segura, Mrs. Ann Horan, Mr. David Nunn, Mr. Doug Keese, and Mrs. Ruth Junkin, for money when they need it.

"Need the keys, please!" Scott Pleasants, Mark Ballard, and Dean Splawn are a thankful trio as they revel at the thought of being able to get the car keys from their moms, Mrs. Judy Pleasants, Mrs. Ruth Ballard, and Mrs. Barbara Splawn, any time they need them.

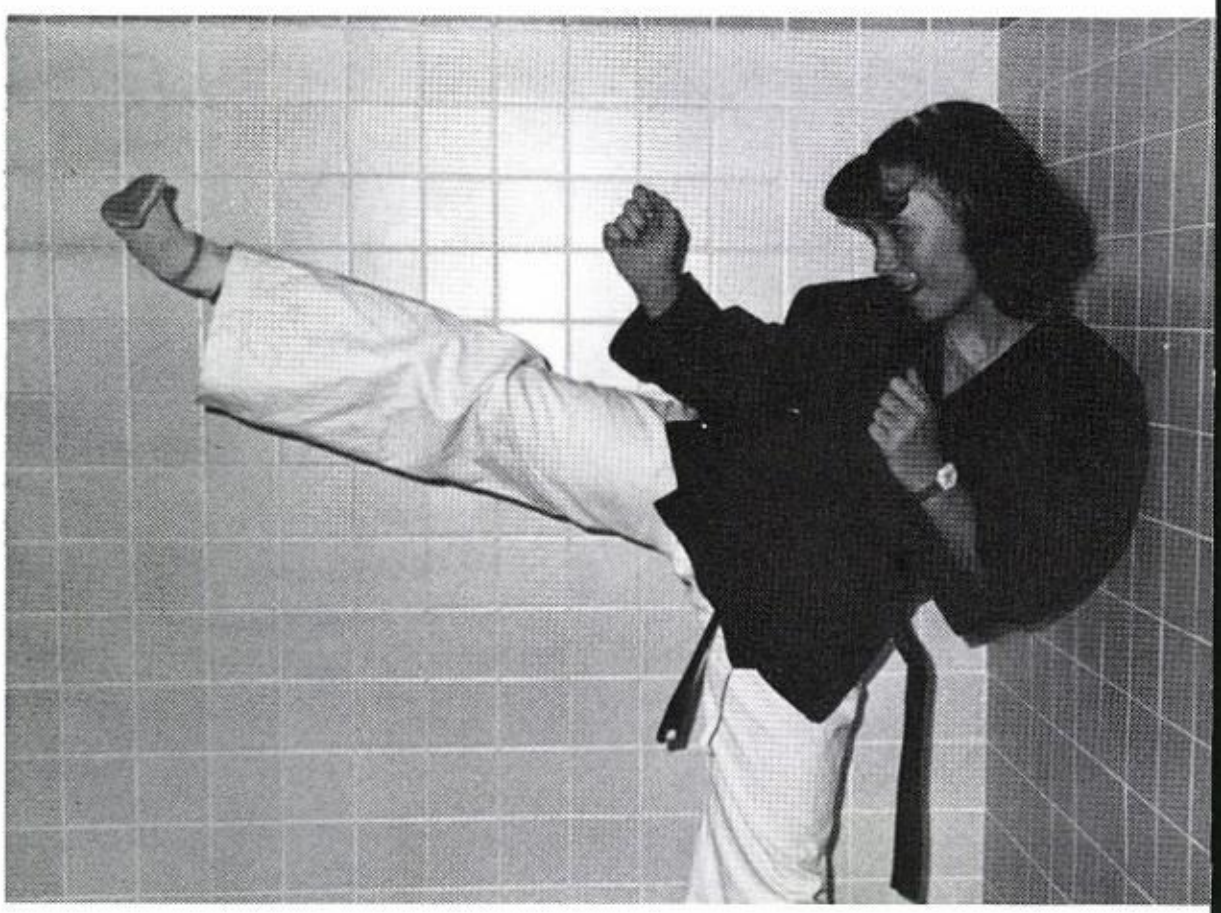
In The Spotlight

There are many talented students at WHS involved in outside hobbies. These hobbies range from horseback riding to karate, from piano playing to dancing. They are not only hobbies but a time-consuming talent. Of course it is impossible to identify all the students who excel at WHS in outside activities. Those pictured here are but a sampling of the gifted students at our school.

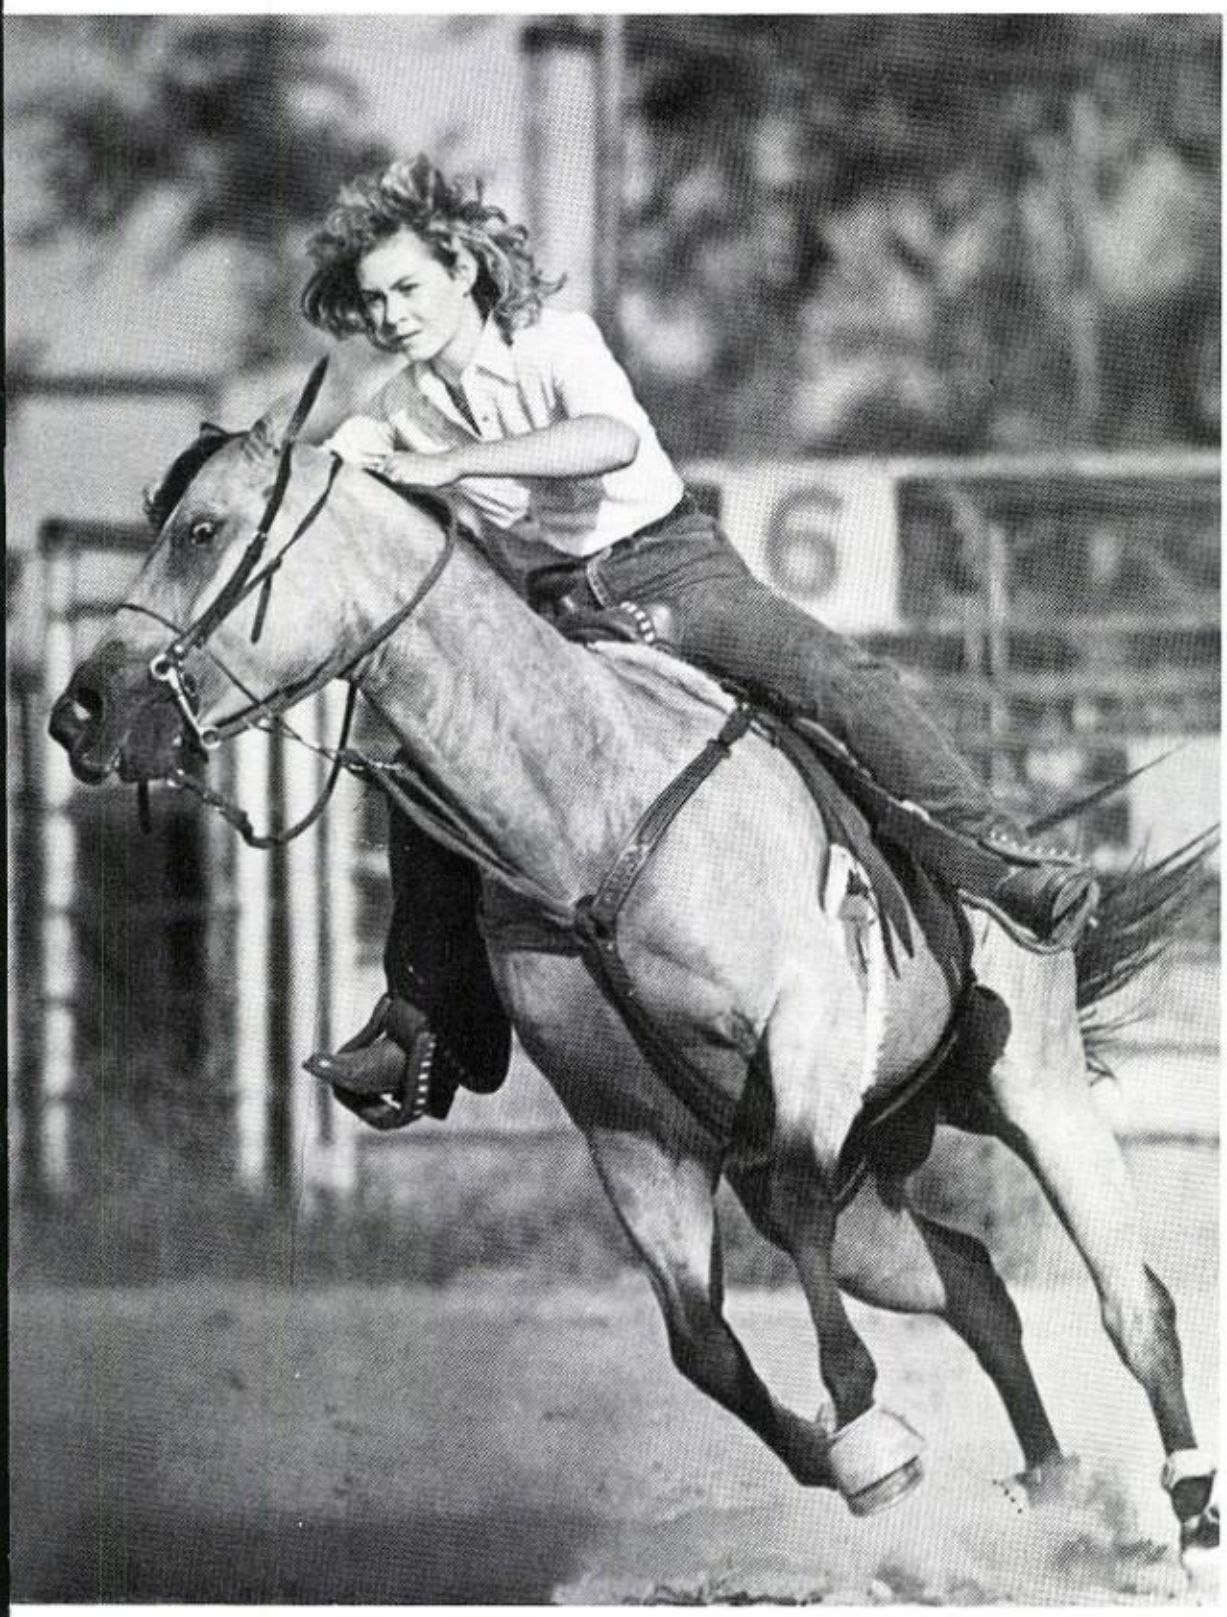
Ripley Tate is the National Champion Teen Trail Rider.

Both Laura Green, junior, and Jason Ranton, sophomore, have been playing the piano for nine years.

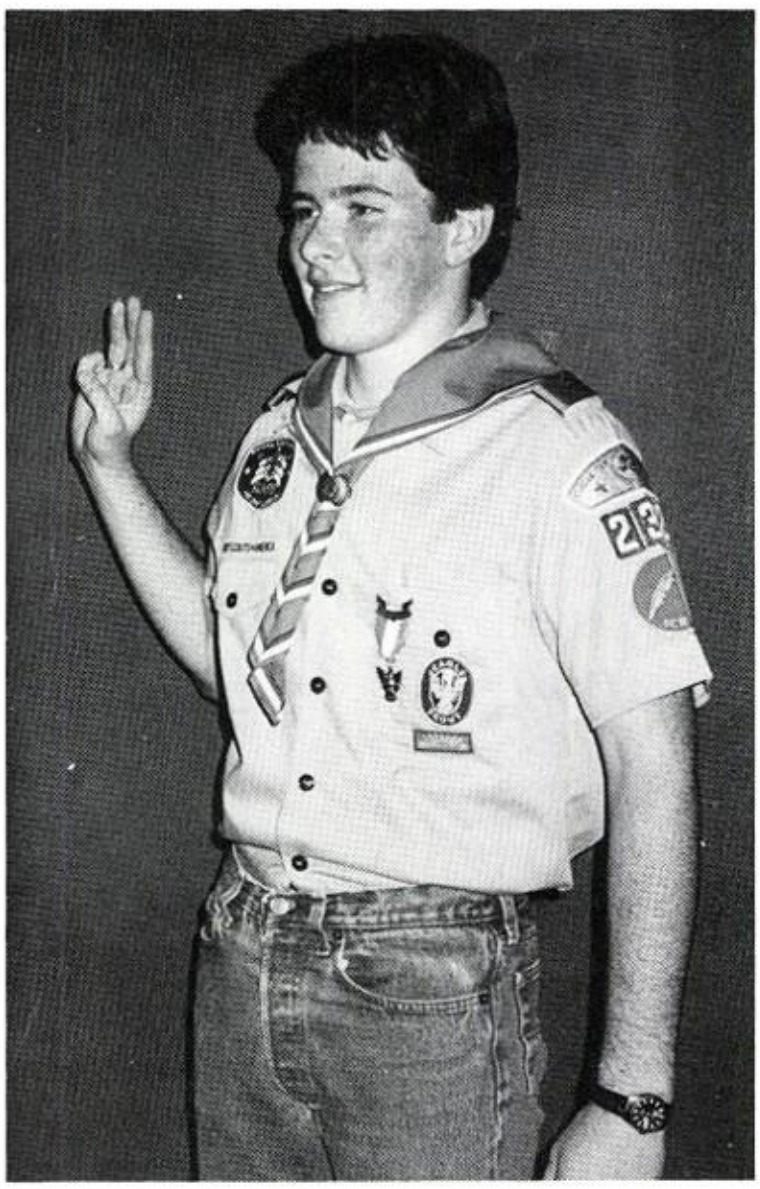


Liz Kelley, sophomore, won her black belt for karate in November. She has taken karate four years, and has won nine trophies.

Shelley Potter, sophomore, is an assistant teacher at the Academy of Dancing. She has been taking jazz, ballet and tap for four years. Shelley's ambition is to be a dance teacher, choreographer and own her own dance studio. This summer Shelley will be competing professionally.



Julie Lamp, sophomore, has been riding for seven years. She rides both western and English, and has won awards in both categories.



Seth Terry, freshman, received his Eagle Scout award this year. Seth was elected to the order of the arrow. He attended the National Jamboree in Virginia last summer, and trained for staff at Camp Cherokee in Athens.

A Start For The Future

Working Experience

The vocational area is one part of our high school that not everyone is familiar with. Work experience, skill building and supervised study are the essential elements in the vocational program. The classes in the vocational department compete in contests as both individuals and as teams. Students learn different trades, from carpentry, welding, auto mechanics, auto paint and body, to horticulture and the use of office machines. Students from Midlothian, Maypearl, and Red Oak participate in Waxahachie High School's vocational courses. The vocational program, directed by Dr. Rick McMichael, is a great way to get a head start on a successful future.

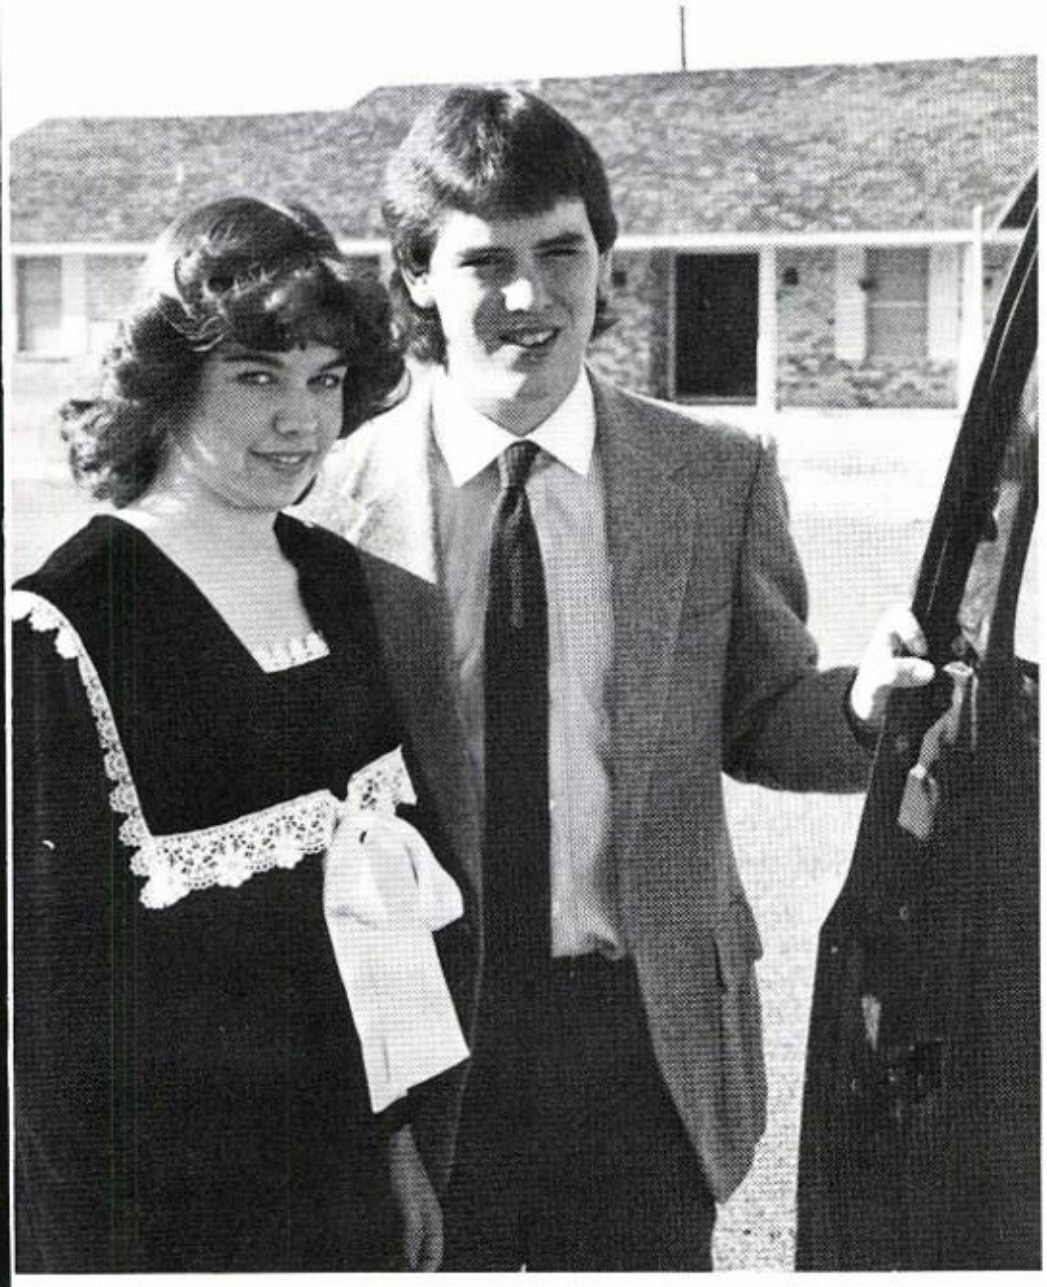
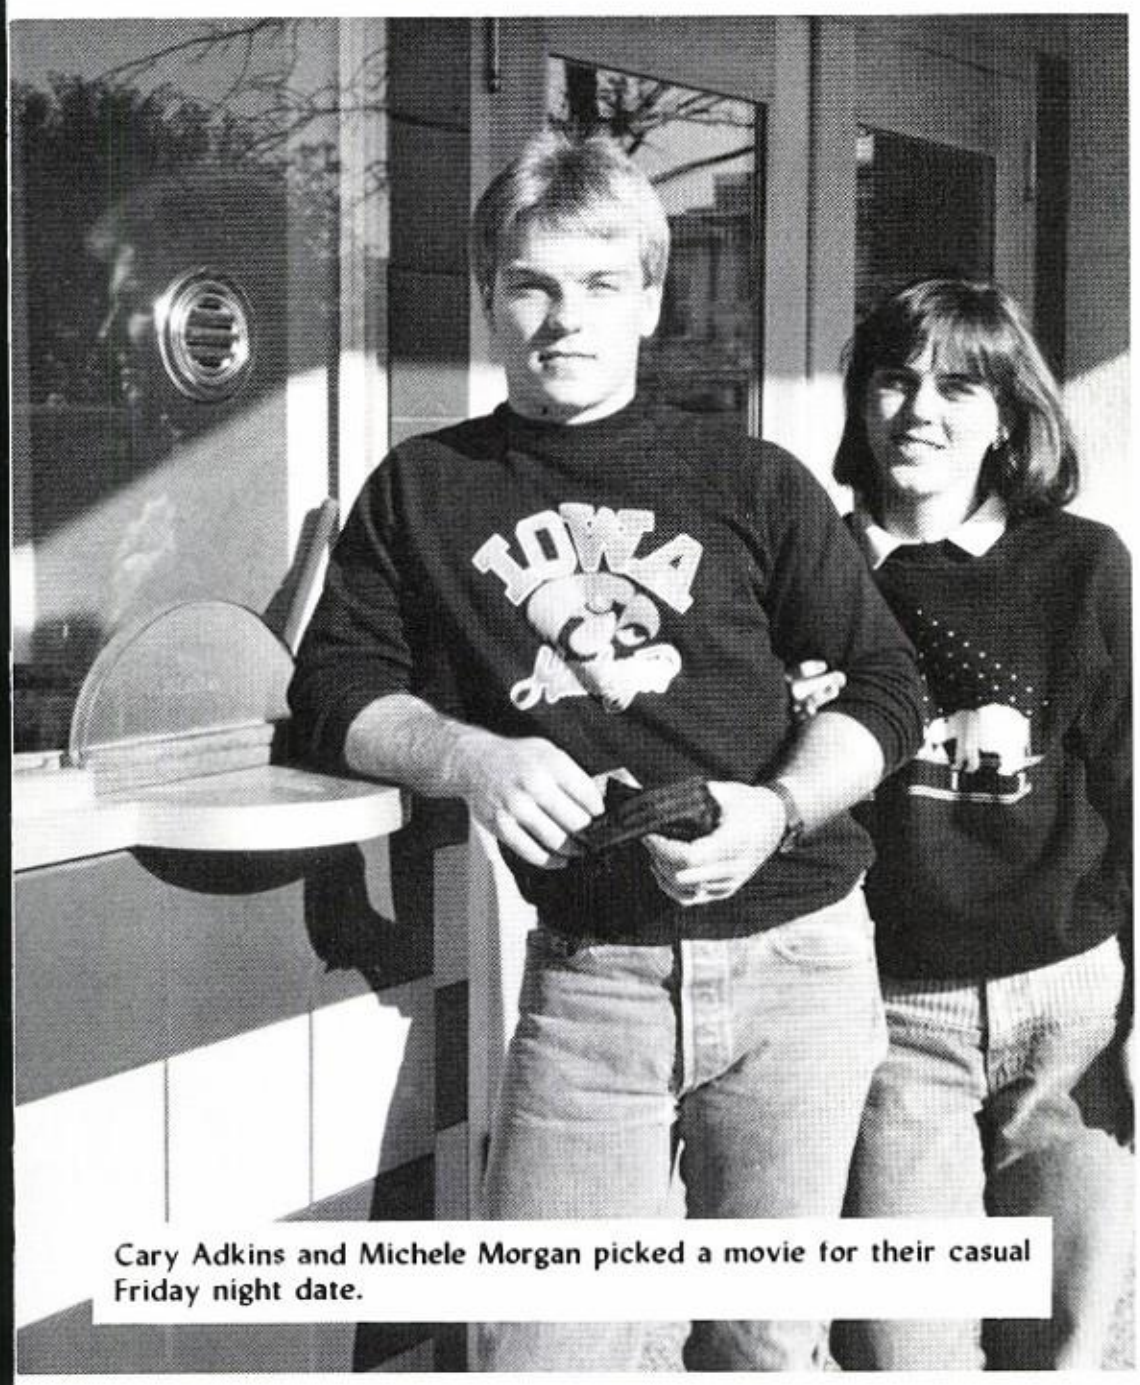
Dating

"What are you doing Saturday night?" "How about a movie Friday?" "Let's try that new restaurant in Dallas this weekend." Sound familiar? Statements like that were heard all week as students made big plans for the weekend. Most students looked forward to a social appointment with the opposite sex, that national past-time known as "dating." During the week, couples had to settle for holding hands in the hall or studying together at night. When the weekend rolled around, the fun began. The "steadies", those who had been dating at least a year, liked the romantic, secluded settings. The casual daters, those who went out with someone new each weekend, preferred double-dating to movies or parties. The important part of dating was not so much where you went, but who you went with. Some things never change!



Mark Ballard and Charlotte Ray enjoyed dressing up and eating out at a Dallas restaurant.



Cary Adkins and Michele Morgan picked a movie for their casual Friday night date.

Sharing everything, from drinks to time to laughter, made dating special for Michele Robinson and Matt Story.

Dressed

Different Strokes For Different Folks

As is true of various types of cars, music and hairstyles, fashions is a reflection of one's personality. WHS, like most American high schools, had a variety of clothing styles. One such style consisted of spikes, leather, concert shirts, and, of course, tight black pants. This style, associated with loud music, was known as "Heavy Metal." Perhaps the most extreme of the various styles was "Avant Garde." Ask these teenagers where they bought their clothes and you would probably hear anything from Saks Fifth Avenue to the local flea market. They definitely had a way of putting things together that many found difficult to accept. It took a lot of nerve to "go against the grain," but evidently these people had it. While most of the styles basically stayed the same, the "In-Look" was constantly changing. It consisted of almost any item from the other styles and more. These girls would have fit right in on a Seventeen magazine cover. Definitely the most commonly seen look at WHS was "Traditional." These students combined a mixture of popular styles with those classic styles that never go out - usually blue jeans, tennis shoes, and conservative shirts. Along with being the most popular style, "Traditional" was also the most conservative. Another conservative, yet very bold style was "Preppie." Those falling into the "Preppie" category were well-known for their penny loafers, topsiders, button-down oxford shirts and Khaki slacks. They were also easy to recognize by their short haircuts (both boys and girls). Western preserved the style that Texas is known for. Cowboy boots, Stetson hats, gold belt buckles, and Wrangler jeans allowed these students to show that they were proud to be from the Lone Star State. The "koolest" style of all was more than likely, "Chic." Decked out in pleated slacks, snakeskin boots, bright colors and, of course, leather accessories, these people came across as very neat and fashionable. All of these styles varied a great deal, but those wearing them all had one thing in common. Each individual strived to achieve a certain look and image, and when this was achieved, the result was a wide variety of fashions.

Ria and Renee Michener enjoy having each other to talk to and confide in.

Though three can sometimes be a crowd, Terry, Laura and David Hill think three's company.

High school years are full of memories that will never be forgotten. aving a brother or sister to experience these years with makes the emories even more special. Brothers and sisters have a special bond tween them that becomes even stronger the more they go through gether. Sharing their problems, friends, clothes, fun, and more ring their years in high school makes this bond very tight. Of urse, there are always rough roads along the way, but smoothing these out together is what causes love to grow. I wish all the brothers and sisters in high school the best of luck! Share these years and make the most of them together because you can never go back and change them. You can only store and cherish each memory so that in the years to come you can look back together and remember.

GREG McKEEVER

During high school I was a member of FCA and FFA, serving as president of both my senior year. I was also a member of Student Council and the National Honor Society. For three years I received the Rotary A award and my senior year I was chosen as an honor student. I plan to attend Texas A & M University. I would like to express my deepest appreciation to my fellow students for choosing me as this year's Mr. WHS.

MISS WHS
CHARLENE McCULLAR

I'm eighteen years old. I've been class favorite for four years. I was vice president both my junior and senior years. I was a cheerleader for two years, and my senior year I was chosen as Homecoming Queen. I plan to attend East Texas State University and major in psychology. It is indeed an honor to have been chosen as Miss WHS. I would like to thank everyone for this once in a lifetime opportunity.

Indian Pride

The Varsity squad leads the football crowd in "Two Bits."

Promoting school spirit was one of the top priorities of the Varsity cheer-leaders. "Tie Day" helped spur the Indians on to defeat the Lancaster Tigers.

The J.V. squad comes together in the formation that ended the dance that helped them win first place at regionals and in pompom routine competitions.

Carol Johnson, the cheerleading sponsor, helped motivate the girls throughout the year. She spent much time training the girls to become squads of which the school could be proud.

The cheerleading manager, Tracy Sullivan, put a lot of time and effort into her job this year. Her support and encouragement helped the squads tremendously.

EMORIES- Spotlighting all the groups who contributed to the pride and spirit of WHS was the oal of the cheerleaders at the last pep rally.

This year was a busy, but very successful year for the cheerleaders. At summer camps both varsity and J.V. made the pompom finals. In addition, the J.V. squad went to the regional competition at San Marcus, where they won first place. The momentum triggered by the summer's success did not fade as the girls sailed through the athletic season. Many hard hours of work were put into attaining the perfection they sought. The teams' cooperation and dedication helped make it a memorable year.

The 1985-86 Color Guard had an excellent year. They started with new uniforms, designed and made by themselves. They received a First Division rating at the Midlothian Festival. The Color Guard and the WHS band also took part in the UIL Marching Competition in Waco, where they received another First Division rating.

The Color Guard started practice early in the summer and continued throughout the football season. This year's Color Guard, composed of only four seniors, still had the spirit, determination, and the talent that made for the most outstanding Color Guard Waxahachie has ever seen.

Star Performers

The Big Green Indian Marching Band is a combination of the Symphonic and Concert bands. Together they form one of the top bands in Texas. At U.I.L. marching contest this past year, they received a first division and placed third in overall competition. They received this goal through many practices and much determination. Every year the band begins practicing in August and continues through the football season. Through this work together they formed a family. This closeness, determined directors, and two fantastic drum majors, Jennifer Brown and Teri Defore, made the Big Green Indian Band what they are.

These Musicians Do!

The WHS Stage Band, a small and unique part of the larger band, completed another fantastic year. Bill Centura, the director, succeeded in creating a family-like atmosphere, along with a generous amount of hard work. The Stage Band started off the year hot with a performance in front of the courthouse at Waxahachie's "Fallfest." A fall concert was also performed by the stage band. During the intermission, Crush Products held a talent search. Many local young musicians were allowed to show their talents and one of the Stage Band's drummers, David Averett, advanced to the finals. After slacking off in the fall, the Stage Band began many weeks of hard work in preparation for the jazz festivals in the spring. They learned the excitement that competition brings, as well as the reward that comes from teamwork. The Stage Band found many rewards. The 1985-86 year was a very successful one for the WHS Stage Band and they matured a great deal. The future holds many great things for these young musicians.

Student Council

Many dedicated, hard-working students were part of Student Council, the governing body of WHS. In addition to promoting school pride, members also contributed their time and energies to the community. Homecoming was one of their biggest events. In addition to a parade and dance, Student Council also set up a relay race to the bonfire, hoping to start a tradition. Besides sponsoring several dances this year, Student Council also hired a live band for Homecoming. It was not all fun though. Student Council members had to work hard to get things accomplished. The Council sponsored a canned food drive at Christmas, and received over 700 donations. They also showed their support for the faculty by sponsoring Teacher Appreciation Week. Their hard work and dedication was an inspiration to other students throughout the year.

In April, the group traveled to the state convention held in Austin, where clubs from around the state submitted projects for competition. The group was serious about the Jr. Historians, but there was never a shortage of laughs or fun.

1985-86 Chief Staff

The 1985-86 Chief Annual Staff would like to express their gratitude to Mrs. Debby Leake for all her advice and support in the making of this annual.

For the last two years we have been writing about ourselves, rather than about all the hard work put into making this book. Why should we do it differently this year? Our returning editors, Chrisanna Simpson and Charlotte Ray, were undaunted by the thought of a spring delivery and boldly set out to fulfill their quest. John B. Farris, our fearless business manager, rounded off his last year by checking and rechecking our finances, while also drawing up layout after layout. What a guy!

Seniors Anthony Cantu, Bill Borders, Edward Quintana, JoAnn Calhoun, and Ronda Appleton rounded off their last year by being diligent, happy, little workers.

Juniors Michele Robinson, Carol Chandler, Jill Rominger, Tobin Sokoll, and Patrick Felty put forth great effort and did a splended job.

Sophomores Jill Martin, Niki Morgan, Macy Browning, Charla Carlat, and Chris Bearden were really surprising and almost showed up the upper classmen with all their pep, originality, and cooperation.

Congratulations seniors, on a job well-done. Let's hope the rest of the staff can do at least as good a job as we did.

Some of the activities FCA attend are college football, basketball, and baseball games. They also go to a state convention and a National Conference. Science And Math Club

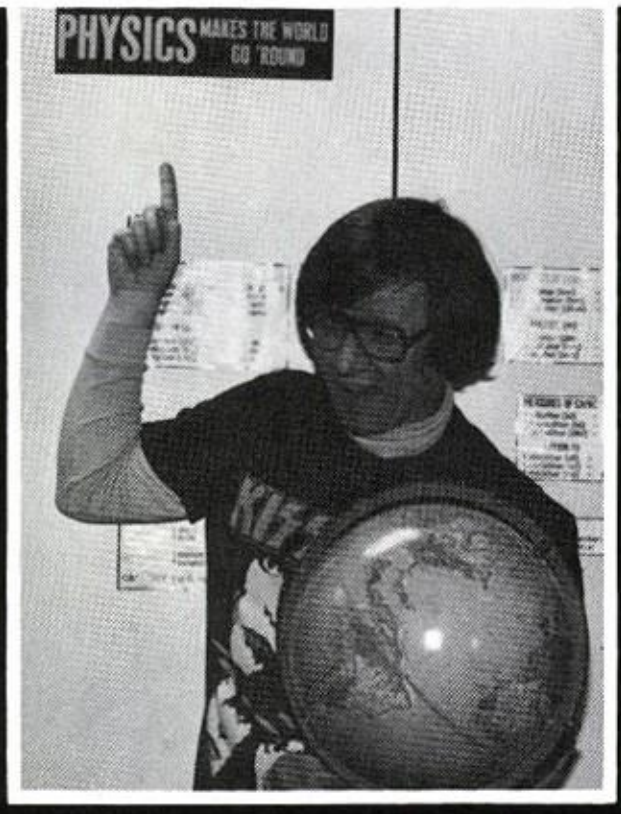
Under the fearless leadership of head quark, Doc Hastings, these students managed to expand their knowledge beyond human reason in a group we call the Science and Math Club. These inquisitive pupils spent their time examining conservation laws and watching NASA films in the Little Theatre. With 1986 came the century's second passing of Halley's comet. Interested students had the opportunity to view the comet one night in January at the home of quark committee member Erick Beck. The Science and Math Club provided these students with answers to the many questions of the world in which we live.



Doc's motto is . . .

And now for my next trick . . .

No, George! The camera is over here!

The Philosophy Club was made up of students who enjoyed speaking their minds. These students had an opportunity to speak out on many subjects, ranging from AIDS to prayer in school. Occasionally the forum heated up and discussions turned into arguments, but even in the stickiest situation, Doc always had a handle on things. Constructive discussions of up-to-date topics made the Philosophy Club the hit it was.

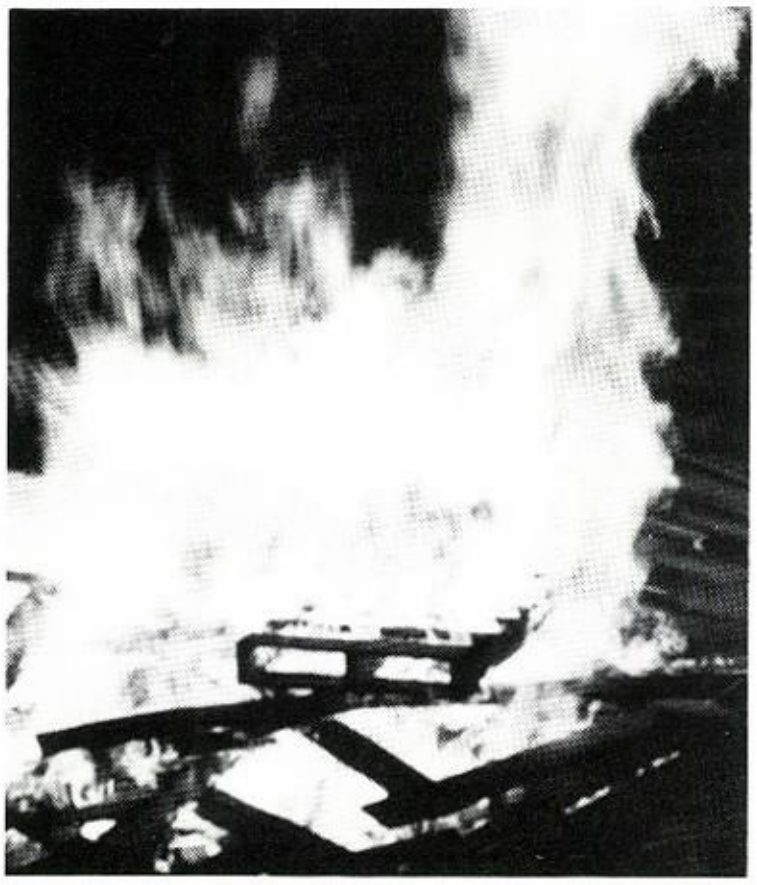
WINNING DAYS

Homecoming '85

Even the rain couldn't put a damper on Homecoming '85. It rained and rained, and then it rained some more. For the first time in many years, the Homecoming game was postponed. The parade went on, luckily starting early, because the pep rally following the parade was rained out.



Charlene McCullar was crowned 1985 Homecoming Queen on a wet field, Saturday, October 9.

The rainy parade couldn't dampen the spirits of band members, George, Jay, and Bob.

Wet -N- Wild!

Despite the stormy weather and the cancelled game, the dance went on and the live band was a huge success. The football game took place on the following evening, with the Indians defeating West Mesquite. The 1985 Homecoming could not actually be called successful, but it was definitely memorable.

Through Thick

Friends

Friends are an important part of high school life. They keep secrets, help with problems, and are there when needed. A lot of one's time is spent at school, and friends help us to get through the day. Where would we be without a friend to complain to about teachers, grades or tests? Though friends may fight or disagree, real friends always make up. Even distance and time have no effect on friendships. "Through thick and thin," real friends will be together to the end!

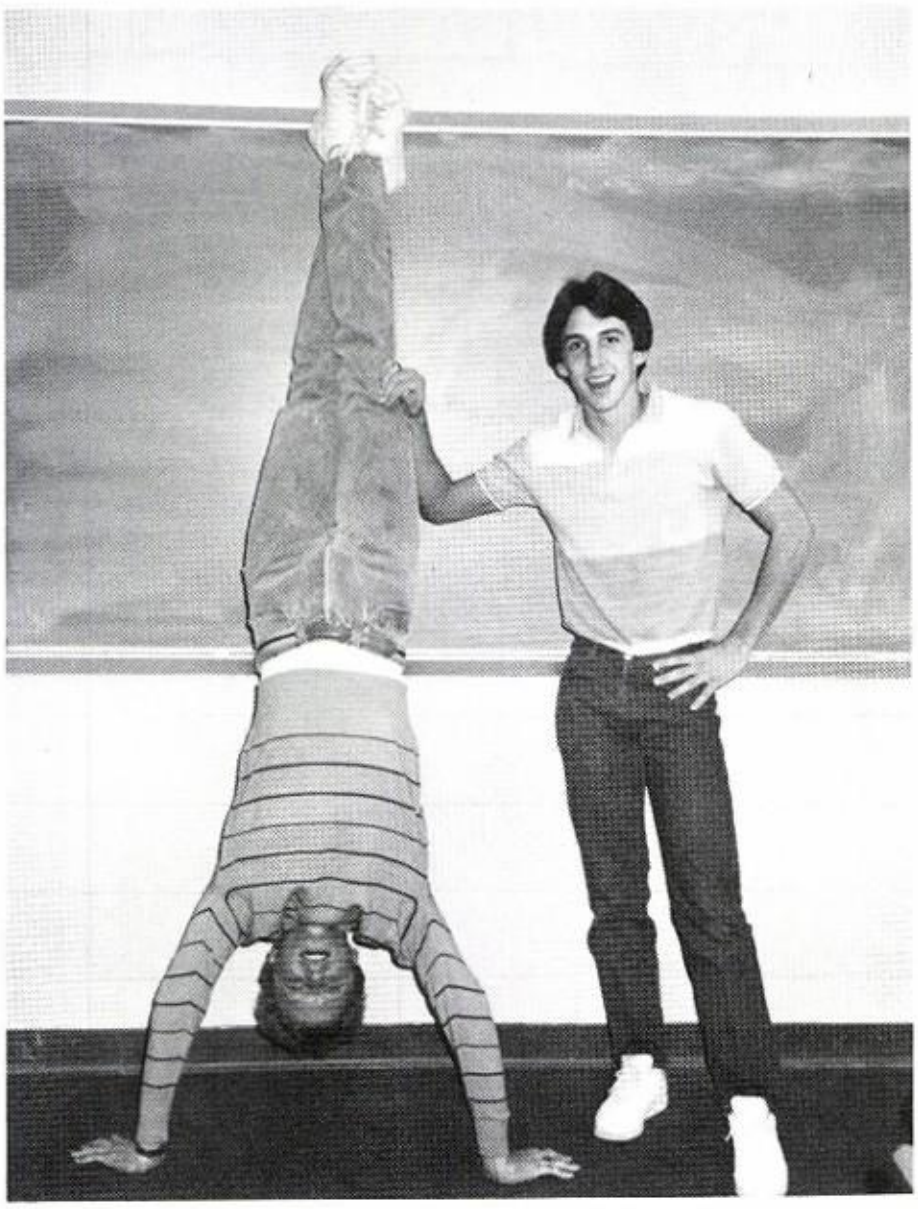
Karen Beatty, Sandy Harrington, and Charlene McCullar enjoy singing, laughing and playing the piano.

Greg Bishop and John Butz will sit anywhere they think they can see the girls.

And Thin



Revah Rice and Tammy Eakins find studying together makes school more fun.

Luckily for Greg McKeever and Scott Pleasants, when one is down, the other is up!

Lavon Cooke and Vicki Weyer share a ride to school

Lunch is a great time to get together with friends and talk over the day.

Teachers Are

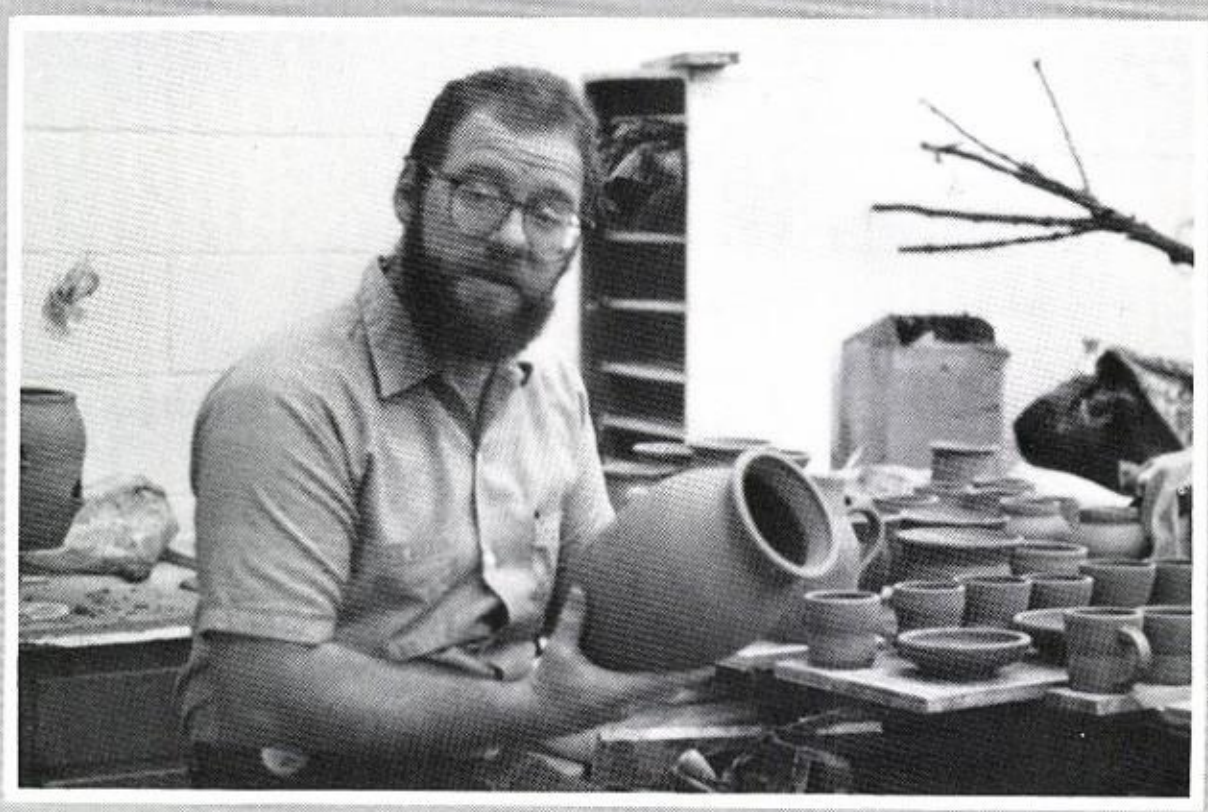
Despite the popular belief that all teachers center their lives around WHS, it is a known fact that many teachers have outside interests. While keeping up with lesson plans, grading papers, and sponsoring other events, some WHS teachers do have time to pursue their other interests. Teaching does come first in the lives of these unique individuals, but like students, teachers are also allowed to have some fun. After all, teachers are people too.

LYNN STOCKMAN

We all know that Mrs. Lynn Stockman, sophomore English teacher, is one of the prettiest teachers in our school, but what most of us don't know is that she once was a model. Mrs. Stockman appeared in magazines such as Texas Fashions, and Seventeen. In 1964, she was elected Texas Cotton Queen. She was also chosen to be a Jantzen swimwear model. Mrs. Stockman then decided to leave modeling, devoting her time to raising a family. However, she continues to design her own clothes as well as owning and running a monogramming shop.

MISSY DAVIS

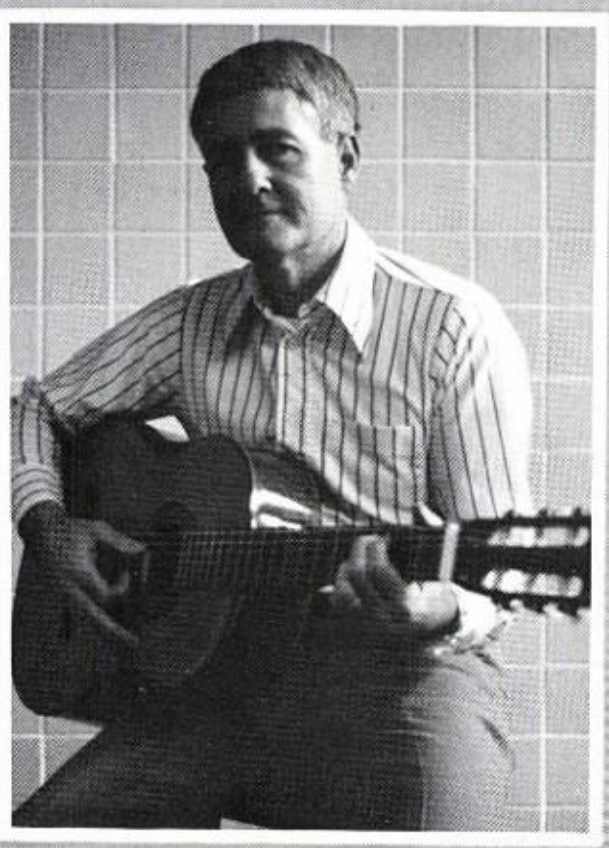
Ms. Missy Davis has been collecting cats for a little more than thirteen years. These cats are not the live kind, though she does have one named Krystle. She basically collects mobiles, coffee mugs, sun catchers, magnets, animals, fans, thimbles, and even cat calenders. All these total close to a hundred items. Ms. Davis is also into handicrafts, plants, and travelling. While cats are a big part of her life, counseling is still first.



CARL BLOCK

Mr. C.W. Block, the new art teacher at WHS, is pictured making an earthenware pot, which he plans to sell at his shop in Forreston, Texas. Folk pottery, as he calls it, is both functional and abstract. In addition to this, Mr. Block uses his folk pottery as a form of expression. Making pottery is not his only talent. Mr. Block also paints, draws, sculpts, and makes jewelry. While keeping time aside for all of these hobbies, Mr. Block still manages to make art classes at WHS both enjoyable and beneficial.

People Too



JOHN NICKOLS

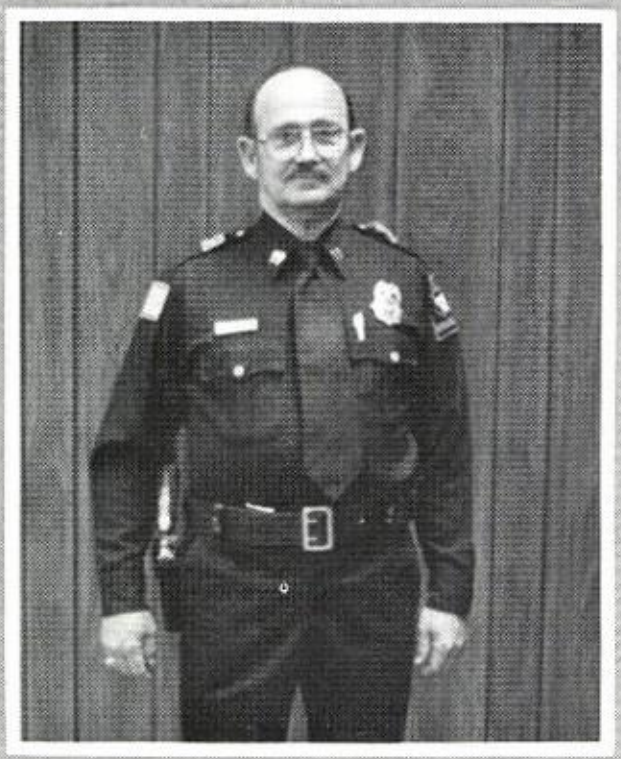
This face is well-known both on the basketball court and in the American History room as Coach John Nickols. In addition to being extraordinary in both of these fields, Coach Nickols is a talented musician and a former employee of the FBI. As a musician, he has been playing guitar and writing country/western music for about two years, though never professionally. He was a member of the FBI for four years, specializing in criminal investigation. John Nickols is indeed a talented guy.

RUTH BALLARD

Mrs. Ruth Ballard is one of the most popular teachers at WHS. Besides being a great teacher, she is also a great singer and piano player. When asked how long she had been singing, Mrs. Ballard automatically replied, "When did I not?" She was in the All-State choir in high school, and although she majored in chorale music in college, English still comes first.

BLYNTHIA DAVIS

Mrs. Blynthia Davis has been teaching for thirty-five years and has a long list of courses to her credit. Mrs. Davis has taught not only accounting and shorthand, but also journalism, business, English, economics, typing, and bookkeeping. She has been at WHS for sixteen years, but sadly for us, this will be her last year. She plans to travel, do community and social work, and just basically work around the house and enjoy being retired. Congratulations, Mrs. Davis, on a teaching job well done. May you have many pleasant years in your future. We'll miss you!



JOSEPH HAZZARD

Mr. Joseph Hazzard, who teaches welding, is not only a great teacher, but is also Captain of the Waxahachie Police Reserves and has been since 1982. Mr. Hazzard has been in police work since 1969 and says being a policeman led him to become a teacher. When he's not teaching, Mr. Hazzard watches his men, patrols the city, does emergency work, and basically everything else regular policemen do.

Hair Today,

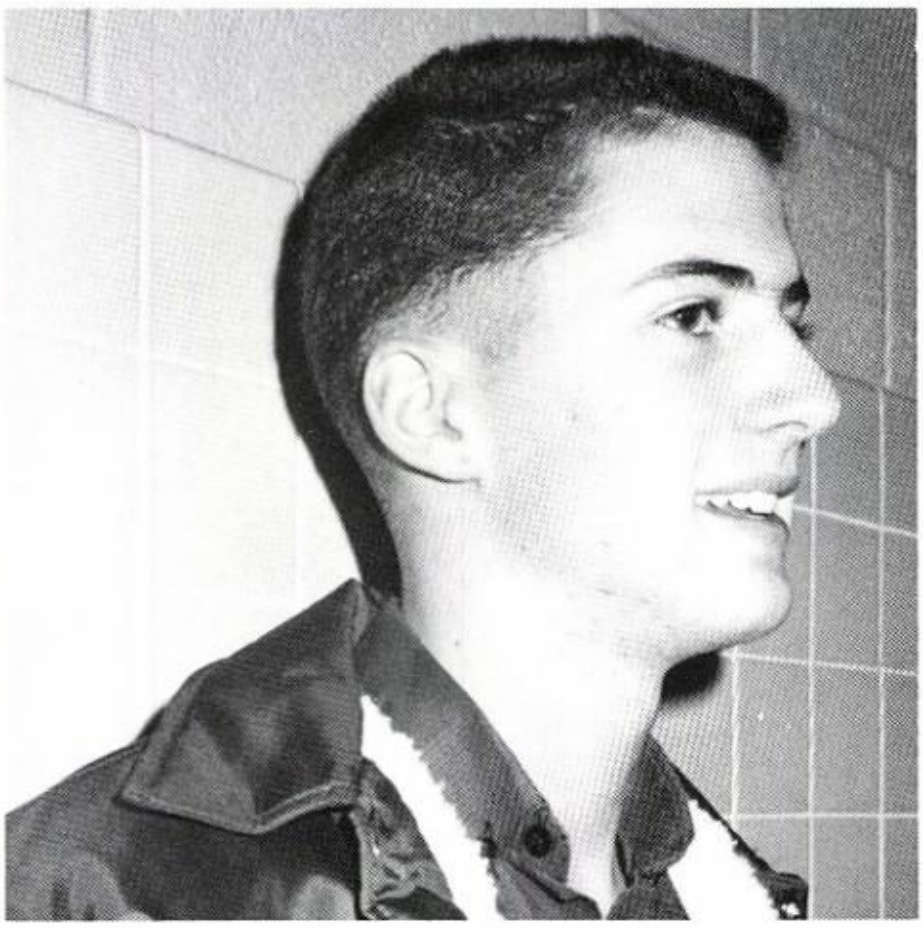
Off The Wall

In this day and age many hairstyles have become quite daring and different. Not many people have the gumption to go from normal to out-of-the-ordinary. There are a few WHS students who took the final step and got their hair cut in off-the-wall styles. Sophomore Hays Atkins and junior Christy Gidney have hairstyles cut in ways that reflect an open mind and a sense of adventure. These two students definitely "dared to be different."

Wild And Wooly

In the past, students have spent hours trying to straighten their naturally curly hair. These days, however, the more fashionable hair has a looser and more natural look. Amy Morton, sophomore and Anthony Cantu, senior, can just wash their hair, shake their heads, and be ready to go!

Gone Tomorrow

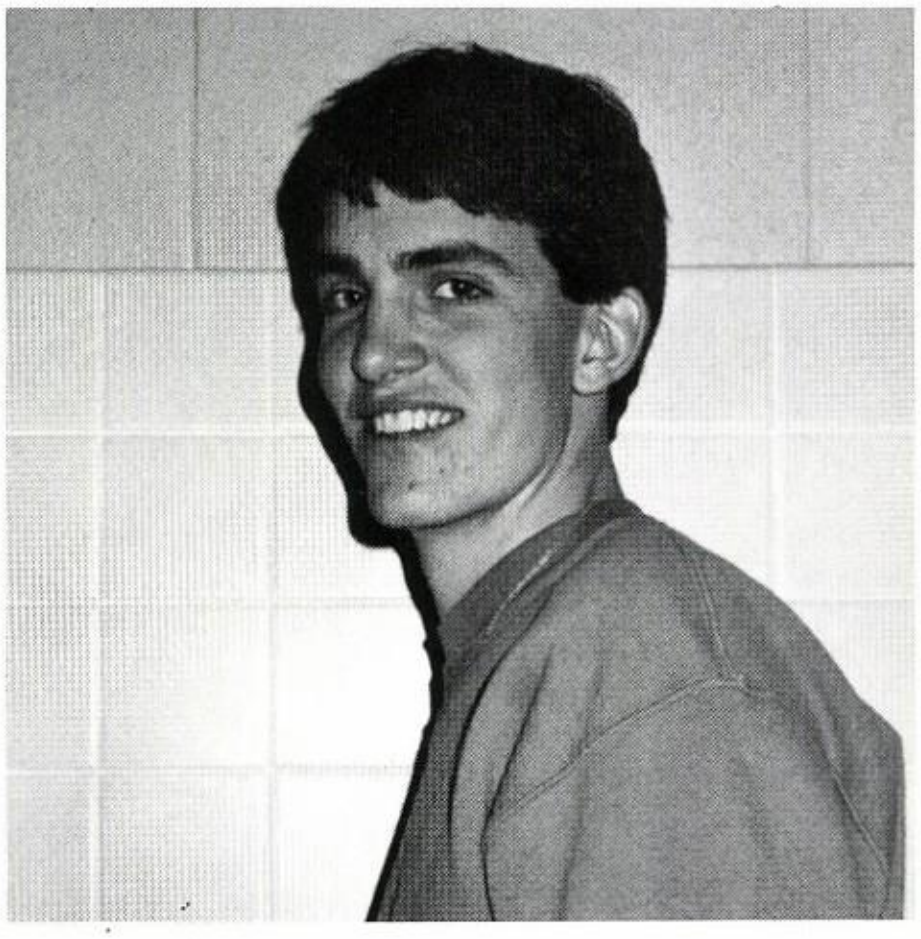


All-American

WHS is full of students who have their hair cut and styled in the "All-American" layered look. We give it this title because it is worn by many teens all over the United States. This style is easy to manage and fits casual or dressy occasions. Freshman Brandy Noel and senior Ricky Smith are two examples of this style which has the boy or girl-next-door look.

Nice And Neat

Trying to keep one's hair in place is a never-ending ordeal. The pressures and demands of the day seem to take their toll on our hair, making the neatness battle seem almost impossible. There are a few people who don't let their hairstyle interfere with life's hectic schedule. Two of these people are senior Casey Hughes, and junior Lori Penner. One will always find them looking "nice and neat," no matter how busy their day is.



In Memory Of

Mrs. Virginia Wade

Mrs. Virginia Wade, the secretary at WHS for ten years, was always smiling and friendly, whether she was issuing blue slips to students or helping parents at the front desk. A favorite of everyone at WHS, she will always be missed.

IN RETROSPECT

While WHS students were celebrating their own "Glory Days", Texans all over the state were celebrating the Sesquicentennial anniversay. On April 21, 1836, Texans won their independence from Mexico. In 1986, Texans showed their pride with TV specials, parades, parties, balloons, and a ten-day visit by Prince Charles of England.

Although 1985-86 was a year of celebration for Texas, it was also a year of tragedies for the United States. Close to home, Delta Flight 191 crashed near Dallas-Ft. Worth Intercontinental Airport, killing 132 of those aboard. It seemed to be the year for plane crashes, with several celebrities killed as well. On August 25, "America's Littlest Ambassador to Russia" was killed in a plane crash. Thirteen-year-old Samantha Smith will always be remembered for trying to promote world peace. Rick Nelson, a 1950's rock star, died in a plane crash on New Year's Eve, 1985. This tragedy was felt by everyone who spent years watching "Ozzie and Harriet" and listening to such hits as "Mary Lou" and "Traveling Man."

Perhaps the most stunning tragedy of the year was the crash of the space shuttle, Challenger. Seven astronauts were on board, including Christa McAuliffe, the first teacher in space. The world was devastated by the tragic loss of these explorers.

Violence was the key word for 186. International terrorism and U.S. action towards terrorists were the focus of a great deal of attention in America. Incidents such as the bombing of a U.S. Air Force base in West Germany, the hijacking of the Achille Lauro by the PLF, and the Libyan bombing of a Berlin nightclub made up just a small portion of the growing rate of terrorist acts. President Reagan, who promised "swift and effective retribution" for terrorist deeds, sent 18 U.S. F-111's on April 15 to bomb terrorist targets in Libya for their participation in terrorist acts under the command of their leader, Muammar Kaddafi.

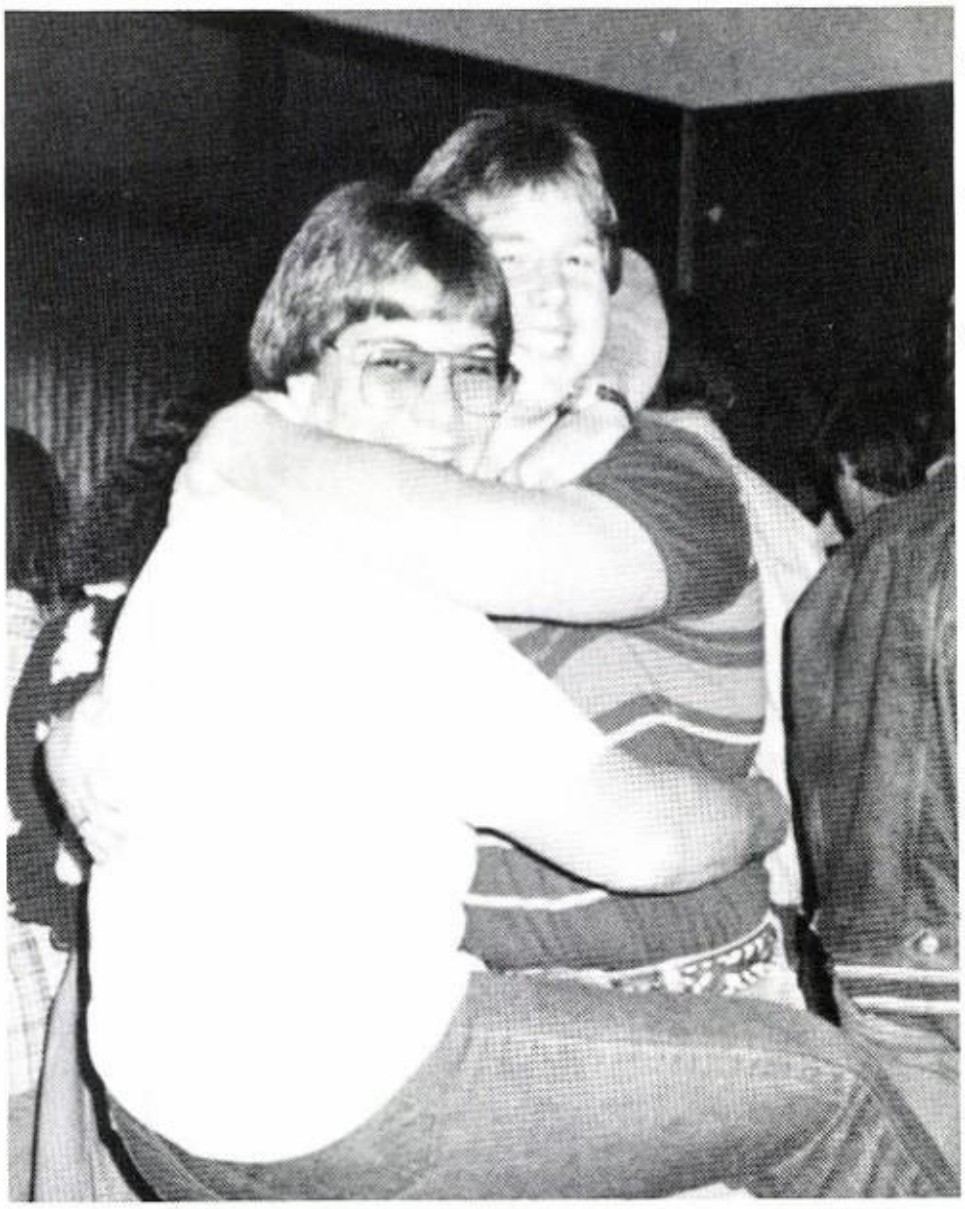
Despite the many tragedies of 1985-86, artists such as Phil Collins and Mick Jagger were able to unify the entire world through a campaign for African famine relief. On July 13, 1985, the LIVE AID concerts in Philadelphia and London raised millions of dollars benefitting Ethiopian famine victims. This was the most successful of several fund raising attempts of the year.

The world also found unification this year as scientists and laymen alike viewed the return of Halley's Comet. This was its first display since 1910. It will not be visible again until 2062.

Although it was a year of heartbreak and loss, the American spirit prevailed, enabling us to stress those elements that turned tragedy into triumph, and sorrowful days into "GLORY DAYS."

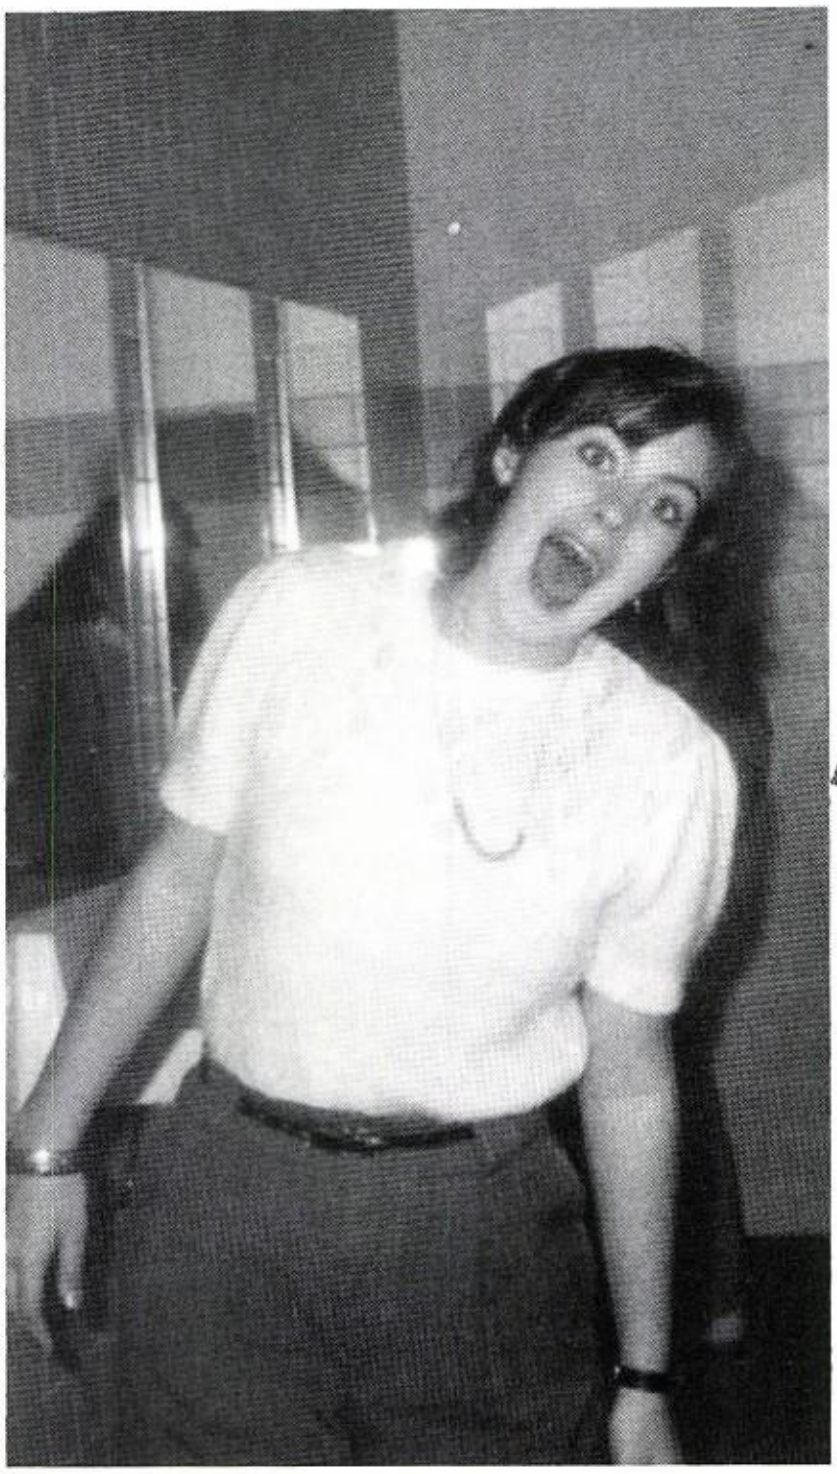
COLOPHON

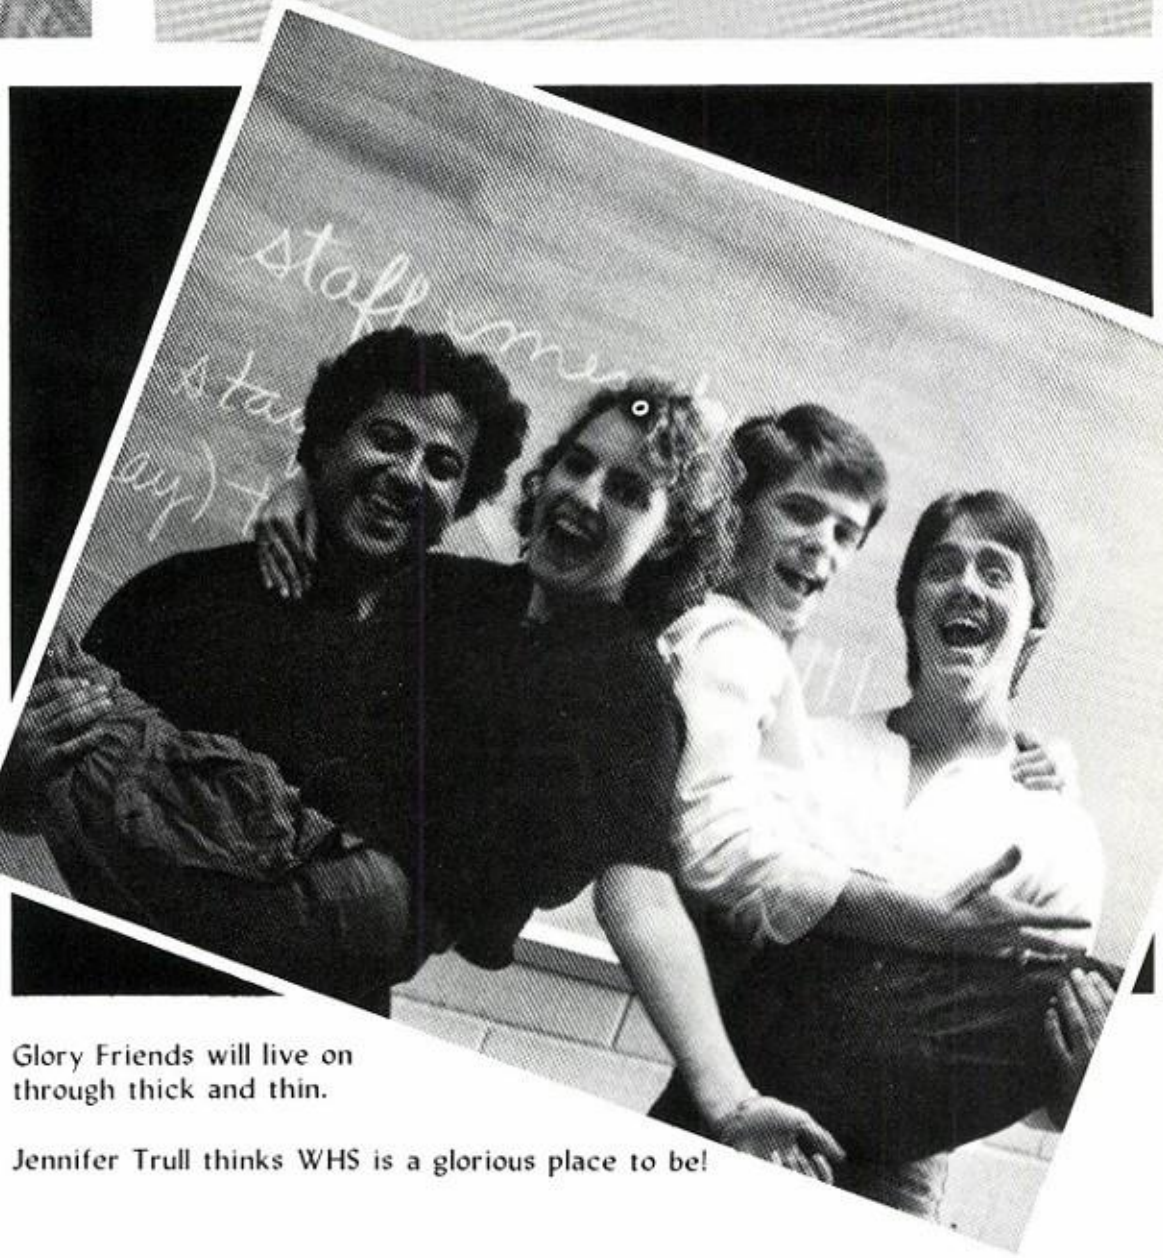
The 1986 CHIEF was printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing Company in Topeka, Kansas. The 7 ¾ X 10 ½ bok contains 304 pages, printed on 80 lb. gloss paper with eight pages of process color, eight pages of spot color, and eight pages of background color. The cover is custom stamped in green 516 with applications of pale gold and gold foil. The endsheets are gold dust 286. All type was set in Lydian style, 10 point body copy and 8 point caption copy. Headlines were in 30 and 18 point type. Formal photos were made by Provine Studios. Our Josten's representative was Susi Bera and our plant consultant was Raul Alcantar. There were 700 copies of the 1986 CHIEF printed. This could not have been done without the help of the Waxahachie Daily Light, Mr. Hubert Davis, and One-Hour Photos. We would like to thank all of these people for their contributions to our book. In addition, we would like to extend a special thanks to Scott Dorsett for the cover photo and for saving our lives by coming to our rescue with photos on several deadlines.



GLORY DAYS

Those ever-so-special GLORY DAYS that were made at WHS. They were a common bond that joined each individual in a very special way. Everyone's GLORY DAYS were made up of many things, including difficult classes, outside organizations, and of course social events. While many of these things seemed like life or death at the time, as the present becomes the past, the importance fades away and only the laughs, the smiles, and the fun remains. Though GLORY DAYS were not always happy days, they were days of change, growth, and maturity. The GLORY DAYS were not a specific time period, but a time that varied from person to person. They were simply the minutes, hours and days that will be remembered for many, many years.





Glory Friends will live on through thick and thin.

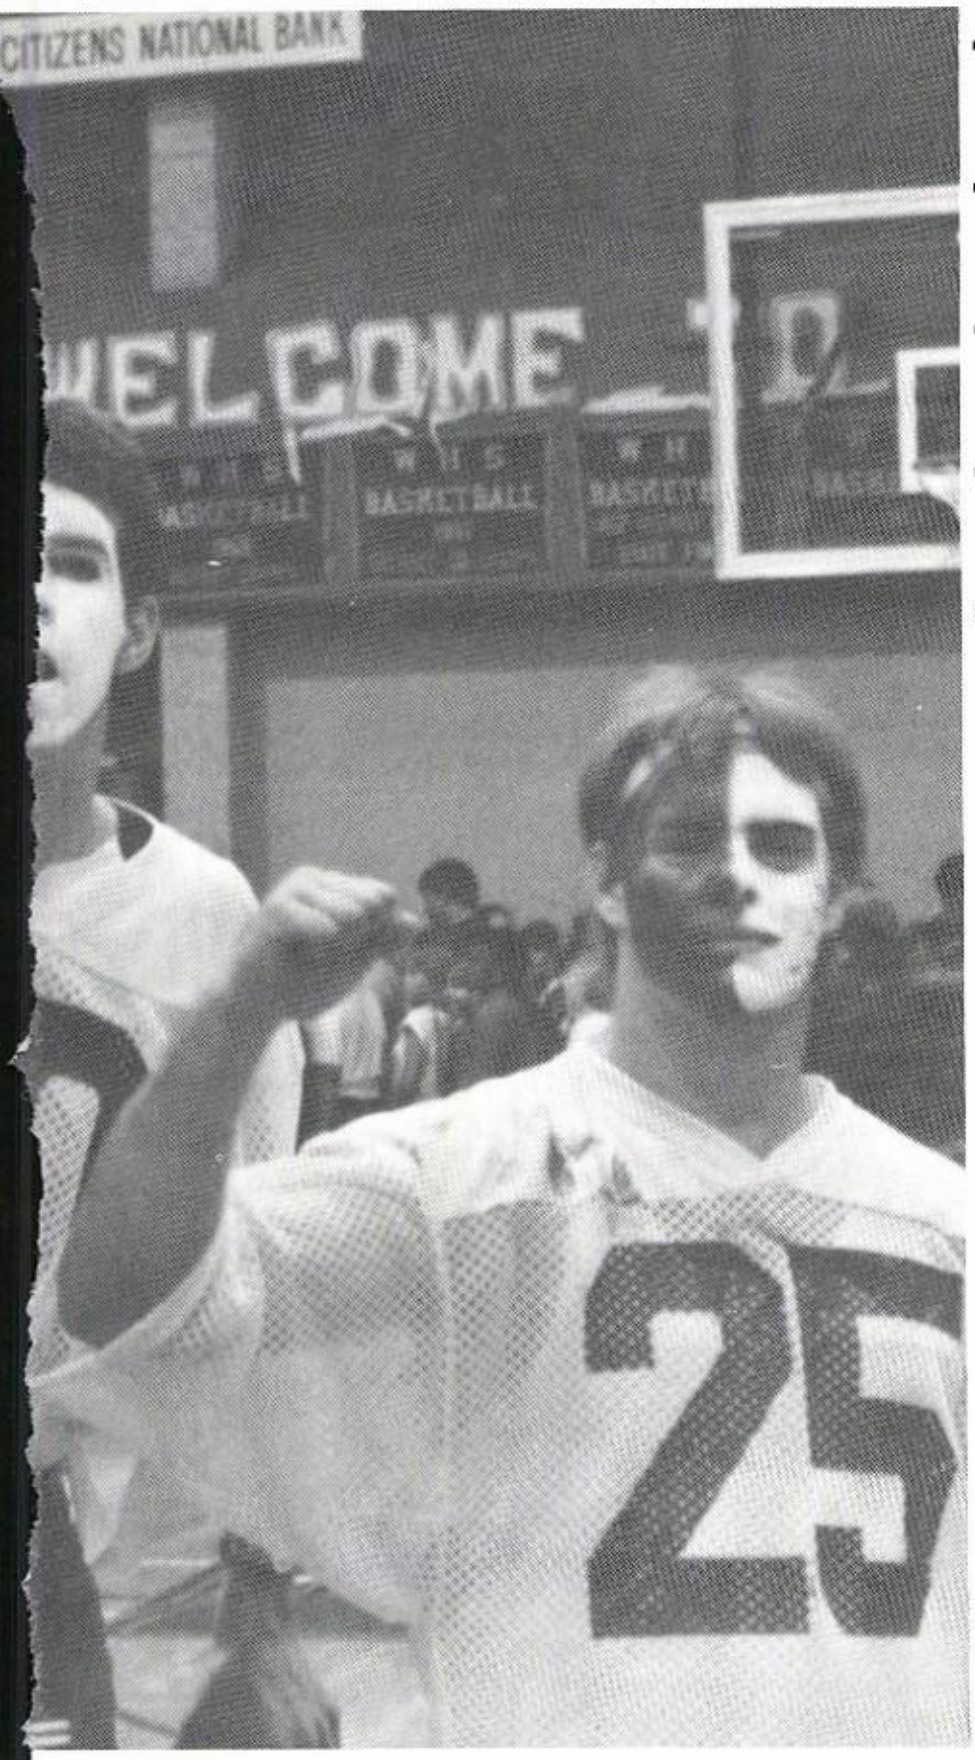
Jennifer Trull thinks WHS is a glorious place to be!

The 1985-86 Cheroke Charmers were all smiles after another victory.

The WHS choir sings its heart out.

Is it James Evans or Marlon Brando?

Faye, Carla, Robin, Wendy, and Jill will always have fond memories of WHS.



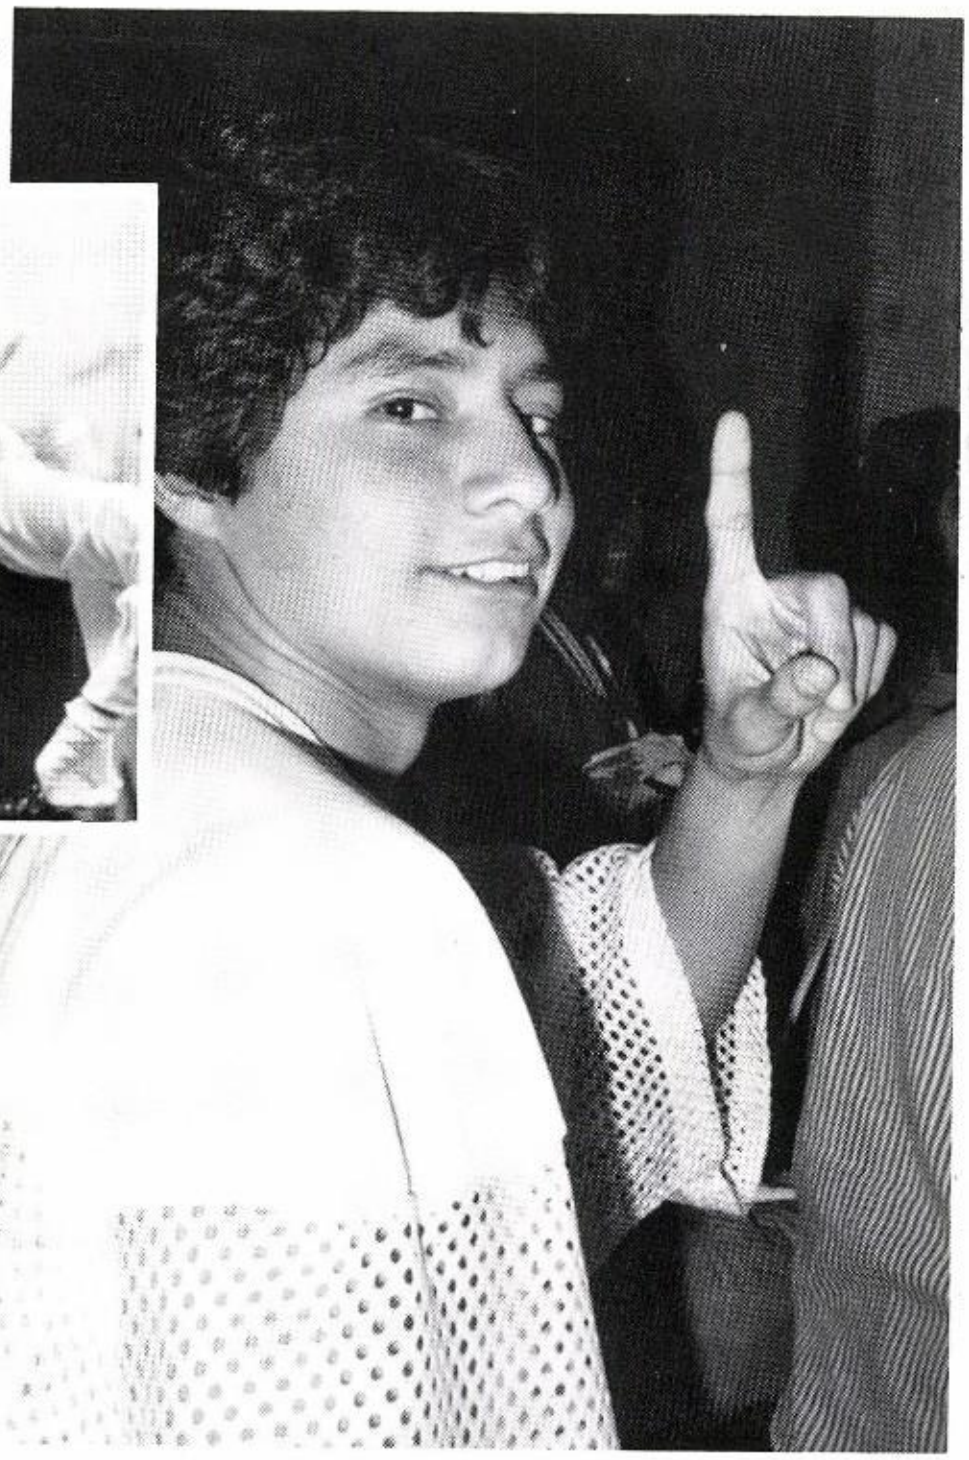
Thumbs up for seniors Mike Cooper and Jerry Shipp.

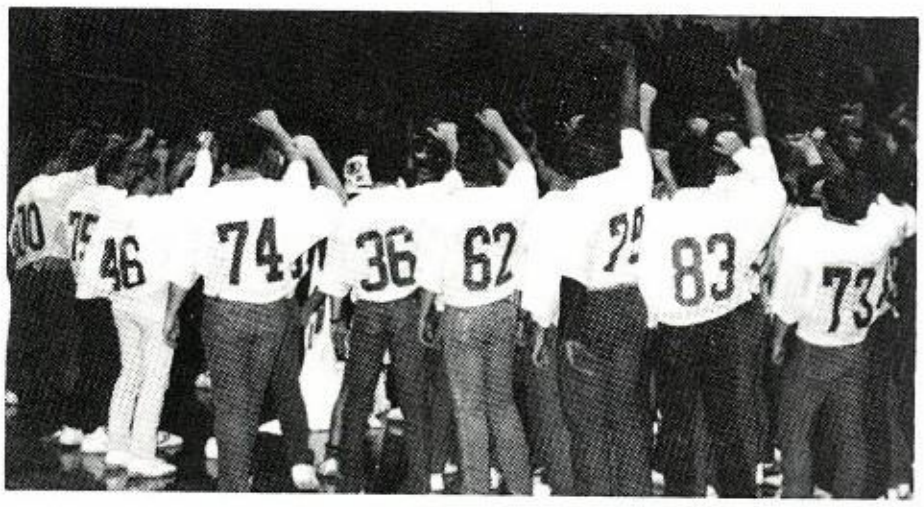
Vocational classes taught students many useful skills.

girls' basketball team spent many early mornings practicing.

Senior Danny Ortiz will always have fond memories of WHS.

Taffy, Niki, Jennifer, and Krista wave good-bye to 1985-86.





The spirit of Waxahachie High School lives on.

Editors' Letter

It is a difficult task for a few individuals to put together a memory book to satisfy an entire student body; in fact, it is probably an impossible task. I fulfilled it to the best of my ability. I would like to thank the entire staff and Mrs. Leake for making my job almost easy. This book has a lot to say about friends, experiences, and life in general-the GLORY DAYS. In my opinion, one makes his own glory days, and these days are recorded in one's heart, not in a book. I only hope that when flipping through the pages of this book, the words and pictures that Charlotte, my staff and I have put together help each individual to relive his own GLORY DAYS. May the glory times, the glory smiles and the glory memories live on.

Chrisanna Simpson

Putting a yearbook together is not just an afternoon activity. Many late nights and weekends were spent choosing pictures, writing copy, and designing layouts. I have tried, to the bet of my abilities, to include as many of the clubs, people, and events that made 1985-86 such a special year. My goal was to compile a book that the student body will treasure always. I would like to thank Mrs. Leake, Chrisanna, and the entire staff because the talent and hard work that they put into this book are what make it exceptional. I would also like to thank the student body, because it is through you that the memories of our GLORY DAYS at WHS were made.

Stephen,

I really don't know what to say. It has really been fun this year. But being with you made it better. (Homecoming & Prom etc.) I can't believe we only have one more year, & then who knows what's next. We have had our good times & our bad, but it always seems to be more of the bad. Because we can't get along & don't agree on things. But I will always remember the ~~the~~ good times in my heart. I will never forget them, because they are with you. It seems like you are the only one I ~~have~~ have loved in three years of high school & one year in Jr. High. But I think we have had something very special, that

Stephen,

I'm glad we became so close this year. You made my freshman year the best. I hope we become closer through this next year. I wish you the best of luck over the summer and through next year. It will be your last year at W.H.S. I will miss you very much. We have had our ups and downs but I think that's our "downs" are over. We are off to a good start again. I hope we last for a long time. I really like you a lot and hope you think the same of me. We have had good times together. I will never forget them. See ya this summer. (Hopefully)

Love ya Lots,
Rhonda

Mott,
Well, we are nearly finished. We've been through hell + back more than once + made it. We stuck to each other like bee on honey through tough times. I'll always be here. Lets stay friends. Your bro-in-law (ex.) SMURPH!
